H-4/18 Heads B-FSB Off at the Pass

Headquarters Company, 4th Battalion, 18th Infantry captured the Berlin Brigade Flag Football Championship by edging Company B, FSB, 13-12, in Monday's rain-chilled title game at McNair.

The first quarter was a testing grounds for Headquarters' fine running game and B's passing wizardry. Headquarters got their offense moving in sporadic bursts, only to be halted by a fired-up FSB defense at the H-4/18 38-yard line. Capitalizing on the momentum, FSB quarterback Dan Newman surprised the Headquarters defenders with a looping pass to Jim Hansen who streaked 30 yards down the sidelines for the game's first score. The extra point attempt failed and FSB led, 6-0.

Company B was on the move again in the second quarter after halting yet another H-4/18 drive on their 28-yard line on downs. Newman managed to move his charges to the Headquarters five-yard line, but a fourth down pass was expertly broken up by wily H-4/18 defenders.

On the second play from scrimmage, halfback Mike Rounds electrified the small crowd by breaking off tackle and thundering 75 yards for H-4/18's first score. Headquarters quarterback Greg Hildebrand spotted elusive Tom Marschner open for a split second in the end zone, but it was enough for a bullet pass that gave H-4/18 a 7-6 lead.

Both teams were to score again in the final five minutes before the half ended. Company B could get nowhere against the alert H-4/18 defenders, and was forced to punt. A wide awake B defensive backfield snared a Hildebrand pass in the end zone to stop a H-4/18 threat. Starting from their own 20-yard line, Newman's pass to Jim Lewis and a penalty brought the ball to Headquarters' 18-yard line. Newman's elephantine front three finally got to the scrambling Newman, and FSB found itself backed up to the H-4/18 35. On fourth down,

Search Begins for Top Lady In Military Wife of Year Program

The U. S. Army, Berlin Military Wife of the Year program is again underway as the command searches for its representative to the USA-REUR competition.

The winner of the 1972 Military Wife of the Year will be the military wife who best represents the 1 1/2 million wives of the men serving in the U. S. Armed Forces. The program focuses attention on the large-scale voluntary efforts expended by these women in fostering better human relationships around the globe through their involvement and participation in public service programs.

The 1971 title holder is Mrs. Jan Squires, wife of Personnelman First Class Jim Squires, stationed at Lowry AFB, Denver. She became the first Navy and enlisted man's wife to win the honor.

Official nomination forms for the U. S. Army, Berlin Military Wife of the Year may be obtained from the Command Information Office, PAO, USCOB, located in Bldg. 2, Rm. 1122 at Headquarters. The completed forms must be submitted to the same office not later than Dec. 15.

A five-member panel will select the Military Wife of the Year on Dec. 22. That panel will be made up of an officer, NCO and enlisted man's wife as well as a German wife and one other impartial person.

Criteria for nomination include:

- She must be a military wife active not only in past activities but the local community as well;

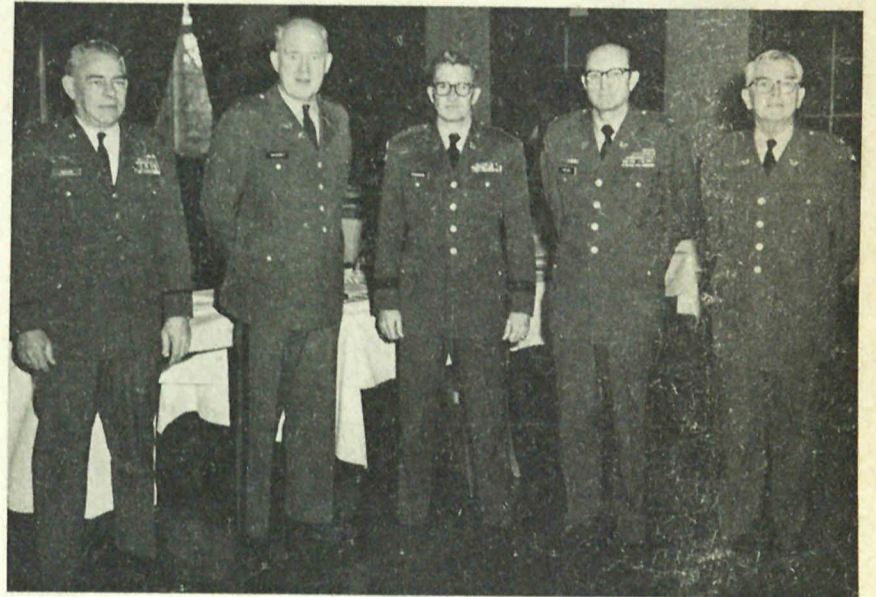

- Her voluntary activities should include programs that further people-to-people relationships and objectives that serve to better mankind;

- She should be poised and articulate and capable of speaking before large audiences to relate her story and that of the military community.

Entries should consist of the official nomination form and a portrait, preferably an 8 x 10 glossy black and white.

Immediately following her selection, the Military Wife of the Year will be taken on a whirlwind tour across the U. S., visiting military installations and major cities. Governors, mayors, celebrities and military and civilian dignitaries will greet her during her reign. Television and radio interviews will be scheduled, as well as press conferences.

For further information, contact the Command Information Office, PAO, USCOB, at 6193.

SJA CONFERENCE — Twenty-seven representatives of USAREUR and USAFE met here last week for the quarterly Staff Judge Advocate Conference. Among those attending were (L.-R.) COL Dwight R. Rowland, USAFE judge advocate; COL Edward W. Haughney, USEUCOM legal adviser; BG Wilton B. Persons, USAREUR and Seventh Army judge advocate; COL Grady Moore, USAREUR chief judge; and COL Harry J. Salisbury, Jr., U. S. Army, Berlin judge advocate. Such topics as military justice, legal assistance, administrative law development and drug abuse were discussed.

In Starting Volunteer Program

Local ACS Chapter Bests Pentagon Mark

What it took the Pentagon 10 years to do, Mrs. Donya Platoff did in a matter of weeks.

Mrs. Platoff is the guiding force behind the formation of the American Community Service (ACS) Volunteer Program, a team of 37 women and one man, who are working to ease the problems of non-command sponsored wives in the Berlin American community.

The ACS is a program that was begun in 1964 after 10 years of the Pentagon trying to sell the idea. The ACS has been in Berlin since that time but it has consisted of only an ACS officer who was in charge of such things as ration cards, flag orders, etc.

This summer Mrs. Platoff and Mrs. Toshi Storer got together and decided to start the volunteer program in Berlin. With the co-operation of Brigadier General Harold I. Hayward, former commanding general, Berlin Brigade, they began laying the foundations for the program.

They were then aided by the addition of Mrs. Gigi Collins, who was also an experienced ACS volunteer.

The main obstacle to overcome in starting the program was to make people aware of what ACS was and what it was trying to do.

"The radio and TV people were marvelous to us," Mrs. Platoff said.

"They gave us extensive coverage and we were able to get some volunteers this way."

Training Problem

Once the volunteers had been rounded up, there was also the problem of training them and of finding office space.

"We started with an ACS handbook and the knowledge of what we had done before," Mrs. Collins explained. "What we emerged with was a composite of the best of each place that the three of us had worked before."

On Aug. 2 the first class of volunteers completed their training and the ACS Volunteer Program became operational in Berlin.

At the present time the program is broken down into four committees — the welcoming committee, the lending closet, the publicity committee and the office committee.

After completing their 12 hours of orientation training, the volunteers then choose which of the committees they would like to work on. They may work on as many committees as they would like and they may work as many hours as they wish.

After their first 50 hours — 12 hours of orientation training and 38 hours of on-the-job training — the volunteers receive their uniform and an ACS pins.

In-Service Training

They then begin their in-service training, which is a continual phase of training to keep them abreast of any changes in the ACS.

"Service guards" may then be earned for working 140 hours in a one-year period.

The largest committee in the ACS is the welcoming committee, which is in charge of making personal visits to new non-command sponsored wives in Berlin. "We want to make the wife know that some one knows that she is here," Mrs. Platoff stated.

The lending closet is a new committee that the ACS has started to give newly-arrived non-command sponsored wives certain household items on loan until all of their household goods arrive from the U. S.

The publicity committee, headed by Mrs. Collins, has the job of making people aware of ACS.

"Publicity is our greatest problem," Mrs. Collins admitted. "Most people have never heard of ACS and we have to soft-sell the idea to them."

The other committee, the office committee, is a referral and information agency that answers questions over the phone or in person. The office also handles PX passes, flag orders, ration cards for retirees and waiting wives, a baby-sitter file, an emergency care service and a installation file on posts throughout the world.

"We hope to branch out as we pick up momentum," Mrs. Platoff said. "We're planning a Big Brother committee for boys whose fathers are out of town or in the field and an Army Cares for its Exceptionals (ACE) program."

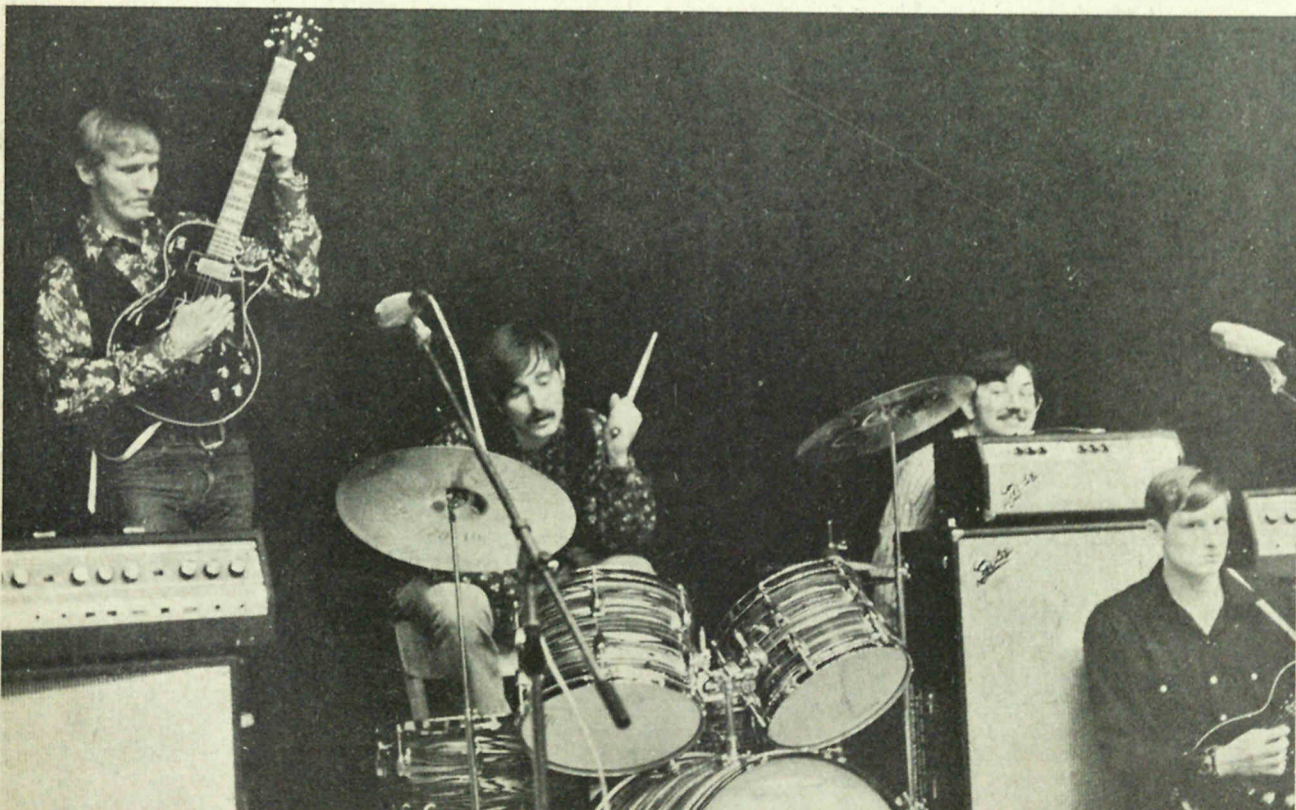

"But the ACS survives on volunteers and the more volunteers we have the more service we can give."

Mrs. Collins agreed.

"New people are coming in droves," she said. "We'd like to get the bulk of our volunteers from these new people. Besides providing a service, this gives people a chance to get out of their cubicle."

The ACS is currently operating out of a three-room office in Bldg. 6-B and is open from 8-5 Monday through Friday. The offices phone numbers are 6585 and 6500.

Anyone interested in helping to continue the work that Mrs. Platoff has done should call the ACS office and volunteer for the next class, which begins sometime in January.

If You Play With Fire...

How many times in your military career, be it two years or 20, have you heard "We have no racial problems here at Fort-Lost-in-the-Wilderness?" From that sort of a situation, you walk into a latrine, and the platitudes encribed there tell another story. You hear comments in the barracks and see proof of the opposite almost everywhere you look. And you wonder who is trying to fool whom around here.

The fact remains that humans are always human, whether you are working in the military or in civilian industry—if you're living in Watts, Shaker Heights or Nantucket, Kan. Racial prejudice is something we have all learned to cope with across America.

Maybe it's because of the way we were raised, or because of a bad experience we once had. Perhaps it is no more than man's basic mistrust and suspicion of other men, and of things that he doesn't understand.

Racial tensions and racial problems are much like a forest fire. Dry timber, weather conditions and so many campers put together in one place, can destroy thousands of acres of timber for many years to come.

The more obvious solutions are to dampen the timber or to reduce the number of campers in the area. But when this cannot be done, a special effort must be made by every camper in the forest. That doesn't necessarily mean that no one can light a match, but that whenever fire is used, it must be administered with extreme caution. It takes the cooperation of everyone.

Think twice. Think twice before you say or do anything that will inevitably cause more harm than good. Think twice about the people in this country, black and white. Think twice about the generations of young people that we are training today, who will lead this country tomorrow. If you think the world is complicated, confusing and in a sorry state of affairs today, compared to 20 years ago, think what it will be 20 years from now.

You are the key to these problems. All the legislation in the world won't help anything if you're not willing to try. If you want to see a world where your children can grow in peace and harmony, then now is the time to act. Now is the time to temper your emotions, to try to understand. Let our courts be the judges of who is guilty of a crime.

If you can't understand, or if you don't want to make the effort, then either get out of the forest or quit playing with matches. America's future is in your hands. (AFPS Editorial by SP5 Kenneth W. Gibney)

AYA Activity Schedule Given

The AYA has announced several upcoming events for both pre-teen and teenage members.

Today at 7 p.m. at the AYA House on Huetttenweg there will be dancing, pool and a number of fun games for all AYA pre-teen members.

Tomorrow the AYA Team Club will hold its first Teen Night at the AYA House beginning at 7 p.m. All AYA teenagers are invited.

The AYA is also looking for qualified personnel to coach boys' basketball. Anyone interested in working with young boys and teaching them the fundamentals of basketball should call the AYA Athletic Office at 6247/6237. Any interested women who would like to coach girls' basketball should call the same number for information.

Housing Hints

The Berlin Brigade Housing Referral Office offers the following hint to personnel living in economy housing: be sure to notify the landlord of any problem areas in the apartment, such as water leaks, broken windows, electrical problems, damaged furniture, etc. In the event you experience language problems with the landlord, call the people at the HRO at 6688. They never hesitate to help.

Command Seeks Foresters To Work in Grunewald

As a part of the U. S. Army, Berlin's "Doing Your Own Thing" program, the command is looking for people who are interested in working with Herr Martin Michaelis, chief of the Grunewald Forest Office, to enhance the ecological effort in the Grunewald. Interested personnel should have experience and background in the field. The program will begin Tuesday.

Anyone desiring to join the program should submit his name to his unit S-3. Participants in the program will be

Haze Drums Out Narrow Win Over The Ghetto in Contest

by PFC John C. Hinds Jr.

It was 40 minutes in coming but it was well worth the wait, for on Sunday night at the All American Service Club at McNair, the judges decided that Haze had made it back.

If you are asking yourself "Made it back where?" allow me to refresh your memory. Last week I reported on the semifinals of the Showband Contest, which was held here over the last several weeks. The nine man black group, The Ghetto, captured the semis but were headed for a Nov. 7 showdown with the group that they defeated, Haze.

Well, what a difference a week makes because last Sunday judges Miss Gisela Berent, Chief Warrant Officer Howard Vivian and Mr. Kai Bloemer decided that Haze had done a little bit better job than The Ghetto and they were declared the winners in the First Annual Special Services Entertainment Showband Contest.

Goin' Home

It is hard to say what won the contest for Haze but inside sources report that it was probably their final tune of the evening — "Goin' Home," a Ten Years After number.

Now that the shouting is all over, Haze will embark on a tour of service clubs, recreation centers and youth centers which will culminate in the All Europe Finals of the Showband Contest to be held in Mannheim on the 27th and 28th of this month.

There will be two groups chosen there out of the eight that will be competing. One of them will tour the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Italy while the second will tour Western Germany.

The groups competing in the All Europe finals will come from Berlin, SHAPE, SEATAF, Hesse, Nordbyern, Sudbyern, Rheinland-Pfalz and Baden Wertenberg.

Hazy Tour

The Haze tour leading up to the finals will start Thursday at the All American Service Club, play the AYA House Friday, Hi-Lite Service Club on the 20th, Sky-Rider Club on the 21st, the German Youth Center an Belzir Strasse on the 23rd, British Summit House the 24th, Helmstedt Detachment the 25th and the finals on the 27th and 28th.

It really looks like a good opportunity for the guys to strut their musical talents and a good opportunity for all of you to see them. I want to wish Haze good luck all the way.

ODDS and ENDS — Tickets are on sale at the PX ticket agency for the Humble Pie-Lee Michaels concert at Deutschlandhalle Monday and the Mothers' concert on the 24th.

Santana, Van Morrison, Fleetwood Mac, Dr. John the Night Tripper, Bloodrock, Yoko Ono, Karen Dalton, The Grateful Dead and The Doors all have new albums out although none of the albums are available yet at the PX.

Osibisa, the new African group with the Santana sound, will be touring southern Germany starting the 24th. They will be at the following locations: Karlsruhe, 24th; Nurenberg, 26th; Munich, 27th; Kaiserslautern and Mannheim, 28th; Hamburg, 30th; and Offenbach, Dec. 1.

In case you are unfamiliar with the group, they are being produced by Mama Concerts of Frankfurt, who ran the Speyer rock concert and destroyed both Deep Purple and Black Sabbath there.

Following their performance there, they were called back for an hour's worth of encores. If you happen to be in the Zone around Thanksgiving time, try to get to see them. It would be well worth your time and money.

Until next week, Peace and Power to the People.

298th Army Band Joins In Concert at Sportpalast

The 298th U. S. Army Band will give its annual band concert at Berlin's Sportpalast Nov. 20 at 8 p.m.

The concert will include bands from the Allied Forces in the Divided City and the Police Trade Union. Also included this year will be a guest police band from Switzerland.

The bands will perform individually and en masse. All bands will be on stage throughout the performance and will number approximately 300 musicians.

Each band will play four scores to illustrate its proficiency and its national music. Each conductor will also conduct one march with the massed bands.

Chief Warrant Officer Howard Vivian, bandmaster of the 298th U. S. Army Band, will conduct "Americans We;" "Dixieland Festival," a tribute to Louis Armstrong; "The Polka King;" "Old Susannah," by Stephen Foster; and a Glenn Miller medley.

In addition, the bandmaster will conduct the Sportpalast Waltz, a traditional score played in the hall.

Tickets are available at the PX ticket agency and cost DM 3.50 for all seats.

Officer Team To Visit Berlin

A team of officers from OPD-DA (Officer Personnel Directorate—Department of the Army) will visit Berlin Dec. 9-10 to present the latest information on officer personnel policies and procedures and to provide career counseling for individual officers in the command.

The team's schedule will be: Dec. 9, 10 a.m.—Team Presentation 1 p.m.—Team Interviews/ Counseling Dec. 10, 8 a.m.—Team Interviews/ Counseling

Additional information will be published when available.

U-Bahn, Buses Provide Easy Route to Berlin's Sites

The following is the sixth in a series concerned with Berlin and its people. — Ed.

by PFC John C. Hinds Jr.
Although I still can't believe it when I hear it, I bet at least once a week someone tells me "Boy, there is just nothing to do here in Berlin, and even if there were it's impossible to get around town."

As an attempt to dispell this rumor, allow me to direct you to 13 of the most interesting spots in the city where on any given day or night you can find something to entertain you.

There are two easy ways to reach any spot in the city, no matter where you live, and they are by the bus and U-Bahn. The Army provides free bus service to and from the caserns and hospital to the main bus terminal at the PX shopping center on Clayallee and from there you can walk to the Oscar-Helene-Heim U-Bahn station or, if you prefer, to any one of four bus stops, namely the 1, 18, 60 or 11.

If you don't want to wait for the Army bus you can catch the 84 bus, which stops in front of Andrews on Finkensteinallee, the 1 bus, which stops on Goerzallee in front of McNair Barracks, or the 53 bus, which stops on Alster Weg behind McNair.

The 13 most interesting spots in the city, as far as I am concerned, and the buses and U-Bahns by which they can be reached are:

- The Philharmonie — 24, 29, 48, 75 and 83 buses;
- The Nationalgalerie — 24, 29, 48, 75 and 83 buses;
- The Kaiser Wilhelm Memorial Church — 19, 23, 29, 54, 55, 60, 62, 66, 69, 73, 90, 92 and 94 buses and the Zoologischer Garten U-Bahn stop;
- The Botanical Gardens — 1, 48, 68, 84, 85 and 86 buses;
- The Funkturm — 4, 10, 65, 66, 92 and 94 buses and the Kaiserdamm or Theodor-Heuss-Platz U-Bahn stop;
- The Dahlem Museum — 1, 10 and 68 buses and the Dahlem-Dorf U-Bahn stop;

● Kongresshalle — 16, 24, 28, 69 and 83 buses;

● Deutschlandhalle — 4, 66 and 69 buses;

● Tempelhof Central Airport — 4, 94 buses and the Olympia-Stadion U-Bahn stop;

● Olympic Stadium — 4, 92 and 94 buses and the Olympiada-Stadion U-Bahn stop;

● The Sportpalast — 19, 48, 50, 75, 83 and 84 buses and the Buelowstrasse U-Bahn stop;

● The French PX and Headquarters — Kurt-Schumacher-Platz U-Bahn stop and the 21 bus (south);

● The British NAAFI Club (shopping center) — Theodor-Heuss-Platz U-Bahn stop.

Now I will explain how to use the system and explain how to get to one spot. Then you can use that system as a guide for travel to the other areas of the city.

As our model I will explain how to get from the Oscar-Helene-Heim U-Bahn stop, which is across the street from U. S. Headquarters, to Theodor-Heuss-Platz, which services the Funkturm, British NAAFI Club, and is a short walk from Deutschlandhalle.

The first thing that you have to know, as I pointed out in an earlier article, is that the name of the line is the end point of particular route. In this case, you would look for the train marked Gleisdreieck. Get on that train and ride it to Sichernstrasse. From there you transfer to the train marked Leopoldplatz and ride it to the Zoologischer Garten. Then you transfer to the train marked Ruhleben and ride it to your stop at Theodor-Heuss-Platz.

As you can see, it is tricky, but not impossible to ride the U-Bahn. All you really have to remember is that the end points of the lines name the routes. Then follow the maps provided on the walls of the U-Bahn cars for your transfer points.

The buses are just as easy as the U-Bahn to ride, but instead of remembering the end points, you have to know where the transfer points are on the various lines. Since there are quite a few buses to the various points of interest and it would be impossible to list all of the various transfer points, let me suggest that you stop by an U-Bahn station, where for one mark you can buy a map of the entire BVG system with all of the lines for both the buses and U-Bahn clearly marked.

In retrospect, I find it easier to ride the U-Bahn and get down to the Oscar-Helene-Heim Station on the free bus service provided by the Army. But the choice is up to you.

Just don't let me hear anyone say that there is nothing to do in Berlin.

H-4/18 Sloshes Past B-FSB in Drizzling Rain... ...As Greg Hildebrand Outduels Dan Newman, 13-12

FLAG GRABBER — A 4/18 defender puts the stops to one of B-FSB's swift receivers in some action from Monday's Berlin Brigade title game. In this second quarter play, the FSB receiver had broken loose from a bevy of tackles before the final step was made just a few feet from the goal line. (Photo by SP4 Clyde A. Wrigley)

ARE YOU SURE THIS ISN'T BASKETBALL? — Time and time again, crafty H-4/18 players were alert enough to scramble FSB quarterback Dan Newman's pass attempts. This one looks like everyone from both sides was in contention for the pass-catching honors. (Photo by SP4 Clyde A. Wrigley)

ONLY IN HORSESHOES AND GRENADES — Some say closeness counts only in horseshoes and grenades, and this shot is a case in point. Had the pass been only inches lower, H-4/18 might have had an interception. As it was, FSB completed the pass and drove for a TD. (Photo by SP4 Clyde A. Wrigley)

COMIN' THROUGH — H-4/18's huge defenders are about to give a rude greeting to a FSB ballcarrier. The Headquarter's big front three allowed little yardage through the line, forcing FSB to go to the air for their scores and move the ball on sustained drives. (Photo by SP4 Clyde A. Wrigley)

Cubs Enjoy 32-14 Homecoming Victory in 1971 Season Finale

It was Berlin American High School's homecoming Saturday, and the Cubs turned the sentiment into a 32-14 blitzkrieg of the Wuerzburg Wolves in the last football game of the season.

Actually, the Wolves didn't know what hit them, as Berlin parlayed a recovered fumble and the passing arm of quarterback Packy Short into a 20-0 halftime lead. After a first quarter fumble recovery on Wuerzburg's 30-yard line, the Cubs swept to the three and Larry Garrels took it in from there for Berlin's first score. The extra point attempt failed.

The Cubs nailed Wuerzburg for two more touchdowns in the second stanza, on pass plays of 17 and 60 yards to Harry Smith and an extra-pointer to Ken Jackson. Defensively, Berlin was fortified by the return of rugged linemen Kevin McLean and Ed Sears to near-normal playing form. It was Garrels' show in the second half, as he ripped off another touchdown on a six-yard slant through the line, and was on the receiving end of a 35-yard Short TD pass a minute into the fourth quarter. The Cubs had the game on ice, and coach George Pepoy made free use of substitutes as the Wolves managed to scrape together two touchdowns.

The Cubs finished the season with a respectable 5-3 record, but injuries to Garrels, Sears, McLean and others put a damper on what could have been an outstanding season. "I think we were beaten, defeated or what have you, by a better team only once this season," said a reflective coach Pepoy. "It's hard to say. We just couldn't get everybody playing together. There's no telling what we could have done if everybody had been healthy."

In a season marked by ups and downs (three straight wins followed by three straight losses and two wins) coach Pepoy tabbed "Nuernberg, Baumholder and Wuerzburg" as being "definitely our best games. The win over Nuernberg was especially pleasing to me because they're a bigger school and a bigger team."

Pepoy singled out guard Mike Howley and Steve Storer, tackle, both sophomores, and junior tackle Mark Oliver as players who pleased him with their development over the season. "If we have these boys back next year, they'll be a big help," he said. "Of course, we're always hurt by rotation—we're losing Ed Sears through rotation back to the States."

Pepoy will have 16 players returning for next year's grid battles, including Short, John Hayes, most of the offensive line, the Colver brothers, Gary Robinson, Pat Clyburn, Jack Hancock, Owen Stephenson and Ray Yarborough.

H-4/18 Captures Flag Football Title

Newman jolted Headquarters again, firing a 35-yard pass to Lewis. The extra point attempt was again no good, but FSB had the lead for the second time, 12-7.

Partisan Headquarters supporters called on their team for a rally with chants of "Go . . . Go . . . Go," and Hildebrand and crew went out of their way to oblige. With less than a minute remaining in the half, Hildebrand passed to David Vite who turned and rifled a perfect pass to Tom Marschner and the result was a 30 yard razzle-dazzle touchdown. They missed the extra point, but walked away 40 seconds later with a 13-12 halftime lead.

Company B tried in vain for a second half comeback, and twice had marches halted by quick-thinking Headquarters defenders, on downs at the H-4/18 eight-yard line and an intercepted pass at the Headquarters 10. Headquarters managed a drive to the B 19, but was held on downs with two minutes remaining. A last-ditch bit of dippy-doodle by Newman brought the ball to the H-4/18 21 yard line with a minute to play, but H-4/18 held and ran out the clock.

Monday's championship game was necessitated by a FSB 14-13 victory in the 22nd playoff game at McNair Friday. It was a double elimination tournament, and as of Friday, H-4/18 had only one loss as did FSB.

In Friday's game, Newman scored on a six-inch keeper in the first quarter, and passed 15 yards to Jim Lewis in the third quarter to boost FSB's victory. An extra points run by Jim Hansen proved to be the final margin of victory, setting up Monday's title contest.

AYA Registrations

Boys AYA basketball registration will start Dec. 6 and run through Dec. 17. Any boys 10 (by Dec. 1) through 16 (cannot turn 17 before April 1, 1972) years of age can sign up in the AYA athletic office.

Girls AYA basketball registration will be held in the AYA athletic office from Dec. 6-17. Any girl between the ages of 13 (by Dec. 1) and 19 is eligible with membership card and proof of age document. For further details, call the Athletic Office, 6247.

Registrations for swimming and wrestling will be held at the AYA Athletic office starting Monday, and running through Nov. 26. Swimming registration is limited to AYA members between the ages of 7 (by July 1) and 19 years. The wrestling program will not be held until an adequate number of boys have signed up.

All boys 12 years and older are invited to register now at the AYA House for the coming ice hockey season. More information will be given when you sign up.

Open Bowling

Andrews Bowling Lanes will open Monday for open bowling from 11 a.m.—1:30 p.m. The lanes will be available for enjoyment Monday—Friday every week.

Andrews Pool Opens

Recently renovated Andrews swimming pool will be open for troop and dependent enjoyment starting tomorrow.

The pool, which has been months in the renovation stage, features an Olympic-sized swimming area, and combination dressing-shower rooms for men and women plus many other unique facilities. Water depth in the pool ranges from 15 feet in the diving area, to a shallow wading pool for children.

There are three diving boards, from three-10 meters high, but the 10-meter board has been closed because of the possibility of an accident by inexperienced divers.

The pool will be open Monday—Thursday, from noon-1 p.m., and 5-9 p.m. Friday's hours are noon-1 p.m., Saturdays from noon-5 p.m., and Sundays and holidays 1-9 p.m.

A Man for All Seasons

by John Pfau

SPOOKY TOOTH, POLLACK & THE BOYS' FINEST HOUR

McNair's gym, silent and nearly empty, still radiated from the glow of excitement that only a Berlin Brigade flag football championship ceremony can generate. After receiving individual championship trophies, a team trophy, cigars and numerous congratulations, most of the members of the champion Headquarters Company, 4th Battalion, 18th Infantry team had filed out. Terry Lamp, Mike Rounds, Joe Seybuck, Gary Stanley and Rich Boitnott remained to exchange quips and comments about H-4/18's finest hour, a 13-12 title victory Monday over Company B, FSB.

Rounds, who scampered 75 yards off tackle for Headquarters' first touchdown, emphasized the quality of opposition that his team had faced all season. "One of the biggest reasons we won the Berlin Brigade championship," he said, "is because we had to play in a rough league. Company B (4-18) from our league came in third in the playoffs. That's pretty good, and gives some indication of the strength in Vanguard Division."

Lamp was in agreement with Rounds and quipped, "Company B, FSB was definitely the best team we've played all season, although Company A, FSB was tough and aggressive, too." Stanley, one of Headquarters' big front three, was tired from chasing Company B's quarterback, Dan Newman. "Newman," he said, "has got to be the best quarterback we've faced all year. He was fast, scrambled a lot and, man, could he THROW that ball!"

"Not only that," chipped in another member of the front three, Joe Seybuck, "but Newman had a number of fine receivers. When they went into a shotgun formation, it seemed that the whole team went out as receivers. It definitely made it harder for pass coverage." Seybuck thought that Company B "had a great front three, too. The man playing the middle for them was really a good ballplayer."

I asked who was responsible for H-4/18's outstanding 10-2 season and 4-1 playoff record. Stanley was quick to answer — "The whole team put out 100 per cent, and we had two real fans in Sergeant Major Ricci and Sergeant First Class Naulty." Boitnott, who hadn't spoken yet, suddenly added, "Yeah, but don't forget that the whole company was behind us, and we had the support of Captain Johnson (Company Commander). We also had a better team because of some guys returning from last year."

They all agreed that Greg "Spooky Tooth" Hildebrand, their outstanding quarterback, and Dave "Pollack" Vite, their pass-catching ace, were offensive sparkplugs all season. Defensively, the front three of Art Adair, Stanley and Seybuck were second to none. Rounds nodded, turned to the rest of the group, and seemed to receive their silent approval when he said that "we all worked hard. Just say that it was a TEAM effort."

They were getting impatient to leave, and started walking away. Seybuck paused by the entrance, walked back and said, "I just want to add one more thing: the extra point was the thing that won it for us, you know. It just goes to show you how important those extra points are."

Lions Take AYA Senior Division Title; Junior League Lead Tied

SENIOR DIVISION

AYA's Senior Division Detroit Lions won a hard-fought 6-0 contest over the Kansas City Chiefs to end the possibility of a three-way tie for first place and captured the League title Saturday.

The teams battled to a 0-0 tie for over three quarters until Greg Swift hauled in a 41-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Russ Parmenter in the waning minutes of the fourth quarter. The game was the final Senior League action of the season.

JUNIOR DIVISION

The Cleveland Browns stayed in a first place tie with the Baltimore Colts, grinding out a 26-12 victory over the New York Jets. Balanced scoring by the Browns saw two touchdowns of one and 11 yards by Mitch Hancock, a 35-yard punt return

TD by Stephan Urich, and a two-yard quarterback sneak by Ken Morris. DeLeon Willis' two-yard touchdown plunge and a 72-yard touchdown return of a punt by Joe Shimek highlighted Jets scoring.

In the other Saturday contest, the Baltimore Colts white-washed the Atlanta Falcons, 19-0. Douglas Kincaid ran for a nine-yard TD, threw a 24-yard touchdown pass to Bill Curry, and scored again on a seven-yard run to lead the way for the Colts. The tough Colts defensive line and backfield were too much for the last place Atlanta team to handle.

Junior League Standings:

	W	L
Browns	6	2
Colts	6	2
Jets	5	3
Falcons	1	7

Hollywood Doctors Up Doctors' Wives for Movie Circuit

DOCTORS' WIVES — The film is based on the Frank G. Slaughter novel about the lives of five physicians running a plush clinic in suburban America. The story reveals the private lives and unabashedly amoral attitudes of the supposedly respectful doctors and their wives. Starring Richard Crenna and Dyan Cannon. Also: Pro Football, Giants vs. Cowboys.

I WALK THE LINE — Gregory Peck is a small town sheriff who gets messed up with a moonshiner's daughter. He hits big trouble with his conflict of interests when Revenue agents crack down on the illicit booze. Songs by Johnny Cash. Not recommended for children. Also stars Tuesday Weld.

CROSSPLOT — An ad executive's new account leads to involvement in an espionage plot. He becomes a target for murder when foreign agents find out he knows of their plan to assassinate a political figure. Starring Roger Moore and Martha Hyer.

ON HER MAJESTY'S SECRET SERVICE — The new James Bond matches wits with super villain Blofeld in this latest 007 adventure. All the spectacle, gadgets, love, intrigue and high pressure action are here in spades as Bond faces his toughest ordeal to date: he must spend a night each with 10 of Blofeld's most lethal ladies. Starring George Lazenby and Diana Rigg.

THE SHOOTING — Jack Nicholson is Billy Spear, the most merciless, violent and cruel hired gun in the West. He takes on a job that winds up as a surreal fight for survival in a parched desert. Also stars Millie Perkins. Also: 1971 College Football Highlights #5.

WINNING — A race driver whose determination to win dominates his life is shattered when he finds his wife having an affair with another man. The story line is well balanced with colorful sequences of track action at Indianapolis and shots of stock and sports car racing. Starring Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Robert Wagner and Clu Gulager.

THE MCKENZIE BREAK — A group of prisoners of war defy their captors and tunnel toward freedom in the tradition of THE GREAT ESCAPE. But this time the prisoners are German U-boat commanders, ruthless and ready to risk everything to get into the last ditch fight to strangle Allied shipping in the Atlantic. Starring Brian Keith and Helmut Griem.

ANNE OF THE THOUSAND DAYS — Richard Burton portrays Henry VIII, who defies the Pope, challenges the Emperor of Spain and destroys a ruling caste in England for the love of Anne Boleyn. Genevieve Bujold is Anne Boleyn, a beautiful lady endowed with intellectual sexiness who keeps Henry waiting for six years for his thousand days with her. Also starring Irene Papas and Anthony Quayle. Playing at the Jerboa Cinema.

Engineers Combat Ready After 24-Day Zone Trip

by SP4 Cecil G. Joubert

The 42nd Engineer Company returned recently from 24 successful days of field training in Grafenwohr, West Germany. The training period ended with the Engineer's successful completion of an Army Training Test (ATT) and resulted in the 42nd Engineer's designation as a Combat Ready Unit. One of the 42nd's most noteworthy achievements was the combat Engineer Vehicle (CEV) gunnery qualification. Both of the Engineer's CEV's qualified with a total of over 1600 points each, out of a possible 1800.

Both crews qualified as "distinguished" on the tough Combat Engineer Vehicle gunnery course. The course, approximately 100 meters long, was broken down into seven exercises worth a total of 900 points, an additional 900 points maximum score on the night fire exercise. Each exercise varies as to the type of target and the distance to the target, and is a test of the crew's proficiency with one of the three CEV weapons: the 7.62-mm coaxial machine gun, the .50 calibre M85 machine gun, or the 165-mm main gun.

The M728 CEV gunnery course is designed to give a realistic evaluation of a gunnery crew's proficiency, utilizing a point-rating system on fire commands, crew duties and techniques of fire. Of course, the majority of the points given for each target is based on a hit on target.

The resulting "distinguished" classification of both crews is indicative of an efficient, well-trained and coordinated team. Both crews had only limited training due to the limitations on firing of larger weapons in Berlin, and four of the eight crew members had only been in the CEV section for two months. Only three of the crew members had ever fired for qualification.

Congratulations are definitely in order for both crews and their section leader, Staff Sergeant John D. Boyd, who attributes their success to team effort and a lot of hard work.

The two Combat Engineer Vehicles and their crews proved their skill again on the ATT, as an armored mobile unit for tactical maneuvers and as a workhorse assisting in various combat construction missions. The professionalism shown by the two CEV crews was without a doubt one of the major factors determining the 42nd Engineer's status as a Combat Ready Unit.

AFN Berlin has begun broadcasting music 24 hours a day on FM, giving the listener a choice of two separate programs around the clock. AM programming is carried at 935 and FM at 87.85 on your dial.

'Merry Widow' Closes Soon; Two Big Pop Concerts Coming

by Judy Pricks

"The Merry Widow" will be leaving Berlin next week. So if you don't want to miss this spectacular production of Lehar's operetta performed on the ice in the Deutschlandhalle, which has been delighting Berliners since Oct. 20, better plan on going either tonight or tomorrow night.

Stars of this glamorous show of the German Ice Theater Berlin are Germany's favorite skating team Hans-Juergen Baeumler and Marika Kilius and Olympic gold medal winner Manfred Schnellendorfer. A number of other skating talents, beautiful girls in extravagant costumes and Lehar's melodies round out the "The Merry Widow." The show begins at 8 p.m. and tickets (DM 6 and up) are available at the box office of the Deutschlandhalle.

If you prefer rough and tough sport on ice, then head for the Sportpalast Wednesday. The Berlin ice hockey team will compete against the team from Cologne. The match is to begin at 8 p.m.

Care for Russian folksongs? Boris Rubashkin and his balalaika ensemble will present two evenings of the music of Old Russia in the Urania Haus tomorrow and Sunday night. Tickets to the 8 p.m. performances are still available.

Two Big Events

The Deutschlandhalle is offering pop fans two big events this month: Monday "Humble Pie" will be the main attraction. Lee Michaels will be on the same program. Then Nov. 24, Frank Zappa's "Mothers of Invention" will surely draw a big crowd to the Deutschlandhalle. The seats will not be numbered and the admission is DM 10. The music is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. on both nights.

Although this afternoon performance (3:30 p.m.) in the Philharmonie is still a whole month away, it is not too early to purchase tickets, since it is sure to sell out quickly. The Sinfonie Orchester Berlin, the children ballet Adrienne Mierau and the ballet soloists Elena Dacian and Marin Stefanescu from the State Opera Bucharest will play and dance "The Dream on Christmas Eve," Dec. 12.

The program will be made up of excerpts from Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker" and "Sleeping Beauty" ballets and Humperdinck's "Haensel und Gretel." This combination of music and dance is set in the afternoon so that youngsters can also be in the audience.

Visit to Charlottenburg

An excursion out to the Charlottenburg Castle is always worth it, since not only the castle can be visited, but also a number of museums located there. Berlin's museum visitors are currently streaming to a special display in the Arts and Crafts Museum (in the Knobelsdorff wing of the castle) of jewelry from the Jewelry Museum in Pforzheim.

The dazzling exhibit ranges from pieces dating back to 2000 years before Christ and going right up to the most modern pieces of jewelry designers of the 20th century.

The pleasure of viewing these riches is free of charge from 10 a.m.—5 p.m. daily, except Tuesday when the museum is closed. The display is on the second floor of the building and signs point the way through the treasures of the arts and crafts of the regular exhibit.

If your time still permits it, take a walk through the lovely garden of the castle to the charming little Belvedere Castle in the rear of the park (follow the walk next to the Spree River which will lead you right to it). The Belvedere, which was built by King Frederick Wilhelm II, was destroyed almost completely in 1945 and reconstructed in the 1950's.

This summer the 18th century building was opened to the public again. It now houses one of the most impressive collections of porcelain of this city.

The over-500 pieces now on display on the three floors of the Belvedere date from the end of the 18th to the beginning of the 19th century and give an impression of the founding years of the Berlin Porcelain Manufactory, which still produces pieces from the same patterns today. The opening hours here are the same as those of the Arts and Crafts Museum. There is an admission fee of 70 pfennigs.

IN APPRECIATION — MG William W. Cobb, U. S. Commander, Berlin, and MAJ Carolyn H. Cain, chief of Personnel Services Branch, G-1, happily accept calendars given to them by local scouts in appreciation of their interest and help in Girl Scouting in Berlin. Presenting the calendars are (L.-R.) Heidi Cogan, a Junior Scout from Troop 629; Vivian Martinez, a Cadette Scout; and April Menzies, of Brownie Troop 386. The presentation inaugurated the Girl Scouts' calendar sale, their chief fund raising activity, which will continue until all the calendars are sold. (Photo by SP4 Clyde A. Wrigley)
