Combined Federal Campaign Let's 'Get Involved - - For Good'

The theme for the 1971 Overseas Combined Federal Campaign, which begins February 15th and continues through March 31st, is "Get Involved—For Good."

During this year's campaign, 24 voluntary, non-profit, public service agencies seek your support—your involvement—in aiding more than 75 million people throughout the world, including you and your family.

The agencies who need your support to continue their vital work are the ten International Service Agencies, the thirteen National Health Agencies, and the American Red Cross.

Secretary of Defense Laird has given his full endorsement to the campaign. "The Overseas Combined Federal Campaign is the one opportunity we have during the year," Secretary Laird said, "to get actively involved and contribute towards boosting military morale and welfare at home and overseas, to promote better national health conditions, research and rehabilitation, and to strengthen international assistance and world friendship through voluntary care of the sick, the hungry and the needy."

The overall goal of the Overseas Combined Federal Campaign is $1,550,000.

"The need," Secretary Laird said, "has never been greater. The 24 agencies within the Overseas Combined Federal Campaign cannot carry on their services for the betterment of mankind without your personal involvement. I urge all personnel to give serious thought to the work and the goals of the agencies and how your active participation will help all of us."

Contributions to the campaign can be made directly or through payroll deductions—pledge now and pay later. Payroll deductions spread your contribution over a six month period beginning July 1.

All contributors have the right to designate their gifts to agencies of their choice.

Undesignated contributions are divided among the three participating groups on a formula agreed upon by them and fully described in campaign literature.

Ten International Service Agencies provide relief, rehabilitation and self-help projects for people the world over. You also benefit through welfare, recreation and social health programs in the States and overseas.

The thirteen National Health Agencies provide important medical research and broad programs of professional and public education. They carry on extensive community services offering patient care and rehabilitation to help combat disease and crippling disabilities. Through the American Red Cross a wide variety of services is available to you and your family and to all U. S. servicemen and women. In addition the Red Cross brings relief to disaster victims, offers aid, home nursing and water safety, and its blood program saves countless lives.

The Berlin Campaign for 1971, headed by Major William E. Bush, Jr., and assisted by Second Lieutenant Stephen A. Ordahl, will reach the various American units by the use of selected "key" individuals, who will be available to answer any and all questions. Make sure you get all the information available, and then "Get Involved — For Good."

Bad Checks Could Mean Bad Times Ahead

Over the past months the number of bad checks that have been cashed at the PX, Commissary, American Express, clubs and other nonappropriated fund activities has increased tremendously.

In the month of December 1970, for example, the PX had returned 35 checks totalling $879.88, the Commissary had 22 checks totalling $328.55 and the American Express had 547 checks returned totalling $23,400.13.

Thus in only one month, members of this command wrote more than 600 bad checks totaling almost $25,000.00. These figures do not include returned checks made out to the clubs.

Writing bad checks can and will result in a loss of check cashing privileges in Berlin. But more than this, the military offender can be punished by court-martial.

If you write a check which bounces and do not make the check good within five days of notification you can, on this alone, be found guilty of writing a check without sufficient funds in violation of Article 123a, UCMJ. This conviction, besides being on your records for life as a Federal Court conviction, could cost you a lot of time and could result in a punitive discharge from the Army.

If your check was for $50.00 or less you could receive as much as a Bad Conduct Discharge, confinement at hard labor for six months, reduction to E-1 and total forfeiture of all pay and allowances for six months. If you wrote a bad check for $100.00 or less but more than $50.00 you could receive a sentence of a Bad Conduct Discharge, confinement at hard labor for one year, reduction to E-1 and total forfeiture of all pay and allowances for one year.

Should your bad check be for more than $100.00 you could get a maximum sentence of a Dishonorable Discharge, confinement at hard labor for five years, reduction to E-1 and total forfeiture of all pay and allowances for five years.

It is also an offense punishable under Article 134 of the UCMJ to write a check which bounces — regardless of the fact you make it good as soon as you discover it. The maximum sentence is less than for one who fails to make the check good within five days but you could receive, just for writing a check which is returned due to insufficient funds, a Bad Conduct Discharge, confinement at hard labor for six months, reduction to E-1 and forfeiture of all pay and allowances for six months.

This information is not furnished as a threat but rather to inform you of the possible consequences of writing a bad check. Failure to properly keep your checkbook balanced so that you know how much money you have in your account can, regardless of your intentions, result in loss of check cashing privileges in Berlin, substantial embarrassment and serious jeopardy to your future, your family and your career, not to mention the loss of the benefits that military men and women receive both inside and outside of the service.

Provost Marshal Reminds Sightseers

The Provost Marshal's office, in an attempt to clarify an already existing but little known regulation, is reminding U. S. military and civilian personnel and their dependents that access to the area of the Soviet War Memorial and the Brandenburg Gate is authorized, but under certain circumstances.

The regulation concerned is Public Safety Memo 012, issued by the British Provost Marshal's office. (Since the Allied areas adjacent to Brandenburg Gate and the Soviet War Memorial are located in the British Sector of Berlin, jurisdiction rests with the British authorities.) Under Category A of the memo, Allied force personnel and their dependents are authorized to tour the area of both monuments either on foot or in a privately owned vehicle.

Whichever method is employed, it is imperative that visitors have with them their U. S. Government identification cards. There has been an increasing number of U. S. personnel in the area of the monuments without proper identification, resulting on occasion in misunderstandings with either the German or British Military Police.

If visits are made on foot, personnel must remain behind the erected barricades.

If, however, visitors in POVs wish to enter the black top area in front of the War Memorial they may do so, provided they have been cleared by the German authorities present. Any difficulties can be quickly rectified by contacting a representative of the British Military Police in the duty room directly behind the War Memorial on Schneidemannstrasse.

Allied personnel may also disregard the no parking signs in the black top area and may stop and take pictures if they desire, provided such picture taking is accomplished quickly and without unnecessary delay.

'Work Experience' Means Practical Experience

by John Freeman

As the students of Berlin American High School move into the final semester of the year, those involved in the "co-operative work experience" program can reflect upon the knowledge and practical experience that they've learned in the previous semester.

The program, in its second year at the high school, strives to acquaint interested students with job experience in the "outside world." At the present, these jobs range from AFTV to the Hospital to American Express.

At the U. S. Army Hospital, Berlin, there are approximately 15 students learning various occupations.

Two of these are under Captain Robert Usry's supervision, and work in the laboratory. Linda Thorpe performs determinations in such sections as parasitology, serology, urinalysis, chemistry and hematology. After experiencing these forms of lab work, Linda has decided to become a medical technologist. Because of the "on-the-job" training that is available at the hospital through the "work-experience" program, Linda will be rotated throughout the laboratory to observe and learn as many analyses as possible before her graduation this June. Not only has she increased her own knowledge, but Linda has also been of great assistance to the Pathology Service for performing many necessary and time-consuming procedures.

Another student in the Pathology Service is Mike D'Andrea. He has learned to perform many biochemical and serological procedures in the field of bacteriology. These tasks include identifying bacteria that are harmful to the human body, and assisting in the detection and identification of bacteria found in food and drinking water. Mike is now considering majoring in bacteriology in college.

In the X-Ray Department is David Fenrich, a Junior. He assists personnel in the darkroom area with the processing of X-Ray film and also helps with general patient care. David's supervisor, Sergeant Jack Brooks, feels that he has done an excellent job so far, and has been a definite asset to the X-Ray Department.

Mrs. Judy Belt, the work-experience co-ordinator at the high school, is confident that this year's program is a success. Many students have discovered trades that they'd like to further pursue in college, and some have been found possible employment upon graduation.

Driving While Intoxicated; Don't Let It Happen To You

WASHINGTON (AFPS) — You remember Sam Jones. A real nice kid with a ready smile and an easy-going coolness. On the flight line he worked hard and off the line he played hard, too. Sam lived life to the fullest . . . right up to the end.

The accident citation listed DWI—Driving While Intoxicated—as the causative factor. Sam, the nice kid with the full smile and full life to live, died after leaving a party only ten minutes from the base.

The DWI rate is increasing. A recent study shows that the most vulnerable person is in the 22-25 age group. He is usually an NCO, E-3 or E-4. And he is literally killing himself right before our eyes.

Civilian courts are fining DWI's more money. Average fines have risen from $117 to $128 in the last three years. Sam, however, paid the ultimate penalty.

One set of statistics from an Air Force base in the South points out that the nonjudicial punishment meted out by the military is more meaningful to the offender. Additional punishment can't be imposed under Article 15 or court-martial for offenses for which a civilian court has imposed punishment. On the other hand, administrative actions—letters of reprimand, assessment of points leading to restriction of on-base driving privileges, control roster action—can be taken.

Many military commanders believe that civilian punishment just isn't enough because it doesn't provide an adequate deterrent. In the sample study it was found that of 32 military DWI convictions in the first six months of 1970, 11 previous arrests had been made for the same offense.

The military can note that a man is a "high risk" if he has recurring offenses. Take Sergeant Jones. He had two previous DWI citations. He got off easy with no military action, not even a letter of reprimand. His supervisor knew the problem. So did the squadron commander. Neither took any steps to help Sam Jones stay alive. Sam was a nice guy. Why pester him over a few small incidents?

Sam's friends knew how Sam drove after a few drinks. They didn't attempt to stop him when he left the party with his girl. One buddy had been with him the last time he was stopped and cited DWI. But the "buddy system" is old-fashioned. Like Sam, it died.

By the way, Sam didn't take the last ride alone. He chauffeured his girl friend to her grave as well.

AND AWAY WE GO-GO. A dancer works it out to the beat of the band, all to and for the benefit of the audience at the Harnack House. The up-beat entertainment is only part of the new face of the Officer and Civilian's Open Mess.

Guardians Hold Honor Ceremony

by PFC Larry Maloney

"Attention to Orders!" was the call that got the awards ceremony of last Thursday under way. The ceremony honored three men of the Guardian Battalion for outstanding performances in various fields of endeavor.

The first order of business was the presentation of the Army Commendation Medal (First Oak Leaf Cluster) to Platoon Sergeant Walter E. Irvin. The citation reads, in part; "for meritorious service while assigned as Drill Sergeant, Headquarters and Headquarters Company, First Battalion, First BCT Brigade, Fort Ord, California from 10 February, 1970 to 9 October, 1970."

The citation goes on to credit Sergeant Irvin's drive and determination for his platoon attaining the highest scores in the five major areas of basic combat training.

They competed with four other platoons in basic rifle marksmanship, grenades, physical combat proficiency tests, graded tests and barracks inspections. Not only did Sergeant Irvin lead his platoon to first place in all of these aspects of training, but his platoon's overall standing at the end of the cycle was 100 points higher than the next highest platoon. He accomplished this for two cycles in succession.

Dental Diagnosis

Dental Health - - Certainly Not A Fad

by Major Sam R. McCuskey, Jr., DC

The new trend toward oral health showed a marked growth and maturity during the observance of National Dental Health Week in our Berlin school system.

Participation by the personnel of our Berlin American community in the promotion of better oral health knowledge and the practice of recognized successful oral health procedures constituted very productive results from our local dental observance.

During my participation in the program, I became aware of several startling revelations that I had not previously been aware of.

First of all, I found that the concept that most dental diseases of the teeth and gum bone can be prevented was as well understood by the vast majority of children as well as adults.

Secondly, I discovered that the concept of learning and development of practical oral health habits is superior to the traditional routes of "Symptomatic Dentistry" (i. e. the treatment of oral disorders instead of the concentration on the prevention of these disorders) has been established as a scientific fact.

I also realized to what extent the concept of the conservation and preservation of our natural oral health resources and the control and/or management of disease producing-polluting factors or conditions being the multi and varied concern and responsibility of all people is gaining wide acceptance.

Therefore, the dentist's role as an oral health educator, rather than a

PLATOON SERGEANT WALTER E. IRVIN directs the First Platoon of Company A, of the Guardian Battalion, something that comes easy to him. Sergeant Irvin received the Army Commendation Medal for outstanding performance as a Drill Sergeant for basic trainees at Ford Ord, California. Photo by PFC Maloney

As I am sure that all of you in the Armed Forces can remember that eight week introduction to the military, you can also appreciate the monumental task of motivating trainees to such a high standard of performance as did Platoon Sergeant Walter E. Irvin. Indeed a well deserved award. Platoon Sergeant Irvin's reaction to all this? "I had a lot of good material to work with. I treated them like men and they acted the same . . . I was a little surprised and very honored to receive the award."

The next award to be presented was a check for $25.00 and a seven day pass, given to Specialist Four John Mischko of Headquarters Company, for coming out on top in the "Driver of the Quarter" competition. The test was of three parts; written, Road test and CMMI inspection of each contestant's vehicle.

Specialist Mischko scored an overall total of 99% in the three categories, narrowly defeating the first and second runners up; Specialist Four Louis Cisar, Company C, 3rd Battalion, 6th Infantry, and Specialist Four Lance Remson of Company C, 4th Battalion, 18th Infantry who scored 98% and 97% respectively.

In addition to his "Driver of the Quarter" laudits, Specialist Mischko received two 100% on CMMI roadside spot checks in the past three months. When asked what he thought his chances were before the test, John said: "I had as good a chance as anybody — I did my best, that's all I could do."

What is he going to do with the prizes? "I'll probably buy a car in the Spring and take the $25.00 and the seven days and just go!"

For the final award of the day, Specialist Four James H. Clark, also of the Guardian Battalion, discovered that Incentive Awards Committee really does pay off for good suggestions. Specialist Clark was awarded $40.00 for his suggestion to improve the safety of the motor pool.

His financially beneficial idea was to paint the floor and steps of the grease pits with a grainy-based paint. This paint effectively reduces the slippery conditions in and around the grease pits and decreases the chance of injury, by accident, to all mechanics and drivers. The idea came to him, says Clark, when "I was just washing the pit and had my hands full, when I slipped and fell. It was then I got the idea. I didn't really think I'd get any money for it." Who says "grime" doesn't pay.

by PFC Larry Maloney

Turning toward the second half of February and the first part of March, the Guardian Battalion's interests turn to preparing for the Adjutant General's Inspection and the semi-annual trip to the Major Training Area in West Germany. In the midst of all this preparation, the Second Battalion, Sixth Infantry has received quite a few replacements to fill their ranks somewhat depleted by separations and reassignments.

The newest men in Headquarters Company include: Sergeant First Class John E. Prioleau, from Fort Lee, Virginia, Specialists Four John F. Skinnington and Warren C. Stevall, and Staff Sergeant James A. Robben from the twenty-first Replacement Center. Also new in Headquarters Company are Specialists Four Joe C. Galloway and Russell P. Jones, Privates First Class Louis R. Anderson, and Ronald W. Fujioka.

Among those leaving the Battalion last week is Specialist Five Bruce J. Parker, who is wandering the streets of Manhattan right about now, looking for a job. Two others who left Headquarters Company for separation are Sergeants Edward Veselich and Jimmy Zolezzi. Again, from Headquarters Company, James L. Angle was promoted to Specialist Four, while Wendell L. Vereen and John W. Shmanda were lifted to Specialist Five and Joe L. Burden received his Sergeant stripes.

In Company A, there are two new Sergeants; John C. Thomson and David Alexander. Private Joseph H. Thimes, Specialist Four Kenneth V. Willey, and Private Kenneth Riddleston are some of the recruits of Company A.

Army Apothecaries Always Alert, Represent the Best in the Land

The U. S. Army Hospital, Berlin has on its staff two young pharmacists with interesting but different backgrounds.

Specialist Five Clair Inkley of Randolph, New York, and Specialist Four Dennis Rajchel of Milwaukee have one thing in common — they're both Army pharmacists. But there the similarity ends. The path each took to become an apothecary is remarkably dissimilar from that of the other.

Specialist Inkley is a registered pharmacist and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Pharmacy from the University of Buffalo (New York). Specialist Rajchel, on the other hand, was unable to complete his formal training before entering the military and became a pharmacist after completing 18 weeks of Advanced Individual Training at the Brooke Medical Center, Ft. Sam Houston, Texas.

"The training at Brooke wasn't nearly as complete or as in-depth as it is in a university," says Rajchel, who spent two years at the University of Wisconsin School of Pharmacy. "We were taught what we had to know and sometimes the instruction got pretty involved, particularly concerning subjects like organic chemistry."

After completing college, Specialist Inkley passed the New York state boards, finished his internship and became a licensed pharmacist of the state of New York. He then enlisted for Pharmacy and completed Basic Combat Training, spent ten weeks training as a medic at Ft. Sam Houston and was assigned to Ft. Stewart, Georgia for six months before coming to Berlin. While in Georgia, Specialist Inkley spent his free hours working as a civilian pharmacist in a neighboring town.

Specialist Rajchel's first military assignment was at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, D. C., where he worked in the pharmacy.

"The work at Walter Reed was quite a bit different than it is here," says Rajchel. "There I did mostly hospital work, preparing medications for the wards. Here most of the work is for out-patients."

The "work" which Specialist Rajchel mentioned includes the preparation of more than 300 prescriptions daily.

"Although we keep busy with out-patient prescriptions, they are of a limited type," says Specialist Inkley. "For instance, we don't do much in the way of preparing geriatric-type medications, which is understandable in this command."

According to Captain W. Rex Parker, chief of pharmacy services at the hospital, Army pharmacists, military trained as well as registered, exhibit an extremely high degree of professionalism. "During five years of pharmacy experience in the Army, I have found that the quality of Army trained pharmacists is second to none. As far as concerns registered pharmacists, the Army is particularly choosy and takes only the highest caliber of people."

'White Goods' Sale Scheduled

EES plans to stage what promises to be quite some White Goods event in Berlin starting February 13th, according to an announcement just released.

Slated to run through February 28, the event is not a markdown of onhand or shopworn merchandise. Rather it is the result of a special procurement to the tune of some $300,000.

Since the large order was negotiated at a substantially reduced price, the savings are being passed along to the customer in the form of prices well below what one could expect to pay even at EES.

Bedsprads, comforters, pillows, pillowcases, shower curtains, bath mats, bathroom carpeting, towels, aprons and much more will be included for this special event.

Naturally the term "white goods" is just a catch-all, since even a peacock would feel drab beside the colorful array ticketed for this special event.

Carbon Monoxide Can Be A Killer

by SFC Vern F. Kardell

A parked car with the motor running, a closed garage, or a leaky exhaust could cause your death. Carbon monoxide kills.

Each winter many deaths are caused by carbon monoxide poisoning due to running auto motors in closed buildings or from leaky exhaust systems. In addition, no one knows how many auto accidents are caused by drivers who are slightly groggy from monoxide poisoning.

Carbon monoxide is a silent killer. It is odorless and tasteless. You won't know it is there until you get dizzy and feel faint.

As carbon monoxide saturation increases, you may feel nauseated and become weak. Your heart may begin to flutter and throb and you might lose consciousness and die.

Carbon monoxide kills by causing oxygen starvation in body tissues. When carbon monoxide unites with red blood cells, they do not absorb oxygen. The cells which normally provide tissues with life-giving oxygen cannot do so. The tissues starve and die. Even if the victim is rescued at the last moment, oxygen starvation may cause irreparable damage to the brain and nervous system.

Have your car exhaust and muffler systems checked for leaks and never run an auto engine in a closed building or while you are sitting in a parked car. You may endanger your life and your passenger's.

Get To Know the Little White Pill

A 113-year old pill holds the uncontested record as the world's most popular and useful drug.

That pill is aspirin, and, according to the American Medical Association, Americans swallow more than 16 billion of these little white tablets every year.

Since aspirin is such an important and common item, it's worth your time to learn a few facts about its use. Here are some tips from the National Safety Council:

- Most family doctors think it's safe to take an aspirin or two to relieve headaches, cramps or minor aches. But if the dosage has to be repeated several times a day for several days, the doctor should be called.

- Never take an aspirin to reduce fever without consulting your doctor. By doing so you may be masking disease symptoms.

- Since aspirin deteriorates in the bottle, don't buy more than a two-or-three-months' supply. If the tablets in your aspirin bottle have a vinegary smell or crumble in your hands, throw them out.

- Aspirin's greatest danger is its familiarity. There are probably very few medicine cabinets that don't contain a bottle of aspirin. Make sure you keep it well out of the reach of curious, cabinet-exploring young children. Aspirin in large doses can be fatal. (AFPS)

Special Troops

Congratulations to the Headquarters Company basketball team for capturing the Special Troops League basketball championship during the past week. The fine Headquarters team posted a near unblemished record in league play by recording a final 11-1 won-lost mark. Members of the Headquarters basketball are Sergeant Frank Butler, Specialist Five Edward Bolling, Specialists Four John Harris, Tommie Ford, Elmer Taylor, Francis Del Monaco, and Privates First Class Keith Nelson, Thomas Hughes, and Thomas Maguire.

In a special ceremony held at Headquarters, Special Troops, Lieutenants Gena W. Cheney and Edmund J. Toother were promoted to the rank of First Lieutenant. Pinning the First Lieutenant bars on them were Lieutenant Colonel Thomas P. McCarthy Jr., commanding officer of Special Troops, and Lieutenant Colonel Matthew J. Mejasich, provost marshal, Berlin Brigade.

Planz Paces Cubs To Ninth Win

by John Freeman

The Berlin American High School Cubs rolled over the Wurzburg Wolves here last weekend, defeating them in two basketball games with scores of 54-43 and 61-48. The two Berlin victories moved the Cubs into first place and set the Wolves back with an 8-2 record.

In Friday evening's game in the high school gymnasium, first quarter scoring was fairly even with the Cubs netting nine points and the Wolves eight. Second quarter scoring increased as both teams discovered their opponents' weaknesses, and the Cubs' 17 points pulled them ahead to gain a half-time lead of 26-22. With more fine passing by Dave Howard and Dan Sinnard, the Cubs ended the third quarter still out in front, 36-29. Scoring a strong 14 points in the fourth quarter was all the Cubs needed for their victory as they left the boards ahead 54-43.

On Saturday afternoon, both teams faced each other with an 8-1 record, and the first quarter ended with the Cubs leading 16-14. The towering Wurzburg team could not penetrate the Berlin defense in the second quarter, as the Cubs outscored them 18-6 to lead 34-20 at the half. The Wolves sank 13 points to the Cubs' 10 in the third quarter, but still trailed behind the Cubs, 44-33. Wrapping up the game with another 17 points, Berlin won the hightempered contest with a final score of 61-48, and emerged with a 9-1 record in the Red Division.

Describing the games, Berlin Coach Byron Smith remarked that these wins were his most significant victories in all his years of coaching.

High scores in Friday's game were 6'3" Bill Planz with 21 points and Ron Holt with 14. Planz also led Saturday's scoring with 21 points, with Holt chalking up another 14, and Ed Sears adding 11.

In Junior Varsity action, the Berlin JV stomped the Wurzburg JV with winning scores of 74-46 and 54-24. Pat Clyburn was the Berlin hot-hand in both games, netting 28 points on Friday evening and 18 during Saturday's game.

The league-leading BAHS Cubs tangle with the Bad Kreuznach Bearcats tonight at 7:30 in the high school gymnasium.

BAHS Wrestlers Return With Four Medals

by John Freeman

The BAHS Wrestling team returned with four medals from the Northern Regionals held at Bitburg last weekend. The four other Class B schools competing in the large meet were Baumholder, Bad Kreuznach, Bitburg and Zweibrücken, with the Class A schools represented by Kaiserslautern, Frankfurt and Wiesbaden.

In the 137-pound weight class, Berlin's Larry Garrels won matches to bring him into the final elimination, and then drove on to defeat his opponent with a 3-2 decision for a first place win. Pascal Sherrod, who had been undefeated, was upset by Axel Borg of Kaiserslautern and was forced to take second place in the unlimited category. Berlin's Ralph Ryan was victorious for the third place win in the 123 pound weight class. The only other Berlin Medal winner was Packy Short, who took fourth place in the 130 pound category.

Sports Center Hosts Mueller

Beginning on February 13 and 14, the personnel of the German National Bowling Team will begin training at the Berlin Sports Center Lanes at 2:00 p.m. This training is in preparation for the World Championships which this year will be held in Milwaukee, Wisconsin during the month of August 1971.

This training is essential and also a part of the German-American friendship program. Future dates for training will be posted and announced as the schedule is completed. These bowlers are the best in Germany, so if you enjoy seeing bowling at its best come down to the Sports Center Lanes and watch these people in action.

The German contingent consists of three mens teams and one womans team.

Among its members is well known local bowler Klaus Mueller, who won the World Cup Championship that was held in Copenhagen, Denmark as he defeated the best bowlers from countries all over the world. Mueller is presently averaging above 200 on the bowling lanes. Mueller defeated Henry Tan of Singapore in the final three game rolloff following 51 qualifying games, for the championship. Mueller was a member of the 1967 West German team which competed in the FLQ World Championships, but he failed to qualify in 1969 for the European event. At age 33, Mueller boosted his average to 201 and came charging from the pack for his historic meeting with Tan.

Another notable member of this fine team is Jurgen Kunast, another Berliner who last year won local championships and earned a chance to go to Tokyo for the World Cup Championship where he ended up placing seventh.

At a later date, American all star teams (both men and women) will be selected by the Berlin City Bowling Association to compete against the German National Team. Dates and times of these coming events will be posted at the Bowling Center and will be announced over AFTV.

Girls Break Boards at Karate Exhibition

Special Services sponsored a karate demonstration and power contest last Friday at the All American Service Club, McNair Barracks. The evening opened with a demonstration put on by the karate students of the McNair Karate Club. The chief instructor of the Karate Club, Chuck Heintz narrated the demonstration and the board breaking contest which followed. Before the contest, Floyd Brothers, MOS Librarian for Berlin Brigade, gave a demonstration on Kata.

Kata is a one man series of attacks and defenses. Floyd also gave a sparring demonstration with Wolfgang Schmidt, who is an instructor for the Karate Club. Both Chuck and Floyd have their first Degree Black Belts in judo and karate. With the expert counseling from these two men, the demonstration was very successful.

Nine trophies were awarded in three board breaking categories which included female participants among the many members of the audience that competed. This contest was judged according to ones ability to break the most boards with their fists or the edge of their hand.

In Japanese, the word karate means empty hand. This ancient art was developed in old China and has since spread throughout the Orient and other countries. At the beginning of this century, the Japanese took this ancient art and modernized it into the belt system which is popular today.

Individuals interested in taking karate should contact Mr. Heintz at

'Airport' Comes To the Screen -- Drama, Suspense, Host of Stars

AIRPORT — An international airport in the midwest is suffering a crippling blizzard. A jetliner blocks a vital runway while another circles uncertainly above, the victim of a bomb explosion. All the excitement and drama of Arthur Hailey's best selling novel is captured in this story of seven very tough hours in the lives of the people who must keep 'em flying. Starring Burt Lancaster, Dean Martin, Jean Seberg and George Kennedy.

COOGAN'S BLUFF — A tough Arizona lawman stalks the concrete canyons of New York City in search of an escaped killer. Steely-eyed Clint Eastwood finds hunting in the big city is at least as dangerous as on the plains but manages to get his man nevertheless. Also stars Lee J. Cobb and Betty Field.

FRANKENSTEIN MUST BE DESTROYED — The good Dr. Frankenstein runs amuck with the transplanted brain of a madman. The strangest transplant ever is done in the place where life stops and the dead are brought back to screeching life. Starring Peter Cushing, Veronica Carlson and Simon Ward.

THE MOONSHINE WAR — THE MOONSHINE WAR is waged in the hills of Kentucky and Tennessee with the revenue agents and the moonshiners fighting over stills of homemade liquor. Parents are reminded that this film is not considered suitable entertainment for children. Starring Patrick McGouhan, Richard Widmark and Alan Alda.

HOW TO COMMIT MARRIAGE — When Bob Hope's teenage daughter announces her engagement to Jackie Gleason's son, Bob postpones his divorce until after the children are happily married. The kids get wind of their folk's plans and launch an offensive that gets the two old pros of comedy off and running. Also stars Jane Wyman.

DUFFY — James Coburn, an American living in Tangers, is happily devoted to chicks and chicanery. He takes on the organizing of a multi-million dollar heist. Duffy's interest is provoked less by his share of the loot than by the allure of the girls and fun involved. Also starring James Mason and Susannah York.

DAY OF ANGER — Bad man Lee Van Cleef finds a protege in the form of a young orphaned boy. The youngster quickly learns the tricks of the gunfighting trade but turns on his teacher when he discovers the shooting business is not to his liking. Also starring Giuliano Gemma.

THE FANTASTIC PLASTIC MACHINE — THE FANTASTIC PLASTIC MACHINE is a beautiful film about the world's top surfers set against the marvels of the South Pacific islands of Hawaii, Fiji, New Zealand and Australia. Starring Nat Young, Bob McTavish and Champion World Surfers.

THE BALLAD OF CABLE HOGUE — Grizzled prospector Cable Hogue is left in the desert to die by his two partners. There he discovers water, promotes a way station for the stage line, and begins to prosper. Cable's desert business features antics by a rogue preacher, local color by the girl from a nearby bordello, and owl's eye soup. Starring Jason Robards, Stella Stevens, David Warner and Slim Pickens.

EYE OF THE CAT — Whim and circumstance plus the evil designs of a warped young lady add up to ruin for Michael Sarrazin. Basically a good guy, Sarrazin winds up an unwilling accomplice to a bizarre murder. Also starring Gayle Hunnicutt, Eleanor Parker, Tim Henry. Playing at the Jerboa Cinema.

WHATEVER HAPPENED TO AUNT ALICE? — A very polite and well bred murderess' get-rich-quick system involves a series of strange disappearances of her housekeepers. Aunt Alice takes a job in the lady's house to help solve the mystery and finds herself part of bizarre and frightening doings. Starring Geraldine Page, Ruth Gordon and Rosemary Forsyth. Playing at the Jerboa Cinema.

MISSION BATANGAS — In the early days of the War in the Pacific, an opportunistic American pilot, agrees to help salvage the Philippine government's entire stock of gold bullion. Starring Dennis Weaver, Vera Miles and Keith Larsen. Playing at the Astra Cinema.

REFLECTING in a somber mood, redhead Jenny Shaw, an employee of the Engineering and Installations Division, would create pleasant thoughts in anyone's mind.

THE WHOLE BATTALION TOOK THE FREEDOM FLIGHT FROM TEGEL? and other scenes of congestion from "Airport," playing at prime tariff on the flick circuit.

Valentine's Day Schedule Full -- International Dining Sets Mood

by Judy Pricks

Don't forget that this Sunday is Valentine's Day. Why not be different and treat your Valentine to an evening out and skip the flowers and candy routine this year?

If you want your surprise to take place the same day, you might get some tickets for the Sunday performance of the Russian Folklore Ballet Company Irina Grjebina in the Hochschule fuer Musik at 8:00 p.m. The talented troupe will not only provide enjoyment for eye and ear on Sunday, (they've brought 300 costumes along but also on Saturday (tomorrow night) — same time and same place.

Most Valentines, unless they are on a very strict diet, won't say no to a dinner invitation. Berlin really has a big variety of places to go and eat, so here a few suggestions for those who don't know their way around so well yet . . .

For typical German food in a rustic atmosphere, Hecker's Deele on Grolmanstr. 35 (right off Ku-Damm) is the place to go.

Danish specialties are served in the Kopenhagen on Ku-Damm 203, and in the originally decorated Brasserie at Wittenbergplatz 3 you get a cozy atmosphere along with the French specialties . . .

In the Tokyo in the Europa Center you can choose from the delicacies of the Japanese kitchen, while the Lingnan restaurant on Kantstrasse 1 (right next to the Kaiser Wilhelm Memorial Church) is just one of many places that offers delightful Chinese dishes.

AGAIN! A few tickets are still available to the February 18 performance of Facio Santillan, the Indian flute player from northern Argentina. On the simple wooden flute, called kena, he plays the enchanting melodies of the Latin American Indios — a sound that has captured European audiences everywhere. Facio Santillan and his group appear in the Philharmonie.

The lady is a vegetarian? No problem. On Kurfuerstendamm 67 (entrance on Clausewitzstrasse) a vegetarian restaurant by the name of Verena awaits to serve you.

Valentines with a sweet tooth will enjoy a visit to one of the bigger cafes in Berlin. Either the Kranzler (on the corner of Ku-Damm and Joachimstaler Strasse) or the Moehring Cafe (on the corner of Ku-Damm and Umlandstrasse) are nice places to go and load up on the delicious cake and coffee while you watch the people promenading down the Ku-Damm. A Sunday-afternoon pleasure of many Berliners.

If an American specialty will make your Valentine happy, then you'll be sure to score with a dinner at the Hilton Hotel, the only place in town to get prime ribs of beef. Also at the Hilton, you'll still find the "Chalet Gourmet" where the special dishes and drinks of the international ski areas are served in the comfortable atmosphere of a ski lodge, and dancing over the roof tops of the city in the roofgarden to the sound of a new French band.

Some Local Freebees

After you've spent so much money on Valentines Day, entertainment that is free might come in handy . . .

The Amerika Haus, which is celebrating its 25th anniversary this month, invites you to a film evening on Wednesday, February 14. The adorable movie "Breakfast at Tiffany's" with Audrey Hepburn and George Peppard is showing. So you've seen it before — but in German? Tickets can be reserved free of charge by calling 819-7895. You'll find the Amerika Haus on Hardenbergstrasse 22, right next to the Bahnhof Zoo.

Right behind the Amerika Haus (to the right when facing it) the British Center is located. It will feature the film version of the ballet "Romeo and Juliet" starring none other than Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev. The choreography is by Kenneth MacMillan, the music by Prokofiev, and the dancers are from the Royal Ballet Company, London. This "tidbit" for ballet fans is showing twice, on February 25 and 26 at 7:30 p.m. You can reserve your free tickets by calling 31-0176.
