Little Designated Top Driver

by SP4 J. D. Wilson

It's relatively easy to be named Berlin Brigade Driver of the Quarter, according to Sergeant James V. Little, Jr., Company C, 4th Battalion, 18th Infantry, newly announced winner of the award for the fourth quarter, just ended.

How is it done? Simple, he says, "If you just follow the Army regulations covering vehicle maintenance — and they're pretty stiff — then everything should go smoothly with your vehicle."

And it is just that sort of compliance with regulations that helped him win the award, competition for which is based on vehicle maintenance and safety record.

Little says he always has been safety conscious, but takes extra precaution when driving a military vehicle. He has been driving in Berlin for more than 14 months and has accumulated an accident-free record, with no traffic violations.

As driver of a 1/4-ton vehicle for Lieutenant Dennis L. Brewer, executive officer of his company, Little says he feels an added responsibility to insure that the command vehicle is in its best operating condition in cases of alerts, emergencies and other such reasons.

"In a sense, though," he said, "I consider 'Charlie-3' my vehicle. I am the driver and it's my responsibility to make sure it's in tip-top condition."

He also gave much credit to the Army's inspection requirements and procedures that must be followed before a vehicle is cleared to be driven from the Motor Pool. These requirements, he said, include Technical Inspection (TI), Equipment Serviceability Criteria (ESC) and pre- and post-operative inspections.

He explained these procedures, saying the driver must make a pre-operative inspection of his vehicle before it can be taken from the Motor Pool and a post-operative inspection upon return of the vehicle.

"TI must be made on the vehicle weekly by a qualified mechanic," he said. "If the vehicle passes the inspection, it is cleared to be driven. If not, deficiencies must first be corrected."

Little says he feels the TI is the most important part of the inspection program.

"We must also have our ESC up to date," he added, explaining the ESC as a weekly rating of log book entries on the condition of major parts of the vehicle, such as the transmission, brakes and tires.

To meet this requirement, the vehicle must be taken on a five-mile road test to check for any mechanical problems, he said.

Evaluating the safety and maintenance program in Berlin, Little said, "I think the system is just

... Driver of the Quarter great. Follow the rules and regulations and everything will work out fine."

He said he feels the program sponsoring the Maintenance Assistance and Instruction Teams (MAIT) causes drivers to be more aware of the consequences of a poor rating on a roadside inspection.

The program also gives incentive to drivers who would, perhaps, not be conscientious in maintenance of their assigned vehicles, he said, explaining that a rating by the MAIT

IT'S ALL OVER NOW — The 17 days of Volksfest merriment should have been enough for everyone, but not all could go home. Sitting among the empty benches near the outdoor stage, this weary visitor is in contrast to the general over-all carnival atmosphere. ## Friday the 13th Remains Unlucky Even in Today's Modern Society

"Better watch out, it's Friday the 13th."

How many times have you heard that expression when by chance this particular day and date fall together?

Do you go through the day expecting some kind of horrible doom, suddenly conscious of the legions of black cats, leaning ladders and badly balanced mirrors waiting to ensnare you in days or years of bad luck? Or do you just ignore it, say it's another day?

With the progress of civilization out of the Dark Ages and into the largely rationalistic, science-oriented society of today, many old superstitions have fallen by the wayside. But Friday the 13th has held on despite all.

Experts in the field of superstition — it has applications in both anthropology and psychology — do not make any special mention of the day except that it combines two very old ideas associated with bad luck: Friday and the number 13.

Long before the advent of Christianity, from which the current prescription derives, Friday was coupled with many old testament disasters, including the Temptation of Adam and Eve, the Flood and the confusion of the tower. When it also became the traditional day of the Crucifixion of Jesus, its doom was sealed.

Adding to the difficulty of determining the origin of the taboo associated with Friday the 13th, the sixth day of the week has changed more than once, badly obscuring an already cloudy issue. Friday was at one time the last day of the week, the day on which one fasted or ate fish.

Other societies with different religious backgrounds have no such dread of the sixth day. The ancient Assyrians, for example, celebrated Friday with marriage, sexual union and general joyfulness in honor of Mylitta, their goddess of love.

Similarly, the ancient Norse, from whose Frey, god of fertility, and Freya, goddess of love, we get the word Friday, thought that this day was the best one for marriage, a custom still persisting in Scotland. When the Teutonic peoples were converted to Christianity the pagan Freya was banished to the mountains as a witch and her day was given over to evil doings of her followers.

The number 13 has also had a checkered career of popularity and unpopularity, for reasons even cloudier than those surrounding Friday. Claudia de Lys, in her book "A Treasury of American Superstitions," suggests that 13 was the ancient number to which man could not count using his fingers and feet. With this method, counting ten fingers and two feet, primitive man could get as far as twelve but no further. In this way 13 became associated with the unknown, always a fearful subject.

Among the Egyptians, however, it was considered a lucky number coinciding with the number of lunar months in a year. However, with this and only a few other exceptions, notably in the Orient, 13 has been regarded as unlucky.

Both the Hindus and the pre-Christian Norse had legends and beliefs concerning ill-luck if 13 people sat down at the same table.

It's hard to believe, however, that Americans can really consider the number 13 unlucky with the number of times it is used in our country, beginning with the 13 colonies and going endlessly on.

Take a look at the back of a dollar bill for example. On the left-hand side is a truncated pyramid of 13 steps supporting the all-seeing eye. On the right is the American Bald Eagle grasping in its right claw and olive branch with 13 leaves and 13 berries, while in the left claw are the 13 arrows.

In the center is a shield with 13 stripes, the same as those on a familiar flag, while overhead are 13 stars.

For that matter, how many letters in "E Pluribus Unum"? Or what is the sum of the digits in "The Spirit of '76"?

Still, reasonable or not, superstitions about lucky or unlucky days persist, even among some of the otherwise most sensible people. But we'd just like to say. . . oops, don't walk under that ladder. It's Friday the 13th. y'know. . .

Tournament of Knowledge To Open in Berlin Aug. 28

The 1971 USAREUR Service Club Tournament of Knowledge will open in Berlin Aug. 28 at 8 p.m. at the All American and Hi-Lite Service Club.

The Tournament of Knowledge is a giant-sized quiz program based on the popular television show "College Bowl" and will cover history, fine arts, sports, music, current events, science, social science, trivia and foreign phrases.

The tournament, which is designed to encourage military participation in a game of knowledge, will begin in service clubs throughout Italy and Germany Sunday.

The fast-paced quiz games will be complete with moderators, electric buzzers and flashing lights for USAREUR panel members and will feature toss-up, bonus and tie-breaker questions that will be asked during two 15-minute periods.

All USAREUR and U. S. military personnel of other services assigned or attached to an Army installation, with a USAREUR expiration of service date after Dec. 15, 1971 are eligible to compete in the fast-paced brain game.

Last year USAREUR competition wrinkled the brows of 2,000 contestants with more than 10,000 spectators attending the contests.

Initial or preliminary unit-service club tournaments get underway Sunday and must be completed by Sept. 30. Command and area eliminations, featuring service club winners, must conclude by Oct. 17 and SUPDIST and final qualifying eliminations are scheduled for Nov. 7. The winner-take-all "Tournament of Knowledge Grand Finals" will be hosted by AFN Frankfurt Dec. 4-5.

Competing teams shall be comprised of four permanent players, with one permanent substitute, who can play only when one of the four team members is unable to participate in a scheduled competition. All teams will be selected by means of elimination contests conducted by local service clubs.

USAREUR personnel interested in entering competition are urged to contact the All American Service Club, 3125, or the Hi-Lite Service Club, 3554, for additional information.

In last year's Tournament of Knowledge finals, Hi-Lite Service Club quizman representing the Berlin Brigade won the command's top honors by edging Herzo Base of Nord Bayern.

Harassment Protection

The Federal Trade Commission has recently been considering new laws to aid in consumer protection and credit reporting. Unfortunately, recent surveys have shown that debtor harassment is still prevalent among many collection agencies.

A typical case would include the receipt of a flood of pressing notices from a collection agency written on stationary which appears to be that of a government-controlled organization. These letters threaten legal action and damage to a debtor's credit rating. All too often debtors are also subjected to repeated phone calls at all hours of the day and night, both at home and on the job.

Persons should be aware that many times the individual calling will falsely represent himself to be a lawyer, policeman or private detective. Sometimes these calls are even made to neighbors, relatives and employers. In the event you are subjected to any of this type harassment, you should immediately contact the installation legal office.

All too often legal officers hear the statement, "I'm afraid I'll lose my stripes if I do not pay this bill." Nothing could be further from the truth. The burden is on the creditor to show that a lawful debt exists. In the event a military member has been subjected to fraud or has received inferior merchandise, these could serve as the basis for denying liability.

The person to talk to, naturally, is a lawyer to aid you in making this determination. Of course, the failure to pay a lawful debt could make one subject to action under the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

One of the best ways to insure against this type of bother is to personally get to know the creditors with whom you deal. Whether you shop for your money at a credit union, bank or savings and loan, be sure you know and can trust the people with whom you deal. (AFPS Editorial by Captain John B. Holden Jr., George AFB, Calif., Legal Office).

Little Named Top Driver

of 95 or above entitles the driver to a three-day pass.

Little's attitude of responsibility toward his job first caused him to be recommended to enter the Driver of the Month competition, which he won in June, consequently placing him in the running for Driver of the Quarter.

After winning the quarterly award, he has learned that regulations not only benefit him in maintenance of his vehicle but also can provide him with personal reward.

As Driver of the Quarter, he is entitled by a brigade regulation to a seven-day pass.

In addition, he and his wife, Barbara, who is here with him, have an extra $25 this month which he says will go into their savings account.

Little, 24, is from Meridian, Miss., and graduated from United Electronics Technical School, Birmingham, Ala., in 1967. Before entering the Army, he was employed as an electronic technician with Western Electric in St. Louis.

5 Months Work for Guardians

ATTs Culminate Platoon Level Training

by SP4 Larry Maloney

We had just turned off a paved road in the Grunewald onto a dirt one. The dust kicked up by the two 2½-ton trucks carrying the First Platoon of Company A, 2nd Battalion, 6th Infantry engulfed the company commander's jeep.

Captain Frank Klarnet, Commanding Officer, Company A, had his driver drop back a little more to improve his vision. The men on the trucks leaned up against the sides of the trucks, poised for action, rifles ready, searching the thick underbrush in the forest that edged the road watching and waiting for an ambush.

They knew it would come but not when or where.

Then, all at once, from all directions came the steady rapid cracking of automatic weapons. The fire-cracker-like muzzle flashes were distracting and frightening to one who had never been in the middle of an ambush before.

Almost instantaneously the two trucks were empty and their former occupants in position along the side of the road returning fire into the woodland. Within three or four minutes the aggressors were on the run.

Thus began the platoon-level ATTs (Army Training Tests) for the First Platoon. Similar situations kicked off the two day training tests for each of the rifle platoons in the Guardian Battalion.

According to Major William M. Kerans, S-3 (Training and Operations) for the Guardian Battalion, the field tests are designed "to test the combat readiness of the platoons, the status and effectiveness of the training and equipment and the ability of each man to perform his assigned duty."

There were four phases to these recent tests Major Kerans explained.

"First, to test the ability of moving a platoon-size element from a garrison situation to a simulated combat situation, the individuals' reaction to an ambush, the status of his equipment and his knowledge of that equipment.

"Second, test the ability of the platoons to conduct daylight attacks.

"Third, test unconventional warfare tactics to include the setting up of ambushes.

"Fourth, test the platoons' ability to conduct a night raid on an enemy objective.

"Those were our goals and, overall, the platoons performed real well. We encountered a few rough spots in our training, but that was, after all, why we gave the tests in the first place."

These tests are the culmination of five months of field and classroom training with the accent on platoon integrity. While these ATTs mark the end of platoon oriented training, they signal the beginning of company-level training.

This training will continue up to and including the Guardian Battalion's semiannual trip to Hohenfels, West Germany. In the last week at the Major Training Area there, the companies will undergo Army Training Tests similar to, though more complex than those just completed.

17 Days of G-A Volksfest Fun Now in the Past

TONGUE-TWISTER — This little boy is now having a rough time trying to get the sticky cotton candy off his cheek and chin. Cotton candy was only one of the many sweets sold at the 11th Annual German-American Volksfest.

CORN-ON-THE-COB — Many Germans got their first taste of corn-on-the-cob at the Volksfest. Judging by the way this youngster is eating, the PTA-sponsored booth had successful sales during the 17 days of Volksfest.

INDIAN SUMMER — A special feature at the Volksfest this year was the Ute Indians from Colorado. Approximately 20 Indians performed authentic tribal dances nightly on the outdoor stage, presenting Indian culture and the "Wild West" image to Berliners.

TEN YEARS AFTER — The close of this year's German-American carnival marked the celebration of 11 Volksfests in as many years for the local community. The 1971 "Wild West" was brought to life with a rodeo, Indians and a replica of a western town.

PEOPLE AND MORE PEOPLE — More than 400,000 Berliners took advantage of the summer weather and visited the 11th Annual German-American Volksfest. Nobody seemed to go without food or drink, as over 90,000 hamburgers and 200,000 liters of beer were consumed. Primary attractions on the grounds were the huge "Apollo 14" ride, the RIAS quiz show and numerous musical acts.

GRAND CELEBRATION — 'Old Pete,' a regular at the Volksfest each year, celebrated his 70th birthday Sunday. 'Pete' was presented with a new 10-speed bicycle by the Volksfest Office and pieces of his birthday cake were generously shared with the crowd. Assisting in the cake-cutting ceremony is Miss Anne Keller, Volksfest Organizer.

MUSICAL MAYOR — Klaus Günter Neumann leads the 298th U. S. Army Combo in the presentation of his hit song, "Wonderland by Night," a recording that sold 18 million copies in the U. S. Composer/pianist Neumann also wrote "Tulips From Amsterdam."

Bears' Stephenson Selected To USAREUR All-Star Team

First baseman Gene Stephenson was named to the first team of the USAREUR all-star team released by the U. S. Army Special Services agency, Europe. The balloting was done by the ten managers.

Stephenson was the top hitter for the Bears this past season. He either led or tied for the team lead in eight of the 12 batting categories. He also finished second in the USAREUR batting title with a .395 average, only behind batting champion Bill Shaughnessy of USAREUR-7 A who hit .404.

Pitcher Randy Douglas of the 1st Armored Division was the only unanimous choice in the balloting. He had a 6-3 won-loss record with a league leading earned-run average of 1.02.

Every team except V Corps placed a player on the first team, with no team having more than two performers selected.

In team batting the Bears ranked sixth with a .241 average, well behind the league leading .292 average of USAREUR-7A. In other team hitting statistics the Bears tied for seventh with 118 runs, sixth with 211 hits, last in home runs with six and seventh in RBIs with 90.

In pitching 12 hurlers threw 50 or more innings during regular season play. The Bears' Bob Wallis ranked eleventh with a 2.38 ERA but was second in the league with 79 strikeouts. Douglas of the 1st Armored Division led with 98. Wallis also finished with a 4-5 record.

Soccer Team Has League Game Tomorrow After Non-League Win

by SP4 Robert M. Carmany

The U. S. Forces soccer team opened its new field at McNair Barracks last Saturday with a 3-1 non-league victory over Postamt 19. The Yanks put together two first half goals by inside left Bob Carmany, a second half goal by outside left Randy Achenbach, and their tough defense to register the win.

The Americans gained the lead early in the contest when Carmany headed a deflected center from inside right Jim Elwood into the goal with barely five minutes gone in the game to give the Yanks a 1-0 lead. Although they were seemingly in control of the game, the U. S. Forces 11 was unable to score again until some 17 minutes before halftime.

Dodgers Take AYA Title With 7-3 Win Over Giants

The Dodgers wrapped up the AYA Minor League championship Saturday by downing the Giants, 7-3, in the final game of the season. The Dodgers used three pitchers to nail down the victory, giving them an 11-1 second half record and a 22-3 overall mark.

The Giants finished the second half at 9-3 after going 5-5 in the first half.

The difference in the ball game was two three-run innings for the Dodgers and some costly Giant base-running.

The Giants jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the top of the first against Wardell Turner but failed to have a big inning as two base runners were thrown out. The Dodgers then came back in the bottom of the inning with three runs off Giant ace Bob Popour to take the lead.

In the third inning, Mike Cassidy came in to pitch for the Dodgers and the Giants greeted him with a run to tie the game. But the Dodgers exploded for three more runs in their half of the inning to take a 6-3 lead.

Cassidy and Gary Furman then choked off repeated Giant threats the rest of the way and their teammates added another run in the fifth to nail down the victory.

Scott Freeman, Kelly Plastridge, Chris Raab, Cassidy and Turner provided the offensive spark for the Dodgers while DeLeon Willis, Bob Maxwell, Melvin Willis, Donald Brown and Popour were the big guns for the Giants.

The Cardinals finished the second half in third place with an 8-4 record for an overall mark of 18-7.

The Pirates dropped seven of their last eight games to finish fourth with a 4-8 record followed by the Reds, 3-9, and the Athletics, 1-11.

The second half began with neither team being able to launch a sustained offense. However, the Yanks appeared to be controlling the tempo of the game.

With 15 minutes left in the game, the Big Blue stormed down the field on a fast break. The ball was passed across the goal mouth and Randy Achenbach was able to beat a German defender to the ball and blasted a short shot into the goal to give the American 11 the 3-1 win.

The U. S. Forces team gets back to league action tomorrow when they put their 12-0 record on the line against a strong Krupp-Druckenmueller team. A win for the U. S. Forces team would go a long way toward the league championship and the Krupp team needs a win to stay alive in the battle for second place.

In the previous meeting, the Yanks walked off with an exciting 2-1 decision and the rematch should be "the game of the year". The kickoff is slated for 10 a.m. at Defenders Field at McNair Barracks and the game should be a spectator's game. Stop by and see the fast and furious action as the U. S. Forces team drives toward the league title.

Walter Matthau Tries Turning Over 'A New Leaf'

A NEW LEAF — Nasty Walter Matthau blows his fortune on luxuries and loose living. His love of the good life drives him to seek a wife, a rich one. Elaine May fits the need. She's rich, dumb, dowdy and just waiting for Walter to do his worst.

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE — A fortune hunting adventurer takes a liking to the castle of a widowed Countess. Staged accidents, perversion and murder are the methods he uses to become master of the house. Starring Angela Lansbury and Michael York.

SINAI COMMANDOS — The story is about the Arab Israeli Six-Day War. A group of reserve soldiers are assigned to attack Sharm el Sheikh and break the Egyptian blockade of the Straits of Tiran. Starring Robert Fuller and John Hudson.

THE BEGUILLED — A wounded Union soldier is taken into a girls' school where he is secretly cared for. Clint Eastwood soon finds that life might have been safer out on the battlefield as he struggles to survive the attentions of a collection of de-ranked and potentially deadly females. Also stars Geraldine Page.

EL DORADO — Hired gun John Wayne balks at taking a side in a range war when he discovers he must fight his old friend, Sheriff Bob Mitchum. A gun wound partially paralyzes Wayne and Mitchum turns into a drunk. Thus disabled, they go up against a horde of villains in a blazing and bizarre gun duel.

WUSA — Paul Newman takes a job with radio station WUSA in New Orleans. Its message, directed by the right wing owner, is hate. Newman, in the company of a lady also on the skids, rides the downhill slide with the station to its tragic end at a gigantic rally. Also stars Joanne Woodward, Anthony Perkins and Pat Hingle.

TARZAN'S JUNGLE REBELLION — Tarzan battles a madman's lust for power when a secret, buried for a thousand years, turns the jungle into a savage battleground. You will see Kulu, Lost City of the Dead. The jungle assault by plane and armored car. The massing of the tribes of Africa. The human sacrifice. And more. Starring Ron Ely, Sam Jaffe and William Marshall.

COUNT YORGA, VAMPIRE — Count Yorga conducts a seance to contact people's dead relatives. His customers soon grow wary of the mysterious count as when he is through servicing his patrons, he is quite likely to bite them. Not recommended for children. Starring Robert Quarry and Michael Murphy.

THEY CALL ME MISTER TIBBS! — Virgil Tibbs, the cool black cop of IN THE HEAT OF THE NIGHT matches wits with a master criminal in his native San Francisco. The high voltage drama details actual methods of scientific police work but it's Virgil's hunch that finally solves the crime. (Parents are especially reminded that this film is not considered suitable entertainment for children or young people.) Also starring Martin Landau and Barbara McNair. (Playing at the Jerboa Cinema).

KRAKATOA, EAST OF JAVA — The film vividly recreates the cataclysmic eruption of Krakatoa, the volcano which let loose the most powerful explosion ever recorded on the Earth. A shipful of treasure hunters and prisoners mixes exciting human drama with the catastrophic upheaval of nature. Starring Maximilian Schell, Diana Baker, Brian Keith and Sal Mineo. Children's Matinee, playing at the Jerboa Cinema.

THE SECRET OF SANTA VITORIA — The inhabitants of a small Italian Village match wits with the well disciplined, no-monkey-business minds of Nazi invaders for possession of the town's wine supply. Starring Anthony Quinn, Anna Magnani, Hardy Kruger, Virna Lisi. Playing at the Jerboa Cinema.

BENEATH THE PLANET OF THE APES — A rescue party looking for lost spaceman Charlton Heston drops in on the future world of earth which is ruled by those intelligent apes. Heston's would-be savior is captured, escapes and wanders through the ruined landscape until he finds a society of mutants living amongst the remains of New York City. Also starring James Franciscus, Maurice Evans, Kim Hunter. Playing at the Jerboa Cinema.

THE PRIVATE LIFE OF SHERLOCK HOLMES — Director Billy Wilder blasts the traditional rendering of A. Conan Doyle's tales of the master detective. Sherlock Holmes, a lousy violinist, reluctantly dons his cape and stumbles over some rather obvious clues trying to solve his case. Starring Robert Stephens and Colin Blakely. Playing at the Astra Cinema.

I WONDER IF IT'S WORTH ALL THIS PAIN TO BE THE ONLY GUY IN TOWN WITH A TATOO ON HIS KNEE? — This is just one of the many scenes in which Walter Matthau cuts up in A New Leaf, also starring Elaine May. (Photo Courtesy Paramount Pictures)

Questions About VA

Veterans Receive Loan Benefits

Q — Does VA's loan guaranty of $12,500 or 60 per cent of the loan limit the price I may pay for a home?

A — No. The price you pay is limited only by the amount the lender agrees to lend. But as you suggest, VA will guarantee only 60 per cent of the loan not to exceed $12,500.

Q — I have been training under the G.I. Bill at a vocational school but plan to enter college this fall. What should I do to make sure I receive my educational allowance check promptly after changing schools?

A — You should fill out and submit to VA the Form 21E-1995, available at most schools or any VA office. This form should be submitted to the school before or at the time of enrollment since schools use it to certify enrollment to VA.

Q — I am not eligible for VA pension benefits because of my income, but I recently filed for this benefit for my son, based on his deceased father's World War II service (my second husband). Since I was drawing widow's compensation based on my first husband's death during World War II, I wonder if the compensation I was receiving prior to my second marriage can be reinstated while my son is drawing pension?

A — Yes. A recent law permits a widow who has lost her pension or compensation because of remarriage to have this benefit restored if that marriage ends in death or divorce, provided she is otherwise eligible. Your son's pension would have no bearing on your compensation based on the death of your first husband.

Q — I plan to travel this summer and will not have a mailing address to receive my compensation check. What can I do about this?

A — VA will send your check to your bank for deposit if you submit a VA change of address form or a letter over your signature. You should also obtain two power of attorney forms from VA, one to give your bank as evidence of its right to receive and deposit the checks to your account and the other to be retained by you.

Q — I hear that I won't get any dividends if I convert my term GI insurance to a Modified Life Plan. Is that true?

A — Not true. At present, dividends are being paid on Modified Life policies. They would be smaller than on your present policy, but this should not influence your decision too much. Compare the premium rate for a Modified Life policy at your present age with the rate for a term policy at ages above 50. VA Pamphlet 29-22, which provides comparative details, is available at any VA office or by writing VA.

'What is Prejudice' New Record Deals With Hate

by John G. Freeman
 A recording dealing with three assassinations is now the No. 9 record in the U. S.

Tom Clay, a 41-year-old former disc jockey, produced the recording three months ago while working at radio station KGBS in Los Angeles. He wanted "to make people think."

The recording definitely does make one think. It begins with "What the World Needs Now is Love," a Burt Bacharach tune. The music floats on throughout the song. A man's deep voice questions a little girl on subjects of hatred and bigotry. The girl can only answer the "What is" questions with an innocent "I don't know."

When asked "What is prejudice?" she answers, "I think its when someone's sick."

Sounds of basic training blend in with the music and suddenly voices singing "Has anyone here seen my old friend John . . . ?" Then a radio announcer is speaking from Dallas. President John F. Kennedy has just been assassinated.

The setting is similar for Martin Luther King. "I want to live as any man wants to live . . ." And then we are thrown into a crowded hotel in Los Angeles. "Get that gun—get the gun." Robert Kennedy has just become the third major assassin within five years.

The true sadness and meaning of the recording comes near the end. Ted Kennedy is speaking of his late brother, Bobby, and in a trembling voice he recites one of Robert Kennedy's quotes:

"Some men see things as they are and say why. I dream things that never were and say, why not."

The deep voice again repeats the questions and after being asked "What is prejudice?" the music is silent as the little girl again replies — "I think it's when someone's sick."

Good-bye
 My employment with The Berlin Observer now comes to an end.

During the past two months as author and "critic" of Sound Thinking, I have attempted to express

some of my feelings on the subject of music.

Steering clear of current recordings to avoid falling into a "record review" rut, I commented on various related subjects.

First came a review on Bob Dylan, a self-made genius in the music industry. I then commented on rock concerts in general, explaining a little of what it took to stage such an event.

Being constantly open to comment and/or criticism, I then did a feature on the late Jimi Hendrix. It was after this article that I received my one and only "fan (?) letter." Although not what I had in mind, at least the letter proved that someone reads Sound Thinking.

The "In the Summertime" story was based upon the Mungo Jerry—Golden Earring — Shocking Blue concert held July 9. It was not the most fascinating night but will be remembered as my last Berlin concert.

Alice Cooper and their song "I'm Eighteen" provided the substance for my fifth column, and the importance of music in movies was dealt with in column No. 6. The root of most popular music, The Beatles, was the subject of last week's column.

Sound Thinking will cease for the time being, due to the fact that I am leaving for the University of Missouri to further my photographic and journalistic endeavors. The column will probably be revived in several weeks by a new author.

I bid you a fond farewell, and may you have many pleasant memories in the Divided City.

Pet Registration

It has been reported that several animal biting incidents have occurred lately. Owners should ensure that their animals are neither a nuisance nor a source of unsanitary conditions. The danger of transmission of rabies to a human from a domestic pet is constantly present. Owners are required to have their pets registered within seven days after arrival in the command and annually thereafter. Any incident — bite, scratch, or contamination — should be reported immediately to the U.S. Army Hospital and all possible measures taken to identify and confine the animal.
