

Bears Win USAREUR Football Championship

Bright sunlight flooded Dickman Field in Wuerzburg, Germany last Saturday afternoon, and while it was there, the Berlin Bears made plenty of hay. They scored 35 points in the first half to blitz the Aschaffenburg Cardinals 41-7 and capture their second straight USAREUR football championship.

The ComZ and defending USAREUR champion Bears could do no wrong from the opening kickoff to the final gun. On the other hand the 3rd Infantry Division Marne League champs from Aschaffenburg floundered all afternoon before the powerful Bears from Berlin.

Berlin head coach Bill Turner put the Bears through their paces giving the crowd a dazzling display of sheer offensive and defensive power. The victory was the ninth straight for the Bears this season and ran their total win skein to 23. By beating Aschaffenburg last Saturday the Bears will represent the Army tomorrow in the first ever GI Super Bowl to be played at Rhein-Main Air Force Base.

While the Bears were clawing the Cardinals in Wuerzburg, the Bentwaters Phantoms were upsetting the favored Wiesbaden Flyers in their battle for the USAFE crown. The Phantoms' score was almost identical to the Bear victory as they trounced the flyers 41-6. Game time tomorrow for the big inter-service showdown is 1:15 p.m. AFN will broadcast from Rhein-Main beginning at 1:05 p.m.

The "Walled City Wonders" blew into Wuerzburg Friday morning along with a few inches of snow, but before they finished on Saturday their hot play had melted the white stuff and scorched the Cardinals.

3,500 football fans braved the cold weather to watch the Bears pluck the Cardinals. More than 200 Berlin fans, plus the 298th Army Band and a host of cheerleaders were there to shout the Berliners home to victory.

The rock-hard Berlin defense that had given up only 41 points during regular season play, had no sympathy for the Redbirds during the contest. The Cardinals were frustrated all afternoon at both their running and passing attacks. Not until late in the third quarter with only a few seconds showing on the clock were the Marne champs able to cross the Berlin 50-yard line.

Brad Baker, the workhorse for the powerful Bear offense all year long, was again the big offensive punch for the Berliners. Baker's smashing drives soon had the Cardinals reeling every time he took a handoff.

The 5-foot-11 muscle-man from Hollywood, Florida, crashed through the Aschaffenburg defensive wall for two touchdowns during the afternoon. Baker was also the game's leading ground gainer, hauling the pigskin for 101 yards in 24 tries for a 4.2 average.

The much talked about four-week layoff experienced by the Bears prior to the championship game didn't seem to phase the bruins at all. They came into Wuerzburg with a 38-point per-game average and had no trouble maintaining it against the Cardinals.

Three plays after the Cardinals received the opening kickoff, they felt

Gunners Undergo Range Training; Three-Day Testing Grades Individual

Battery C, 94th Artillery conducted the annual Artillery Gunner's Test this week at Parks Range. The three-day test began Monday and concluded Wednesday. The multi-phase test, which is designed to grade the relative proficiency of the individual artilleryman rather than the crews, is broken down into five major areas of concentration.

The first of these is the test concerning direct laying of the tube. In this phase direct fire is simulated against a close target.

The second phase of the test is concerned with indirect fire and is the most extensive, comprising 18 separate trials. It is in this mode that the howitzer is most generally fired.

The third phase of the annual testing is setting an elevation on the howitzer with a quadrant. This involves adjusting the elevation of the gun to fire a round to an exact spot computed from known coordinates.

Correction for displacement is the fourth category of the examination. This is a test of the gunner's ability to compensate for the recoil of the gun and put the tube back on the target.

The final phase tests the ability of the gunner to disassemble and reassemble the breech block mechanism. He must also correctly name the various parts to qualify.

The test emphasizes knowledge, accuracy and speed. Candidates receive points according to their quickness in carrying out the proper procedures for any given question. Each man taking the test is rated by the Chief of Section. Point scores on the standardized test allow commanders to rate their men in relation to other gunners in the Army.

All six of the battery's M108 self-propelled howitzers participated in the testing, which lasted for about three hours each morning.

Soldiers Can Share Christmas with Berlin Families

U. S. soldiers stationed in Berlin will again have an opportunity to spend part of their Christmas Holiday with Berlin Families.

As in past years, Berliners wishing to invite a U. S. soldier to share part of their Christmas festivities are invited to call or write the Community Relations Branch, Information Division, U. S. Headquarters.

The Information Division will send simple invitation forms to each requestor, who is asked to fill out this form and return it to the Information Division as soon as possible. The requesting family will be notified of the availability of their soldier as soon as a decision has been made.

Requests for invitation forms should be made prior to Dec. 13 to allow those involved to make plans for the holidays.

Jewish Chaplain To Visit in Berlin

Chaplain (Major) Albert M. Dimont, USAREUR Jewish Chaplain, is scheduled to visit Berlin Brigade, Dec. 6 through 9.

As part of his official visit Chaplain Dimont will conduct Sabbath Services at the American Community Chapel Friday night at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 6, 1968. Saturday, Chaplain Dimont will be available for consultation at the American Community Chapel. To make an appointment to consult with Chaplain Dimont please call the Jewish Chaplain Assistant at (819) 3537/3440.

Sunday, Dec. 8 there will be a reception in Chaplain Dimont's honor at 2 p.m. Capable babysitters will be available.

Win $25 Bond In Street-Naming Contest

Have you entered the "Name the Street Contest" yet? If not, there is still time to do so.

Names are needed for three new streets in the Berlin Brigade's partially completed Dueppel Housing Area. If the name you submit to the contest is selected, you will receive a $25 United States Savings Bond. The contest is open to all bonafide members of the American Community in the Divided City.

Names, however, must commemorate deceased persons. Eligible persons must have been a person of note or a person who held a position of high and extensive responsibility and whose death was the result of battle wounds or a person who performed an act of heroism or who held a position of high responsibility and whose death either was or was not a result of battle wounds.

A suggestion for possible submissions are persons who were former members of the Berlin Brigade. This could include former Brigade members who have been killed in Vietnam.

The contest has been extended to Dec. 15.

Names submitted should include the reasons why the person should be honored. Entries should be sent to the "Name the Street Contest", CO G-1 Division, Berlin Brigade. Individuals may enter as many names as they wish.

AFN Winter Schedule Set

AFN-Europe officials in Frankfurt and Berlin this week announced several new programming improvements beginning with its winter schedule 1 Dec. 68. Starting on Sunday mornings, the new schedule will include: at 08:05, "Protestant Radio Chapel"; 08:30, "The Catholic Hour"; 09:05, "The Salt Lake City Tabernacle Choir"; 09:30, "Invitation to Music"; 10:05, "The Boston Symphony"; 11:05, "Music and Me".

During the week, the distinguished music critic and commentator, Dr.

Fred Haas, will begin his "Adventures in Good Music" at 13:05; Hollywood discjockey, Gene Weed, will be aired from 14:05 to 16:00 with a five minute newscast at 15:00. A long time listening favorite, "Music In The Air" will return to its original hour of 19:05 hours with a "new look" featuring new orchestral and chorale recordings. (The "Young Sound" now heard at 19:05 will move to 21:05). Road and weather conditions throughout Europe began last a retirement ceremony at 11 a.m. today at U. S. Army Headquarters on Clayallee.

Chaplain Naylor To Leave Divided City; Retires After Twenty-six Years Service

The 55 year-old Presbyterian minister will begin work on the first of the year as the executive secretary of the Mobile Presbytery, Mobile, Ala. He had been the assistant pastor of the Government Street Presbyterian Church there from 1938 to 1940. Reverend Naylor entered the Army in June 1942 as a student at the Chaplain School, Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind. During World War II he was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for the campaign on Bougainville, Solomon Islands and later received the Silver Star Medal for action in Manila, Philippine Islands.

In Germany since mid-1965, Chaplain Naylor came to Berlin as the Staff Chaplain of U.S. Forces in Berlin on Sept. 1, 1966. Prior to this he had been Staff Chaplain, Seventh United States Army.

Santa's Helpers Paintin', Polishin' Christmas Toys

Thanks to the generosity of the people of Berlin, both German and temporary-resident Americans, Santa Claus may take a few additional minutes' rest this Christmas Season.

"Operation Toybox 1968," which officially opened at the Schoeneberg Rathaus, Oct. 3, when District Mayor Josef Grunner and Brigadier General Samuel McC. Goodwin, Commanding General of the Berlin Brigade, placed the first toy in the first collection box of the season, is now in the latter stages of completion.

According to Chief Warrant Officer Troy L. Bright, Maintenance Division, there have been "more usable toys donated this year alone than in the past two years."

The pre-Christmas toy repair program began quietly in the Maintenance Division weeks ago and has now become a frenzied operation in which hundreds of toys must patiently wait for the "joymaker" repairmen to put them into shape for distribution to Berlin kinderheims in less than three weeks.

To date, according to Berlin Brigade Crafts Director Nathan B. Lewis, hundred of toys ranging from rag dolls to rockets have been cleaned, painted, glued, nailed and generally rejuvenated by a hard core of eight workers in the Maintenance Division.

Warrant Officer Bright predicts that the Dec. 10 deadline for repair will be met. At present the toys are "scattered all over the Maintenance Division area but the work on them is progressing more than adequately," he said.

The packaging of toys, to take place between Dec. 11 and 20, will be the final phase before distribution.

The purpose of "Operation Toy Box" has been to provide suitable toys for presentation as gifts to the needy children of Berlin during the Christmas Season through the combined efforts of Berliners and Americans.

Bringing Christmas to children who might not otherwise have one has been the motivating idea behind the project since its inception seven years ago.

Each year, the project has succeeded in bringing not only Christmas to Berlin children but in bringing Berliners and Americans more closely together.

German Employee Completes Army-Sponsored Cost Course

Mr. Siegfried Zothe, Chief of the Work Coordination Office, Engineer and Installations Division, has just returned to Berlin after having attended a Program Evaluation Review Techniques (PERT) Cost Course conducted by the U. S. Army Management Engineering Training Agency at Rock Island, Ill.

Zothe, who is the second German National employed by the U. S. Forces in Berlin to be sent to the United States for special training, was the only person attending the course from Europe. The class was made up of Department of the Army employees and Army officers from commands throughout the world.

Educators Meet

"We're here because we share a common profession. Let this meeting be the 'little acorn' out of which grow future exchange programs."

Paul F. LeBrun, principal, Berlin American High School, made these comments last Friday in the BAHS cafeteria to a group of 44 German and 27 American High School teachers, gathered at the high school for an informal inter-cultural exchange.

The purpose of the meeting, according to Ulrich Allwardt, was to compare educational problems found in both the German and American schools. Mr. Allwardt, a German language teacher at the high school, was responsible for coordinating the meeting.

The meeting brought together teachers from all factions, including Gerhard Jaeger, superintendent of the Zehlendorf School District, who encouraged future individual contact.

PERPLEXED, Specialist 4 Kenneth E. Cody scratches his head as he views some of the many toys repaired by the Maintenance Division. He is one of eight workers involved in the repair phase of "Operation Toy Box 1968."

German Law Outlines Unrestricted Dog-Walking Areas Within Berlin

"How much is that doggie in the window" may be one of the questions members of the Berlin American community will ask during the shopping weeks before Christmas.

If you already own a dog or plan to soon, some information pertaining to where animals are permitted to run free and where they must be on leash will be of value.

The Provost Marshal's office wishes to remind resident Americans in Berlin of a German decree which was published in 1934 for the protection of animals and plants within the forests of Berlin.

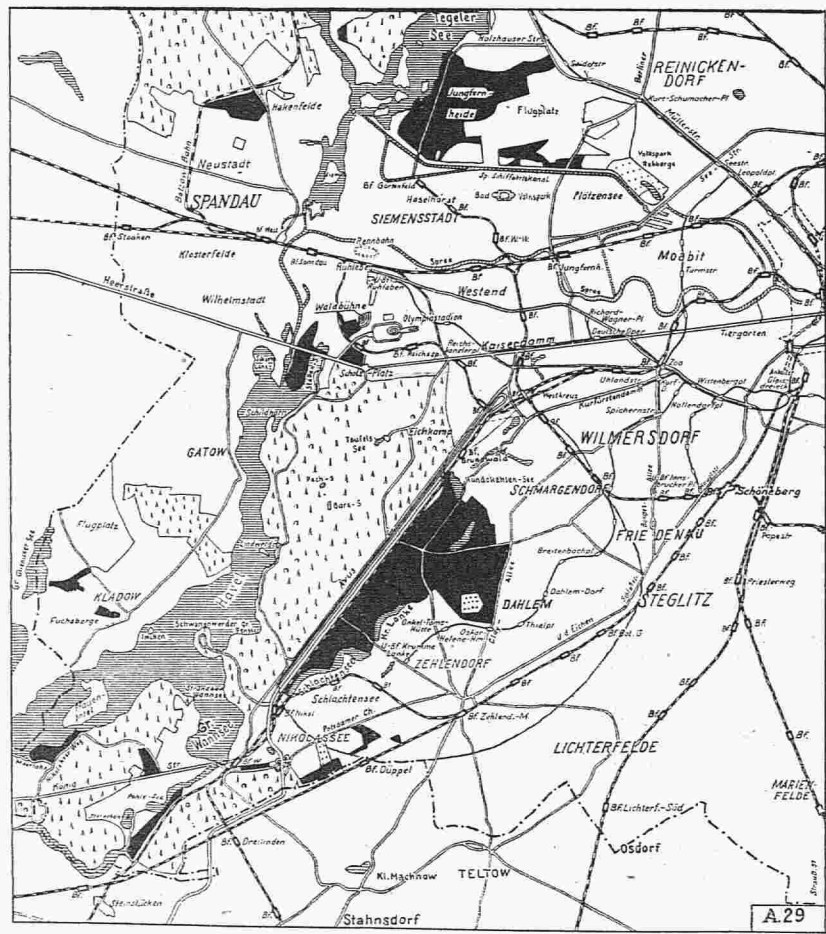

Among other instructions this decree requires that dogs be leashed when walking through the forests of Berlin in order to protect wild animals from poaching dogs and thus preserve them as an enjoyment for Berlin citizens.

This is important because although dogs are domestic animals they have a hunting instinct which is often alerted at the smell of game.

There are, however, areas which have been especially established for dogs to run free. Animal lovers will readily understand the necessity of the restrictions.

For your guidance the areas where dogs are allowed to run free have been marked in black on the map which appears on this page.

Will Child Born Here Be U.S. Citizen?

by Major Robert D. Conklin, MSC
Chief, Registrar Division
Will your newborn infant be a U.S. citizen? The answer to this question will be "yes" if you take the following actions: As soon as possible, but not later than one month before your estimated delivery date, complete an AE Form 360, "Report of Child Born Abroad of American Parents", at the Registrar Division, U. S. Army Hospital, Berlin.

You should enter a boy's and girl's name on the AE Form 360. This facilitates proceeding the pre-birth registration, and enables the hospital to initiate action upon determination of the sex of the newborn. If names have not been selected at the time of the pre-registration, contact the Registrar Division when names have been selected.

The following documents are required at the time of actual registration. Commissioned Officers and Foreign Service Officers must have the wife's passport. Warrant Officers and enlisted members must have the wife's passport and the service member's birth certificate. Civilian personnel must have both the husband's and wife's passport. If the wife is an alien a marriage certificate is required in addition to the other documents.

On the first duty day after delivery of the newborn the sponsor should report to the Registrar Division, with the above-mentioned documents. At this time a Foreign Service Form 240, "Report of Birth Abroad of a Citizen of the U.S.A." will be completed and forwarded to the U.S. Consular Office.

President Praises GIs In Thanksgiving Letter

President Johnson Monday praised the U.S. Armed Forces for sacrifices which "have protected our nation and preserved our cherished heritage of freedom."

In his annual Thanksgiving Day Message to the American servicemen and women, the President noted that "thanks to you, there is hope in the homes of America today, and the hearts of America are free from fear."

Following is the text of Mr. Johnson's message:

Nearly three-and-a-half centuries ago, the first Thanksgiving Day marked a pause in the harsh labors of the Plymouth Colonists.

It was a time for those who had survived the hardships of a severe winter to enjoy the bounty of a full harvest and to thank God for his many blessings. Not the least of these was the sense of freedom they found in the wilderness of this vast and yet uncharted land.

We are humbled as we look back to that day and recall the achievement of so many Americans, in all walks of life, who enriched the bounty of our soil and extended the blessings that God had showered upon our founding fathers.

Foremost among those whom we remember on this day, are the brave men and women in uniform whose sacrifices have protected our nation and preserved our cherished Heritage of Freedom. We are one in gratitude on this Thanksgiving Day as we are reminded of your constant courage and unquestioned devotion to this country, for thanks to you, there is hope in the homes of America today, and the hearts of America are free from fear.

Mrs. Johnson, our family and I send you our warmest wishes for a Thanksgiving Celebration that brings each of you the same satisfaction and joy which you have brought to us—and to all your fellow countrymen.

Onkel Tom's Huette Here Named for Stowe's Book

How "Onkel Tom's Huette" came to be known by that name is only a partially known tale.

About 100 years ago a little inn was opened in the Grunewald Forest near Krumme Lanke. The owner, seeking publicity, named his inn "Onkel Tom's Huette," a name familiar to everyone because of the popularity of Harriet Beecher Stowe's novel, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," published in the United States in June, 1851.

Although there was no slave problem in German, the book, translated as "Onkel Tom's Huette," had become a best seller. It is still today an essential part of every German "library for youngsters."

Krumme Lanke and the Grunewald Forest 100 years ago were difficult to reach from Berlin. The trip there, almost an excursion, took one entire day. However, the restaurant prospered and grew bigger. Proprietors changed again and again, but it remained for the longest time one of the most popular summer-time restaurants for Berliners wishing to spend a few hours in the woods.

When the U-Bahn was built, a special station stop had to be made because of the "Onkel Tom's Huette" restaurant. A variety of small underground shops provide the stop with an unusual and colorful appearance.

Kinderkeller Happenings

SPECIAL CHRISTMAS OFFER TO MEMBERS OF THE KINDER KELLER — From Dec. 1 the Kinder Keller rates will be reduced to 15 cents an hour. This will be effective for the month of December on a trial basis only.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR SCHEDULE — The Kinder Keller will be closed on Dec. 24, 25 and 26. If there is a special and sufficient demand the Kinder Keller will open on the 24th — please place requests for the 24th on the sign-up sheet at the Kinder Keller.

NEW YEAR'S EVE — DEC. 31 — The Kinder Keller will not open until 5 p.m. If sufficient reservations are made it will remain open all night. If the demand does not warrant staying open all New Year's Eve the Kinder Keller will close at 3 a.m. and open again at 8 a.m., New Year's Day.

STAFF WANTED — The Kinder Keller is now accepting applications for the following positions: a. Nursery Attendants; b. Recreation Director to supervise the children's play activities. Please make your applications at the Kinder Keller, located in the Dahlem Guest House, Ihne Strasse, or phone 76-5676.

NEW KINDER KELLER SERVICE — Tuesdays and Thursdays a special bus service is now in operation to transport Kindergarten children from from school to the Kinder Keller in the mornings and from Kinder Keller to school in the afternoons. Parents wishing to take advantage of this service can obtain the necessary details from the Kinder Keller.

We hope to expand this service to include every weekday if there is a sufficient demand to do so.

Today the whole locality around the station and the inn is known as Onkel Tom's Huette.

Monday at 06:55.

AFN-Berlin will begin a new series of five-minute military news programs at 12:15, Tuesdays and Thursdays, announced by News Editor, Specialist Richard Hawkins. "Berlin This Week", aired originally at 18:45 Saturday nights will be repeated Monday morning at 06:40 hours. (This is a complete review of the top civilian and military news events during the past week, as compiled by the AFN Berlin News staff). "This Is Berlin", a 15-minute program devoted to each of the thirteen districts within West Berlin, will be broadcast at 06:40 hours, every Friday morning.

Program changes were discussed at the semi-annual Program Director's conference at AFN-Europe Headquarters in Frankfurt last month and are designed to constantly up-date and improve the standards of AFN-Berlin radio heard on both medium wave (935 kilocycles) and FM (87.85 megacycles). A reminder that during all sporting events on AFN-Berlin AM, musical programming may be heard on FM. Monday thru Friday, "Frolic At Five" is heard on AM and "Music On The Rocks" on FM.

Los Angeles Businessmen, Government Officials Visit; To Initiate 1969 German-American Volksfest Project

A delegation of businessmen and government officials from the city of Los Angeles, headed by the Deputy Mayor of that city, Joseph M. Quinn, departed Berlin Sunday, Nov. 24, after a five-day visit to the Divided City to initiate plans for the 1969 German-American Volksfest.

Those accompanying Deputy Mayor Quinn to Berlin included William Chernus, Director of the European Trade Development, Port of Los Angeles; Frank Sennes of the Howard Hughes Organization; and Clarence Innan, Director, Hollywood Center Audio-Visual Arts.

While in Berlin the Los Angelans met with Major General R. G. Fergusson, U.S. Commander, Berlin; Colonel Claude O. Shell Jr., Chief of Staff, Berlin Brigade; and Lieutenant Richard H. Hansen, Volksfest Director and Information Officer for the U.S. Army, Berlin.

The five days of talks included briefings on the history and scope of the Volksfest, giving the visitors an idea as to how this community relations event was presented in the past eight years, and laying the ground-work for the coming year.

During the meetings, areas of particular responsibility and support were outlined and a time-frame plan was drawn up as was a partial plan for exhibits and entertainment that is to be presented at the "1969 German-American Volksfest."

Berlin Reflections

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Nov. 25, 1948 — "Berliners ate their turkey yesterday to an airplane obligato as 716 British and American flights into Tempelhof, Gatow and Tegel Airports delivered 6,116 tons of food and fuel into the city. This is second in tonnage only to September 18, Airforce Day, when in an all out effort to establish par for the course, 896 flights carried 6,987 tons of coal for the German economy."

"Residents of Western Berlin had much to be thankful for yesterday. Major Nelson Greene, Chief of Berlin Military Post Engineer Construction Section, said his crew was thankful that the third Tempelhof runway will be finished tomorrow. They are even more thankful the Tegel project has progressed so well that they predict December 4 as the date of completion of the original job. Several smaller tasks added after construction began will take somewhat longer to finish."

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Nov. 28, 1953 — "In an exclusive interview this week with the OBSERVER, Senator Harry Byrd (Democrat, Virginia) expressed enthusiasm for the remarkable recovery and progress of the Berlin people and emphasized that 'Every American should be proud of the troops in Europe, as the appearance and conduct of the servicemen are excellent'."

TEN YEARS AGO

Nov. 28, 1958 — "Senator Hubert H. Humphrey, Democrat of Minnesota and a member of the Foreign Relations Committee in Congress' upper house, completed a whirlwind, six-hour visit to Berlin early Sunday evening. He assured Berlin's Mayor Willy Brandt that the United States stands 'four square' behind continued four-power administration of this isolated city."

FIVE YEARS AGO

Nov. 29, 1963 — "One Week after the death of John F. Kennedy, the city which gave him the warmest welcome in its history continues to mourn his passing."

"Many Americans here in the Divided City feel that the grief of the people of West Berlin may very well be unequalled anywhere outside the United States."

"For three days following the shooting of the American President forty thousand Berliners made their way to U.S. Headquarters on Clayallee to sign a condolence book. It represented their effort to show the people of America how sorry we are to hear of his death' said one woman waiting to sign her name. The crowd became so great that instead of closing its doors as scheduled the American Headquarters remained open day and night to accommodate mourners."

The "Picture of the Week" is intended to give exposure to talented amateur photographers within the American community in Berlin. It is open to both civilian and military personnel.

If you have pictures you would like to submit, mail them to "The Berlin Observer," Information Division, Office of the U.S. Commander, Berlin, APO 09742. You may also send your entries through the message center or deliver them by hand to our office in Building 2, U.S. Army, Berlin, Headquarters Compound.

Pictures will only be returned if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is included with the submission. Otherwise, a collection of pictures will be kept and you may drop by to pick them up.

Should your entry not appear within a week or two after submission this does not mean to imply that it will not be used. So keep the faith.

Bears 'Bowl-over' Cardinals in 41-7 Win

BERLIN QUARTERBACK Butch Sherrod calls out the signals to the Berlin Bears offensive team deep in Cardinal territory. Sherrod guided the Bears to two touchdowns on their way to another USAREUR football championship last Saturday.

ON HIS WAY to another Berlin Bear touchdown is halfback Gary La Fever. La Fever returned an Aschaffenburg Cardinal punt 63 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter of the USAREUR championship game.

STAN WALKER puts up a human-wall defense against Cardinal quarterback Lewis Bailey. Coming in to lend Walker a hand is number 51 Dwayne Glenn, Berlin middle nose guard. Lewis had to rush his pass due to the blitz put on by the Bears, and the aerial fell incomplete.

the sting of the Bear defense. Aschaffenburg halfback Willie Hart bobbled the football on his own 32-yard line, only to have it quickly snatched by big Stan Walker, the Bears 220-pound right tackle.

Charlie Ward then took the throttle of the Bears scoring machine and pushed it into high gear. Six plays later the shifty Ward slashed over the goal-line on a quarterback option play for the Bears first six points. Eric Sorenson's try for the extra point was wide and the Bears led six to nothing.

Once again the Cardinals took the kickoff from the Bears, and three plays later the Berliners again had the ball. Thanks to linebacker Greg Keane's first interception of the season the Bears had the Cardinals with their backs to the wall.

Baker Scores

It took only seven plays for the Bears to move the ball 63 yards for their second touchdown. The key was a Ward-to-Gerald-Bayer pass, good for 34 yards and a first down on the Cardinal 13.

Baker capped the drive by diving over a wall of Aschaffenburg defenders at the 2-yard line. James Neely, Berlin's speedy halfback, then sprinted across for two extra points and the Bears had the Cardinals reeling 14-0.

Berlin cashed in for three more TD's before the half, two of which were set up by some fancy punt-returning by Berlin assistant coach and safety, Bob Robinson. Robinson carried one kick 40 yards to the Cards' 31 and Berlin scored a few minutes later. On his next return Robinson sprinted for 42 yards to the Redbird 33 and the Bears tallied again.

The 10 plays used to cover the 31 yards were capped when Ward cut into paydirt on a keeper. Sorenson's kick made it 21-0.

Leaping Catch

Robinson then set up another TD with only seconds showing in the first half. He took the ball for a 42-yard ride down to the Card's 30-yard line. Then Sherrod and Sorenson teamed up for a beautiful pass play-touchdown. Sorenson made a perfect leaping catch at the goalline and held onto the ball as he fell into the endzone for another touchdown. Neely ran the conversion for two points and the Bears had an overwhelming 35-0 half-time lead.

The second half saw the Bears coast home with their second USAREUR title. The Berliners were able to put one more touchdown on the scoreboard when Gary La Fever sprinted 63 yards with a Cardinal punt. Bob Robinson sprung La Fever on his jaunt to paydirt with a crushing block on two Cardinal players.

Aschaffenburg finally dented the Bears' defense late in the fourth quarter when Thomas Reeves took a short flip and outmaneuvered the Bears for a 51-yard run. Several plays later quarterback Howard Currington took the ball over from one yard out for the only Cardinal score. But it was just too little too late.

CATAPULTING over the defensive line of the Cardinals, fullback Brad Baker scores the Bears second touchdown. Baker took off on this "flight" from two yards out. Throwing a key block to allow Baker to score is number 82, Gerald Bayer.

Indoor Pool at Andrews Gets First Face-lifting

Water, water everywhere but "No Swimming Allowed." That's the situation at the Andrews Barracks Swimming Pool from now until a complete renovation project is completed sometime in February.

The pool is getting its first face-lifting since it was constructed 32 years ago. Built in 1936 as part of the giant Olympic village construction project in Berlin, the pool was used primarily for training and practice sessions during Olympic competition.

Equipped to handle large meets, the pool is Olympic size, measuring 50 meters in length. It is 15 feet deep at one end and eight feet at the shallow end.

All swimming came to a halt on the 1st of November when the remodeling began. Plans call for the installation of new tiles, lights and a complete paint job. The biggest improvement will come however, when a new false bottom is laid at the shallow end. This will raise the floor from its present eight foot depth to only three feet when the project is completed.

With the new shallow bottom the pool will be able to offer swimming classes for young people for the first time. Because of the old eight foot depth, smaller children have been unable to use the facilities for safety reasons. Plans are now being finalized to begin swimming classes soon after the renovation work is completed.

Pool manager is Harry Kniffen, 22 year-old native of San Francisco. Harry came to Berlin in August from Berchtesgaden. He and Tom Omally, his assistant, are in charge of running all programs at Andrews pool.

"Construction is running a little behind schedule," Kniffen explained. "Putting up all of that scaffolding really put the workmen behind." Kniffen estimated that the renovation project was about 20 per cent complete "but there is still quite a lot to do yet," he said.

Three shifts of painters' and other construction men are working on the pool from 7 a.m. until 2 a.m. each day. The big job will come when they put the false bottom in.

Presently there are two American and two German lifeguards working at the pool. After the renovation is completed another lifeguard is expected to arrive to help with the increased work load.

After the pool is reopened new hours will be announced for weekdays and week ends. It is hoped the pool will be operational seven days a week.

NO SWIMMING ALLOWED during the renovation of the Andrews Barracks swimming pool. Though the water is still in the pool all swimming has come to a halt. Work crews are giving the pool a complete face-lifting. Here, pool manager Harry Kniffen, far right, watches as workmen begin painting.

ROD AND GUN

The Berlin Rod and Gun Club skeet and trap range which is located at Rose Range is open for recreational shooting for all U.S. military and attached personnel every Saturday and Sunday. New trap and skeet guns are available. Everything you need for a round of skeet is there for only $2.00.

Range hours are: Saturday 1 p.m. until dark. Sunday 10 a.m. until dark. Ranges are also available for all calibre rifles and handguns.

Exhibition Basketball Set

Basketball season gets underway tomorrow and Sunday as the Berlin Bear cagers take on the Kaiserslautern Victory Wheels in two exhibition games.

The 1968-69 edition of the Bears basketball team will hit the courts at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Berlin Brigade Sports Center gymnasium. Then on Sunday afternoon the Berliners and the Victory Wheels will square off again for their second contest of the weekend. Game time Sunday is 1 p.m. at the Sports Center.

In other area sports news, a handball and squash ladder tournament is being organized at the Sports Center. If you would like to take part in either of these sports contact Specialist 5 Jackson, or Specialist 4 Cameron at 6581.

Lieutenant John Everett, Special Services Officer reminds all tennis players in the Brigade that due to limited facilities in the winter, players that are unable to keep appointments should cancel their reservations without delay by calling the Sports Center. Only two lessons per week will be given to any individual, and reservations will not be accepted more than 24 hours in advance.

Fearless Four Forecast

With most of the big bowl games filled, the 1968 football season heads into its last week of action. This will be the weekend of the big football rivalries. The game that schools and teams look forward too all year long, and a win or a loss can spell the difference between a good or bad season.

The game that will attract the most attention will unfold in Philadelphia, where Army will take on Navy in their annual gridiron confrontation. Other end-of-the-season clashes will find Mississippi playing Mississippi State, The Sooners of Oklahoma taking on the Cowboys of Oklahoma State, and in a big inter-zonal tilt the Trojans of Southern California will strive to keep their number one rating when they meet the powerful Irish of Notre Dame.

Looking at our scores from last week we see that Terry Shonkwiler was tops with a record of eight and two. (The Harvard and Yale tied was counted as a wrong guess) Jerry Dohrman and Hal Shanafield tied for runnerup honors with scores of six and four. Ed Eckman, perennial loser, came home with a four and six total.

With only tomorrow's games remaining the grand totals for our Fearless Four, find Terry leading with a record of 39-20. Hal is next with 36-23. Jerry holds down the third slot at 31-29, and Ed trails with a record of 30-30.

This week's games are:

	Jerry	Ed	Hal	Terry

Art Instructor Teaches for 22 Years

Bearing no other resemblance than the general classification of "art," Miss Margot Pietsch (pronounced "Peach") is no relation to the Miss Peach of comic strip fame.

Miss Pietsch has been an art instructor with American schools in Berlin for 22 years. "In the older days I taught elementary and secondary art classes and, in addition, did a little substituting in other classes," she related.

Born in Berlin but educated in the states since she was "knee high," Miss Pietsch has attended The Art Institute of Chicago, the Commercial Art School of Chicago and the Federal School of Designing in Minneapolis.

While still an art student in 1933 she did some free lance work and exhibited her portraits—the form of art she favors — at the World's Fair that year.

In reference to her free lance work, Miss Pietsch said that "some of it was done through the school which was contacted by firms for commercial layouts."

The art instructor, with nearly a quarter of a century's experience reflected on her early endeavors in art and admitted that she was "very happy then."

"Of course, along with talent, it pays to know somebody with a name and money to sponsor you. Then, too, photography was starting to become a tough competitor in the commercial art field," Miss Pietsch added.

When asked her reason for beginning her teaching career, Miss Pietsch responded with a smile and a nostalgic laugh.

"To teach at all you must first like children," she commented. "When I first started here I was the third art teacher. The art classes were a horrible disorder—supplies were unregulated and the students permitted to help themselves. It took three weeks to establish a little system which kept supplies in order and yet allowed students free expression within supervision."

"Since that time," she acknowledged with a clinking wave of several keys, "I've been the keeper of these."

Miss Pietsch stated that watching youngsters develop their creative talent was the "real thrill" of teaching art.

"Some continue in the art field when they leave here. And they continue—some of them—to correspond. One's an art teacher now, or was until she married. Another, who was prolific, is now a mathematics teacher. It just shows how varied lives are. But when they correspond ... well, it's a delight that can only be imagined after teaching for so long," she said.

Miss Pietsch has worked on the yearbook almost since she first began teaching in Berlin. She recalls students of hers who showed exceptional promise in art with charming accuracy and is willing to share teaching experiences with one who is willing to listen.

Miss Pietsch spends her summers on an island in the North Sea. There she takes time to sketch and paint, something that she has little time to do during the school year. But even then she keeps an eye open for art project possibilities for her students.

'Toad of Toad Hall' Will Open

The British Amateur Theatre Society (BATS) has been immersed in full rehearsal for some weeks in preparation for their holiday season offering, "Toad of Toad Hall."

The play, based on Kenneth Grahame's book "The Wind in the Willows," is much of an experiment for the BATS players. The 40-member cast plus technicians are, according to Captain P. D. France, "getting much fun out of it."

The play is, of course, a fantasy-drama. However, lest there be any adults who fear tainting their over-21 status, it was written and is being presented for anyone from five to 95 years' of age. (The older you are the more enjoyment you should savor from the play.)

Currently, since Tolkien's trilogy of the "War of the Rings" has gathered world-wide attention, professors and students of literature as well as the general reading public are viewing "fantasy" in a new scope. In fact, a revival of "Toad of Toad Hall" is now playing in London.

The play will open Dec. 7 with a matinee at 3:30 p.m. The following day a second matinee will be presented at the same time. Dec. 9, 10 and 11 are slated for evening performances beginning at 8 p.m.

All performances will be given at the Woolmarket Theatre at the 91st Supply Depot off Neuendorfer Strasse. Tickets and reservations are available through Captain France at Olympic Stadium, Glamorgan Block, Room 23. Call 309 42 01 for further information. Tickets are priced at DM 3 and DM 2 for adults and DM 2 and DM 1 for children.

A. C. T.'s Predecessor Dates to 1945

Opening its curtains for the first time only a few months after the first American troops entered Berlin in April 1945, the American Little Theater acquired nine "very fine productions" to its credit by Jan. 1947.

The American Community Theater's forerunner instituted an offshoot known as the American Radio Theater of Berlin in January 1946. It was established in conjunction with the AFN Berlin radio station "to provide dramatic programs for military personnel in the Berlin area."

"The Male Animal," a Broadway success of the 40's, opened the 1946 season of the American Little Theater when it premiered at the Onkel Tom's Theater on Feb. 9.

The plot centered around the struggles of Professor Thomas Turner to find himself as he toppled the complacency of his household into a den of turmoil and laughter. Wife Ellen, with her sense of feminine logic, found love and philosophy a better match the short-lived excitement of a football weekend and the attentions of a gridiron star, to bring the happy ending.

Social overtones were added by conflict over Turner's reading of the famous Sacco-Vanzetti death cell letters to one of his university classes.

AFN Gives Awards

American Forces Network, Berlin has awarded its second Outstanding Athlete Award to Berlin Bear football players Charlie Ward and Brad Baker.

The presentation was made Wednesday afternoon during a practice session for the upcoming inter-service Super Bowl game. Bill McKean, Sports Director for AFN, Berlin, gave the certificates to the two star football players.

The certificate lauds Ward and Baker for "Sustained superior athletic performances as starting quarterback and fullback on the 1968 USAREUR champion Berlin Bears football team."

For quarterback Ward, the tribute comes as a going away present. He leaves Berlin Monday for discharge from the Army.

PETER LAWFORD appears to be in grave danger of being put to sleep with a lullaby from a revolver. For more information about the movie from which this shot was taken, soon to be showing at Berlin theaters, see "Quick Flicks" on page 6.

— Variety —

... The RAF Gatow Theatre Club will present a comedy by Philip King entitled "Fools Paradise" in the Station Theatre, RAF Gatow, on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Nov. 29-30 and Dec. 1-2. Doors and bar will open at 7:30 p.m. Tickets — DM 4 and DM 2 — are bookable through the Education Centre RAF Gatow or by calling 309 26 53. You may also pay at the door ... A particularly noteworthy event in connection with A.C.T.'s production of "L'il Abner" is scheduled for 11 a.m. tomorrow in the vicinity of the Shopping Center. Be on the look-out for unusually clad "Oakies" parading around the parking area ...

Command-sponsored production of the gala musical, "Li'l Abner," on Dec. 13. As the deadline approaches, all involved are increasing their efforts tremendously.

It is noteworthy that the director, producer, cast and technicians have chosen to ignore the ill omens connected with the date selected for opening night, Friday the 13th.

The frolicsome musical comedy by Norman Panama and Melvin Frank made a smash hit on Broadway 12 years ago and has kept theater audiences rolling in the aisles whenever performed. When the show first appeared amid the glitter of New York, the "New York Post" billed it as a "gay, colorful and lavish musical comedy extravaganza."

In Berlin, Al Capp's characters will become three dimensional for five performances, Dec. 13, 14, 20 and 21 at 8 p.m. The fifth showing will take place at a special matinee on the 21st at 2 p.m. All showings are slated for the Outpost Theater.

The story-line of the musical concerns the trouble that besets Dogpatch when the Government decides to blow it off the map as unnecessary. This means that Daisy Mae won't have a chance to snag Abner on Sadie Hawkins Day. The bureaucrats ultimately get foiled in the end by honest Yokum cleverness.

Reservations may be made through the Entertainment Center at 6565. Tickets may also be picked up at the Outpost Theater, the Shopping Center lobby, the Amerika Haus or any of the Service Clubs.

Quick Flicks

SALT & PEPPER — Charlie Salt and Christopher Pepper are dauntless heroes who hold the fate of the world in their hands . . . and drop it! They discover a widespread and nefarious plot which plans the ruin of Great Britain. Persisting through adventures and hair-breadth escapes, they out-do Bond in fantasy espionage. Starring Sammy Davis Jr. and Peter Lawford. (Mature)

THE SECRET LIFE OF AN AMERICAN WIFE — Love affair dreams fill the life of Ann Jackson, a neglected suburban housewife. The woman who soon becomes incapable of telling what is imagined and what is real would have made an ideal mate for Walter Mitty. Starring Walter Mathau and Patrick O'Neal. (Mature)

NEVADA SMITH — Half-breed Nevada Smith becomes as hated an outlaw as the men he is tracking down to kill. After finding and killing two murderers, Nevada Smith ends his quest for vengeance in a violent and bloody showdown with the last of the killers. Starring Steve McQueen and Suzanne Pleshette. (Mature—Revival)

SNOW TREASURE — An intriguing war story, the film takes a different approach to World War II. A group of children are placed in direct opposition to an active combat unit when they help smuggle tons of gold bullion out of Norway following the German invasion. Starring James Franciscus and Ilona Rodgers. (Family)

HURRY SUNDOWN — Michael Caine shifts accents to play a land grabbing Southerner who uses his wife's money to fulfill his ambitions. He meets his match when he attempts to take over two neighboring farms, one belonging to a Negro and the other to a Southern White newly returned from the War. Also stars Jane Fonda and Diannah Carroll, both of whom put forth admirable acting talents. (Mature—Revival)

Theater for Children Offers Holyday Tale

by Judy Pricks

For romantically inclined people, the month of December is a very special time spent with secret preparations for Christmas, quiet candle-lit moments on the Advent Sundays, and where there are children, the fairy tale has its big moment. With this in mind, Berlin's only theater for children, "Berliner Kammertheater," has produced one of Hans Christian Andersen's stories "The Snow Queen" (Die Schneekoenigin).

The fairy tale tells about the very brave little girl Gerda, who makes a long and difficult journey to the land of ice and snow to find her friend Kai. He had been taken away by the wicked snow queen and his heart had turned into ice. Helped by a big crow, a prince and a princess, a little robber girl and a reindeer and hindered by a wicked king, a nasty rich man and gold-thirsty robbers, the little heroine does manage to make the story end happily. Delightful stage settings and eerie sound effects add to the charming performance.

"The Snow Queen" can be recommended for children up to 10 years of age. Afternoon performances are on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday at 4 p.m. Tickets can be purchased at the PX ticket agency (2-750 DM). The theater is located on Alt Moabit 99, U-Bahn station Turmstrasse.

Brothers Grimm

A visit to the "Ladengalerie" at the corner of Bleibtreustrasse and Kuddamm will also take you into the world of fairy tales. Old and modern illustrations to the stories of the Brothers Grimm are on display here. If you bring a little time along, you can browse through the big collection of children's books available here. You might find just the one

WHAT'S THIS? We're not certain ourselves. But it could be that the old man in the relief is telling his son he needn't sit around complaining of nothing to do. He could easily find expression for his talents by calling the Entertainment Division at 6465 or 6565. How about you?

'The Waterfalls of Slunj', a Top Novel Now Offered at Brigade Library

Recent additions to the new book shelves at the Special Services' library located in Building 5, U.S. Army Headquarters, Berlin, include:

Fiction: THE WATERFALLS OF SLUNJ, by Heimito von Doderer.

A superb translation, this rare novel creates, with authority, a whole society and a sense not just of period but of the quality of time.

It is still noon in the Austro-Hungarian Empire when the Claytons, English machinery manufacturers, establish a branch in Vienna around 1880 and easily gain access to its commercial and social worlds. They become a formative influence, expressive of the prestige of England at the time.

Essays and addresses: A CON-

TINUING JOURNEY, by Archibald MacLeish.

In this, his first collections of essays since "Freedom Is the Right to Choose" in 1951, Archibald MacLeish presents a striking and moving record of his thought over the past 23 years.

History: MAKES OF LATIN AMERICA, by Donald E. Worcester.

The biographies of twenty men and one woman who have especially influenced the course of Mexican, Central American and South American history from the Conquest to the 20th century as written by a recognized authority on Latin America, provides an informative, highly readable account that will give readers new insights into these countries and their people.

performed by various orchestras and choirs in the Philharmonie on Dec. 7, 14, 22 and 23. The Choir of the St. Hedwig's Cathedral will give a concert of Christmas music on the 18th also in the Philharmonie. Check with the PX ticket agency for details.

So much for Christmas. Berlin also has other entertainment to offer in December. Hildegard Knef will sing chansons in the Philharmonie Dec. 5 and 6. Ticket prices are from 6 to 20 DM. Shows start at 8 p.m.

Julian Bream will give a lute and guitar recital in the Hochschule fuer Musik (on Hardenbergstrasse) this Tuesday, Dec. 3. The program will consist of works by P. Phillips, Molinaro, J. S. Bach, Bennett and Debussy among others. Tickets are available for 3-6 DM.

Carlos Montoya

The world-famous Flamenco guitarist Carlos Montoya will also play in the Hochschule fuer Musik. This recital is scheduled for Dec. 11, at 8 p.m. Figure on spending between 4 and 8 DM.

Those who have developed an ear for modern music will find the concert in the Academy of Arts next Thursday, Dec. 5, of interest. The Quax Ensemble from Prague will present contemporary chamber music in this special guest performance. You can get tickets (3, 5 and 7 DM) at the door. Begin is 8 p.m.

"Cain and Abel"

Modern ballet at its best can be seen at the Berlin Opera Dec. 3 and 10. Main attraction of the ballet evening scheduled on these dates is Kenneth MacMillan's "Cain and Abel." MacMillan has created a very gripping ballet from this biblical story to the penetrating music of Panufnik's "Sinfonia Sacra." Not recommended for those who prefer their ballet with frills.
