OBSERVER THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:
"Would June Believe
This is Summer?"

Mayors and Staffs Spend 'A Day with the Army'

by Pat Tracey

The "Day with the United States Army" started out with the usual unpredictable weather of Berlin May 25. The early morning rain failed to dampen the spirits of the Guardians of the 2nd Battalion, 6th Infantry as they worked to set up activities and support for the program at Kerans and Rose Ranges.

The U. S. Army had as its guests the mayors and their staffs from the American Sector of Berlin, along with police and forestry officials. The afternoon of activities was set up to give the guests a better understanding of the fighting capabilities of the U. S. soldier and his weapons.

The sky cleared somewhat as the group listened first to the welcoming remarks of Brigadier General Raymond O. Miller, commander, Berlin Brigade. Each man was then given a pair of fatigues and a steel pot to wear on the firing ranges (GIs will recall shades of reception station days as sizes too large were swapped for sizes too small). Then, looking more like veterans than mayors and city officials, they were given a safety briefing by Lt. Forsythe, on behalf of Lieutenant Colonel Calhoun for the host battalion 2/6, and assigned to one of three groups for the remainder of the afternoon.

The groups rotated around the ranges firing an impressive list of weapons in a short space of time. Among the weapons fired by the officials were the M-16 rifle, the M60 machine gun, and the 4.2 and 81mm mortars with the pneumatic firing devices.

The M60 proved to be the group's favorite weapon. Private First Class Alvin Johnson of Recon Platoon Combat Support 2/6, an instructor for the session at the machinegun range, said that "quite a few of the officials had good tight shot patterns and fired well."

M113A1 tracks then transported the guests to Rose Range for a demonstration and firing of the 106mm jeep-mounted recoilless rifle, which was fired with a sub-caliber device.

"The practice fire missions went great all morning," said PFC "Willie" Williams of the Anti-Tank Platoon, Combat Support Company 2/6, "but for the first demonstration we had a misfire."

SP4 Terry Burd also of the Anti-Tank Platoon added "Misfire was yelled and procedures immediately applied. The result was almost instinctive — the result was a perfect hit!"

The 45 caliber pistol and submachine gun rounded out the weapons fired at Rose Range. A static display of the M60 tank and the 105 track-mounted Howitzer drew knowledgeable comment from the guests.

A fast track ride back to Kerans Range and it was time for the supper meal, U. S. Army Field Kitchen style with SP6 Paul E. Arnold and SP5 Hector Hernandez and their crew of four cooks in command. Following the meal, fatigues and helmets were returned and the "vets" departed with an expanded personal knowledge of U. S. weapons after having spent a "Day with the United States Army."

'Tanker' Tug-O-War Highlights 40th Armor Party

by Dan Eggleston

Company F, 40th Armor celebrated its 31st anniversary last Friday with an open house, and, as First Sergeant Joseph E. Martel said, "a good old fashion beer bust." April 15 is the actual organization day for 40th Armor, but the festivities were postponed until May with the hopes that there would be better weather.

The weather wasn't all that great, but it didn't prevent the men from bringing their wives and families to the open house. The visitors were given tours of the facilities located at Turner Barracks and they had an opportunity to take a ride on a tank or APC. A barbecued dinner was also served.

One of the more unusual events held was a "Tanker" tug-o-war. The rope was replaced by tow bars and the tugging was between two tanks (100 tons, 1400 HP combined) and a VTR or recovery vehicle (60 tons, 1050 HP). By sheer weight and horsepower it would seem that the tanks would win, which they did.

The tug-o-war came about after a long running debate between 40th Armor's maintenance section and the tank crews and the results of the match are probably still being debated. Following the power contest, the driver of the VTR, who wished to remain anonymous, simply said "they beat me off the line."

Company F, 40th Armor is the only American tank company in West Berlin, being assigned here September 1, 1963. Activated on April 15, 1941 as the 4th Armored Regiment, it was redesignated later that year as the 40th Armored Regiment. In 1943, the 40th was steamlined for combat by its reorganization as a battalion and was sent to England to train for the invasion of the Continent.

After June 6, 1944, the 40th distinguished itself in Normandy, in Northern France and in the Rhineland. Its greatest combat achievement came when the 40th assisted in turning back the enemy at the Battle of the Bulge.

For its European service, the 40th Armored Battalion was awarded the Belgian Fourragere, decorated with a Distinguished Unit Citation Streamer embroidered HURTGEN FOREST, and was twice mentioned in the Order of the Day of the Belgian Army. The unit was deactivated in 1946.

The 40th was later reactivated as the 40th Heavy Tank Battalion and was in Washington State until 1957. At that time the battalion was split into separate companies with Company F being assigned to Berlin. Company F has sister companies in Alaska, Korea and California.

JUST LET A MALE CHAUVINIST GET IN FRONT OF ME — There would probably be quite a few guys enlisting for armor if they could batter down the hatches with a good looking T. C. like this. Her husband might not approve though.

WRONG WAY THERE CHARLIE — It's all backwards for the VTR as two tanks pulled it along.

Royalty To Visit Berlin

Princess Margaret and Lord Snowden will be visiting Berlin for the Queen's Birthday Parade to be held June 8th. Following their approximate arrival at Gatow at 5:30 p.m. on June 7, they will be honored with a reception and dinner at the Schloss Charlottenburg beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The next day the Princess Margaret and Lord Snowden will tour West Berlin, special stops to include visits to German and British schools, the Kaiser Wilhelm Memorial Church, Potsdamer Platz, a view of the Wall, Brandenburg Gate and a final stop at the Egyptian Museum.

After their tour, they will proceed to Marfilde for the Queen's Birthday Parade scheduled to begin about 4 p.m. Immediately after the parade, they will be honored with another reception at the Villa Lemm where they will be staying. The Princess and Lord Snowden will depart Berlin Thursday evening.

Don't Gripe at the Guards

No intelligent or observant person can deny the recent upsurge of security being implemented to safeguard the people, buildings and materials of this United States Army installation.

However it becomes rather amusing to watch some of the "Berlin personnel" being asked to show proof of identification before entering a military establishment.

Out of responsibility should come one's voluntary and willing attitude to help ensure the success of these safety measures.

The situation of possible terror remains unfortunate. Until a solution is brought about we should work towards easing the burden of the guards and not be concerned with our 10-15 second delays upon passing.

Whatever Your Problem, Dial 3333 for Help

Help with questions or problems relating to drugs or alcohol in Berlin, is no more than a phone call away, thanks to a newly established telephone service called "Dial Help."

By dialing, 3333, persons in the command will be able to reach qualified help, who can answer their questions or refer them to people who can, concerning drugs or alcohol.

During duty hours, 8 a.m. — 5 p.m., the number puts the caller in touch with personnel at the Drug Control Center located at McNair Barracks.

So remember for 24 hours, 7 days a week, assistance in handling problems with questions about drugs and alcohol, dial the magic four 3's, "Dial Help."

Sound Thinking

On Emerson, Lake & Palmer

by John C. Hinds, Jr.

Keith Emerson, Greg Lake, and Carl Palmer, collectively known as "Emerson, Lake and Palmer" along with the up and coming folk-rock group, "The J. Giles Band", will be playing at the Deutschlandhalle Tuesday night at 8 p.m.

Emerson, Lake and Palmer was formed in 1969, after Emerson left a group called Nice, Lake broke away from King Crimson, and Palmer said goodbye to Atomic Rooster.

The name of the group was chosen so that each of the individual members could have equal recognition.

The first time they played together, in concert, was at Palmer, England, and they were an instant smash. The reason for that, other than the fact that they are three very talented musicians, was their brand new Moog Synthesizer.

Following closely on the heels of their first successful concert was an album and a concert tour of both Europe and the States which pushed the group into the eyes of the public, all over the world.

With their second album "Tarkus" they reached the top. In 1971, they were elected the number one British group in a poll taken in the British pop magazine Melody Maker.

Their third album, "Pictures At An Exhibition," was also published in 1971 and once again was a chart buster. The work was borrowed from Modest Mussogsky and features the best Moog work that I have ever heard.

In 1972 the group made a concert tour of the States as well as the present tour through Germany.

Future plans call for solo albums from each of the members of the group, as well as more concerts.

The J. Giles Band from Boston will be traveling along with Emerson, Lake and Palmer. The group, which got its start at the Club 47 in Cambridge, consists of J. Giel, Peter Wolf, Danny Klein, Stephen Bladd, Seth Justman and Magic Dick.

Mr. Breeze lists "Thick As A Brick", Jethro Tull; "Gonna Take A Miracle", Laura Nyro; "Dear Friends", The Firesign Theater; "Love It To Death", Alice Cooper; "Atomic Heart Mother", Pink Floyd; and "I Just Wanna Be A Country Girl", Buffy Saint Marie, as his best albums from the PX record shelves.

Until next week remember it's not who you know but what you show. Peace and Power To The People.

U-Bahn, Buses Provided Easy Route to Berlin's Sites

by John C. Hinds Jr.

Although I still can't believe it when I hear it, I bet at least once a week someone tells me "Boy, there is just nothing to do here in Berlin, and even if there were it's impossible to get around town."

As an attempt to dispell this rumor, allow me to direct you to 13 of the most interesting spots in the city where on any given day or night you can find something to entertain you.

There are two easy ways to reach any spot in the city, no matter where you live, and they are by the bus and U-Bahn. The Army provides free bus service to and from the caserns and hospital to the main bus terminal at the PX shopping center on Clayallee.

If you don't want to wait for the Army bus you can catch the 84 bus, which stops in front of Andrews on Finkensteinallee, the 1 bus, which stops on Goerzallee in front of McNair Barracks, or the 53 bus, which stops on Alster Weg behind McNair.

The 13 most interesting spots in the city, as far as I am concerned, and the buses and U-Bahns by which they can be reached are:

- The Philharmonie — 24, 29, 48, 75 and 83 buses;
• The Nationalgalerie — 24, 29, 48, 75 and 83 buses;
• The Kaiser Wilhelm Memorial Church — 19, 23, 29, 54, 55, 60, 62, 66, 69, 73, 90, 92 and 94 buses and the Zoologischer Garten U-Bahn stop;
• The Botanical Gardens — 1, 48, 68, 84, 85 and 86 buses;
• The Funkturm — 4, 10, 65, 66, 92 and 94 buses and the Kaiserdamm or Theodor-Heuss-Platz U-Bahn stop;
• The Dahlem Museum — 1, 10 and 68 buses and the Dahlem-Dorf U-Bahn stop;
• Kongresshalle — 16, 24, 28, 69 and 83 buses;
• Deutschlandhalle — 4, 66 and 69 buses;
• Tempelhof Central Airport — 4, 94 buses and the Olympia-Stadion U-Bahn stop;
• Olympic Stadium — 4, 92 and 94 buses and the Olympiada-Stadion U-Bahn stop;
• The Sportpalast — 19, 48, 50, 75, 83 and 84 buses and the Buelowstrasse U-Bahn stop;
• The French PX and Headquarters — Kurt-Schumacher-Platz U-Bahn stop and the 21 bus (south);

The British NAAFI Club (shopping center) — Theodor-Heuss-Platz U-Bahn stop.

Now I will explain how to use the system and explain how to get to one spot. Then you can use that system as a guide for travel to the other areas of the city.

As our model I will explain how to get from the Oscar-Helene-Heim U-Bahn stop, which is across the street from U.S. Headquarters, to Theodor-Heuss-Platz, which services the Funkturm, British NAAFI Club, and is a short walk from Deutschlandhalle.

The first thing that you have to know, as I pointed out in an earlier article, is that the name of the line is the end point of particular route. In this case, you would look for the train marked Gleisdreieck. Get on that train and ride it to Spichernstrasse. From there you transfer to the train marked Leopoldplatz and ride it to the Zoologischer Garten. Then you transfer to the train marked Ruhleben and ride it to your stop at Theodor-Heuss-Platz.

As you can see, it is tricky, but not impossible to ride the U-Bahn. All you really have to remember is that the end points of the lines name the routes. Then follow the maps provided on the walls of the U-Bahn cars for your transfer points.

The buses are just as easy as the U-Bahn to ride, but instead of remembering the end points, you have to know where the transfer points are on the various lines. Since there are quite a few buses to the various points of interest and it would be impossible to list all of the various transfer points, let me suggest that you stop by an U-Bahn station, where for one mark you can buy a map of the entire BVG system with all of the lines for both the buses and U-Bahn clearly marked.

In retrospect, I find it easier to ride the U-Bahn and get down to the Oscar-Helene-Heim Station on the free bus service provided by the Army. But the choice is up to you.

Just don't let me hear anyone say that there is nothing to do in Berlin.

Table with 4 columns: Ticket type, 5 days, 7 days, 1 month. Rows include 1 line U-Bahn, 1 line bus or ship, 3 lines (U-Bahn, bus or ship), Total U-Bahn, Total bus and ship, Total BVG System.

NOTE: Five-day, seven-day and monthly rate tickets must be purchased initially at the U-Bahn station, Fehrbelliner Platz. The only item necessary to do so is a 4x4 cm mug shot of the purchasers. Tickets can be renewed weekly or monthly at any station.

Beware the 'Guard-House' Lawyer

Everyone has run into a "guard-house lawyer" sometime since he came in the Army. You know who he is. The guy with an easy way out, a method for getting away with anything and everything, the fellow with the angle.

They come in every shape, size, color and rank. The stories they tell and the advice they offer are just as varied. There's really about only one thing they all have in common. They're just about always wrong. In several recent cases they've been very wrong.

The latest bad information offered by these people has given rise to misunderstandings concerning certain "rights" afforded an individual to refuse Article 15 punishment; to defer execution of the punishment pending action on any appeal and the period of time during which charges referred to summary or special courts-martial must be brought to trial.

If you think you may refuse to accept nonjudicial punishment, you are wrong. Prior to the imposition of punishment under Article 15, you may demand trial by court-martial in lieu of punishment under the Article 15. If you have not expressly demanded trial by court-martial, punishment under Article 15 may be imposed. If you stand mute, refuse to sign or decline to demand trial, punishment will be imposed. In this situation you will be informed of the punishment imposed and your right to appeal the punishment to the next higher authority.

The same sort of misinformation is being circulated concerning the "right" of an individual to have Article 15 punishments deferred pending action on any appeal. This is also wrong. The punishments of reduction, forfeiture of pay and deduction of pay, if unsuspended, take effect on the day they are imposed.

Misconceptions concerning Article 15's and other actions under the UCMJ can have serious consequences. Don't take the word of "guard-house" lawyers. If you have an question regarding your rights under military law, contact the office of the Staff Judge Advocate.

Re-Up Sgt's Rake 'Em In

Myers of 3/6 Bags Five

by Dan Eggleston

The man isn't waving at you, he's just telling you that with the three people next to him, that makes five re-enlistments in just two weeks. He's Sergeant Claude Myers, Re-enlistment NCO for the Third Battalion, Sixth Infantry.

Four of the five re-ups are first term re-enlistments and they're not for the big VRB bonus. Specialist 4 Marvin L. Nolan chose the CONUS Choice of Station Option and will be going to Fort Bliss, Texas. Specialist 4 David D. Gardner, C-3/6, decided that it's too cold in Berlin, so he re-enlisted for his present duty assignment, but in Vicenza, Italy. He will be a member of the security force for the ordnance depot located there. SP6 Henry S. Boys has been in the service for 17 years, so he choose his present duty assignment, after which he plans on retiring.

In the previous week, Myers re-enlisted two individuals for the CONUS Choice of Station Option. They were Specialists 4 Earl Shackelford and Jose Lopez, both of H-3/6. They will also be going to Fort Bliss, Texas.

How does Myers do it? "I don't have to do much," said Myers. "If they want a different duty assignment, change of station or a big VRB bonus I can get it for them if they qualify. I don't give anyone a big line, but just give them the information they want to know and let them decide." He added that "I don't really re-enlist anyone. If someone wants to re-enlist, then I'm here to help him."

Surprise Move

Helmstedt Visited by Russians

Despite numerous invitations over the years by the US Army, Helmstedt Support Detachment, to their Soviet counterparts, all personal and social contacts took place at the Soviet checkpoint building, Marienborn. It took the Russian-speaking Helmstedt Commander, Major George N. Wallace, to change all this.

Recently, the Soviets finally accepted an invitation and for the first time decided to visit the U. S. Detachment areas.

The opening ceremonies of the new Helmstedt dayroom served as impetus for the meeting, and at 3 p.m., May 26, Wallace met the three Russian officers at the Soviet checkpoint.

The officers were resplendent in their battle green parade uniforms, already waiting in their chauffeur-driven military sedan. From there they were escorted via autobahn to the Helmstedt Support Detachment building where Major Sayenko, Soviet Commandant, gallantly presented Mrs. Wallace with a large bouquet of tulips.

Major A. Drew of the British Detachment, LTC G. Alquier-Bouffard and his assistant Chief Guy Rives of the French Detachment, and Capt. and Mrs. W. B. Brucker, PM representative from Berlin, were introduced to the Russians and the entire party was shown around the Detachment area.

Harris Gets One at Helmstedt

Thursday, May 25th, was an unusual day for three men of the Berlin Brigade. They were Staff Sergeant Eugene Harris, Special Troops Career Counselor, Glen Zaring, AFTV Cameraman, and Sergeant John Gaines, photographer from the C-E Division. These three men traveled 110 miles through the Soviet Zone to Helmstedt, FRG, to present Sergeant Charles Hughes a $10,000 Variable Reenlistment Bonus for his five year reenlistment. This was the first $10,000 reenlistment to occur at Helmstedt. SGT Hughes, a teletype operator from Memphis, Tennessee, chose the present duty assignment reenlistment option.

The official reenlistment ceremony took place at Allied Checkpoint Alpha. Present at the ceremony were the British and French Detachment Commanders from Helmstedt. Major George Wallace, the American Detachment Commander, administered the Oath of Reenlistment to SGT Hughes.

After the official ceremony there was an unofficial unwinding ceremony at the British NAAFI Club where the three weary travelers washed the dust of traveling from their throats with a brew.

SSG Harris' reenlistment drive on first-termers with less than three years service who have never reenlisted before is in its third month. If you're a first term RA and just arrived in Berlin and don't dig your duty assignment see SSG Harris (located at Andrews Barracks below the Dental Clinic). There are still free coffee and donuts in the office. Stop in some time and check it out.

EIB Is Goal Of Training at 4/18

by Jon P. Walbrun

When it comes to the Expert Infantryman's Badge, the 4th Battalion, 18th Infantry is not left out. Yes, the Vanguard's are also conducting various phases of the program in preparation for the brigade level testing to commence June 13.

According to the 4/18 S-3 Major James E. Mossburg, approximately 240 members of the Vanguard Battalion have qualified to take the EIB test. However the number may change because of the influx of new personnel within the battalion.

Mossburg pointed out that the battalion has seven days of training remaining concerning the EIB subjects with emphasis on practical work. "Company commanders and unit representatives have undergone shake down EIB testing with the purpose of ironing out problems that may occur during the actual testing," he said.

During the actual test, a score of 100 points will be applied to each EIB test area. Each test will be designed so that a passing score of 70% will reflect expertise in the subject area.

"The EIB program offers the new and professional soldier the opportunity to review skills and it serves as a good refresher course for MOS testing of the individual," Mossburg said.

Volksfest To Have Two Queens

The 1972 German-American Volksfest Committee announced this week that this year's "HAWAII" Volksfest will select both a German and an American Volksfest Queen to preside over this year's festivities, which run from July 28 through August 13.

Contestants will be sought from the American community and U. S. Command in the coming weeks. The final selection of the two queens will take place prior to the Volksfest opening.

To be eligible for the title "American Volksfest Queen", contestants must be United States citizens residing in Berlin and associated with the U. S. Government.

Contestants for the title "German Volksfest Queen" must be citizens of West Berlin or the Federal Republic of Germany residing in Berlin and associated with the U. S. Government.

All contestants must be at least 18 years of age on or before July 28 of this year. They may be either married or single.

All offices, units and agencies of the U. S. Command, Berlin will be encouraged to sponsor at least one contestant in each national category by means of nominations. Nominations by individuals are also welcome. Those interested should contact the Volksfest Director of Public Relations, telephone Berlin military 6188 before June 16.

A panel of impartial judges will select the winners based upon interviews with five finalists in each national category.

THE LINE-UP — The French, British and Americans were joined by the Russians last Friday at Helmstedt for a day of social activities.

BOQ. They were assured that it was not, and that it belonged to two low ranking enlisted men. They were also shown the PX, dining facilities, pick-up point, library, Class VI store and dispensary.

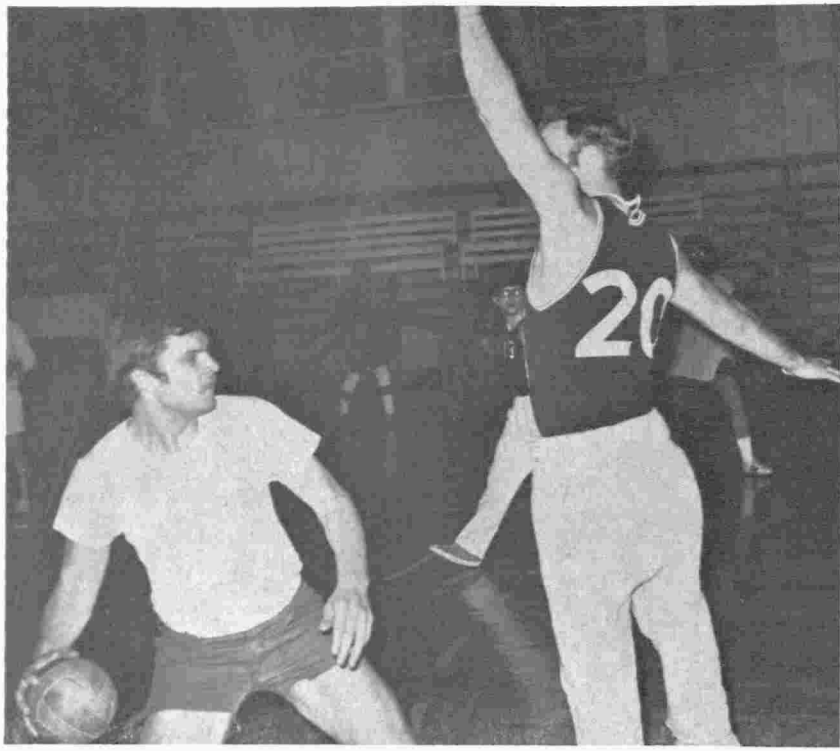

Afterwards, all Allies retired to the BOQ, where they joined Mmes. Wallace and Drew. Drinks and snacks were served and presents were exchanged.

Wallace was given a beautiful brass replica of the Russian lunar vehicle by Major Sayenko, who in turn received a large plaque presented by the Officer of the Detachment.

Picnic in Garden

Soviet visitors later joined the enlisted men and other guests in the garden for a picnic. The weather was nice and sunny, food and drink were plentiful and photographs were taken. After mingling with everyone the Soviets attended the dance in the new dayroom.

At 11 p.m. the Russians departed back to the checkpoint with many good wishes. They were personally escorted back by Major and Mrs. Wallace.

Handball: Bears Defeated Tourney Time

by Lt. James Dunn

By a score of 45-28, the Berlin Bears Team Handball team was given a sound beating by Berlin's premier handball team, Berliner Sports Club (BSC).

Although the score suggests a run-away, the Bears managed to threaten the BSC club continuously until the final ten minutes. At that point, BSC's speed and quickness overtook the Bears' fatigue to settle any doubts as to which team was going on to win.

The game was marked by one team's strength and the other team's identical strength — the fastbreak. This proved to be neither team's advantage for the first 15 minutes as the lead never increased past two goals for either team.

However, with 14:28 left on the clock in the first period, the Bears hit a slump and simultaneously BSC began to click, increasing their lead to 20-11 by the period's end.

The Bears were forced to play "catch-up" ball the rest of the game which is not an envious position to be in against a team of BSC's calibre.

For the Bears, this loss put their record at 50 wins and 7 losses — not too bad for any team.

For BSC, the game served as a whetting of their appetite in anticipation of a re-match and their next opportunity to defeat the Bears.

For that opportunity they won't have to wait too long. A re-match was scheduled for Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Sports Center.

The Bears assured all the outcome of this game will not be the same as the last.

TEAM HANDBALL CHAMPIONSHIPS

As of yesterday, a different kind of handball competition rules the Brigade. This time it's the Berlin Brigade Team Handball Championships.

A double-elimination match, with all of the games played at Defender's Field, will include the Brigade's top nine teams. All of the games will be played during duty hours and will encompass seven days of action (yesterday, today and Monday through Friday). The final game is scheduled for June 9 at 1 p.m. Should a deciding game be necessary, it will be played at 4 p.m.

The games will include some of the Brigade's most outstanding players including Steve Carreker, Art Gase and Bob Presswood of C 3/6, Bruce Dubevcky of B-FSB, Marty Best of B 4/18, and John Sneeberger of HHC 4/18.

For good team handball action and a wide-open outdoor approach to this new, rough and exciting game, no one should dare miss an opportunity to visit Defender's Field and all the action sometime next week.

An incomplete list of the teams involved include B-FSB, A 3/6, 592nd Signal, B 2/6, C 3/6, 42nd Engineers HHC 4/18, B 4/18 and one team yet to be announced from 2/6.

J. Shell Tops in Golf

The Women's Three-day Spring Tournament ended May 25 at the Berlin Golf and Country Club with Jackie Shell defeating Leana Reynolds for top honors.

Fran Cobb, eliminated Cindy Scioletti to take second place and Hanny West captured the consolation flight.

Respective winners and runner-ups were honored at an awards ceremony followed by a buffet dinner.

Braves Split Games

The Berlin Braves defeated Ramstein in the first of a double-header 6-5 but got creamed in the second game, 11-2.

Joe Regensdorfer pitched both games for the Braves with good defense in the victory but sloppy defense in the loss.

The Braves travel to Rhine Main this weekend for another double-header on Sunday.

Olympic Tickets

The 1972 Olympics are closing in on us fast and many are wondering what the scoop is on tickets purchased by USAREUR for the troops.

The latest word is that an estimated 1,000 tickets for the Berlin Brigade should arrive sometime in July.

It is proposed that they will be sold according to a lottery drawing sponsored by Special Services.

The tickets will be good for the morning or afternoon sessions of the trial events only. Final event tickets were sold as soon as they were printed.

For more information call Lt. Dunn at the Sports Center office at 6581.

Swimming Competiton

All former swimming buffs are encouraged to sharpen up their swimming skills so they can participate in the upcoming Brigade Swimming Meet in July. Team practice and competition may take place during duty hours in the afternoon. The competition will be divided between swimming events and diving events.

The swimming events, allowing two persons in each event per battalion, will include 50-meter freestyle, 50-meter breast stroke, 50-meter back stroke, 200-meter freestyle relay and the 200-meter medley relay (back stroke, breast stroke, butterfly, freestyle).

Major League Ends First Half

Tigers Clinch First, Astros Second

The Tigers are the champions of the first-half action in the Major League Division of the Berlin Little League. They clinched the title Tuesday night with a 3-1 victory over the Mets.

The Astros, who had been tied for first place with the Tigers before losing to the Angels Monday, finished in second place.

In other action this past week, the Orioles handed the Angels their fourth loss of the season 7-4 on May 24. The Birds sent nine men to the plate in the bottom of the second to push across six big tallies.

The following night the Astros bombed the Twins 13-4. The Twins jumped in front 4-0 before the Astros began their comeback in the bottom of the third. Two hits, two walks and a fielder's choice tied the score. Then they really went to work in the next inning as they sent 13 men to the plate accounting for nine big runs.

On Friday night the Mets and the Angels tangled with the Angels coming out on top by a 7-4 margin. The big inning for the Angels was the third as they scored five runs. They picked up two insurance runs in the fourth.

The diving events, with two persons per battalion, will include forward dive (pike or layout), back dive (pike or layout), inward dive (pike or layout), forward 1½ somersault, and one dive, diver's choice.

AFTV Sports

SATURDAY June 2 2 p.m. WEEKEND WORLD OF SPORTS with STEVE BAY

Berlin Brigade Team Handball is the topic of today's local segment, and Steve also will present the following sports highlights from the States:
Major League Baseball: New York vs. Montreal.

In Shea Stadium in New York, the Mets go after their 7th straight win as they battle the Montreal Expos.

"Wide World of Sports" takes us to Indianapolis for the trials of the "500," then to Monaco for the Grande Prix, and finally to Munich for a look at the where, what and why of the 1972 Olympics.

At Indianapolis, Jim McKay and Jackie Stewart discuss the trials. We meet some of the top drivers there such as Bobby Unser, Peter Revson and Mark Donohue.

On to Monaco where Keith Jackson and Phil Hill describe the grueling road race through a downpour, slick hills and turns to the finish.

Chris Schenkel, in Munich, points out the enormous preparations for the big event. We also are treated to some great scenes from previous Olympics.

"American Sportsman" Cameron Mitchell fishes for Blue Marlin off the Florida coast in the Bahamas. It takes almost two hours to land a fighting Marlin — and Mitchell never worked harder!

Bing Crosby joins Phil Harris on a White Wing Bird shoot on the Gulf Coast of Northern Mexico. They hit the area in bad weather — just after Hurricane Fern. They do manage some badinage — and they also manage to bag a few birds.

The son of the late Senator Robert Kennedy takes part in an Antelope roundup in Kenya, Africa. This is an attempt of the government to keep this vanishing animal in a safer area.

11:20 PRO BOXING
Felipe Torres meets Vil Tumulak in a 10-round feature event for lightweights. The 5-bout card includes: 3rds heavyweight, Mike Altinger vs Jose Hernandez; 3rds heavyweight, Joe Torres vs Victor Sorano; 3rds middleweight, Larry Cruz vs Don Norton; 5rds lightweight, David Diaz vs Ray Llamas.

SUNDAY JUNE 4 2 p.m. WEEKEND WORLD OF SPORTS with STEVE BAY

Johnny Mitchell, Golf Pro at the Berlin-American Golf and Country Club is Steve's guest in the local spot, with news of the Berlin Invitational Golf Tournament. Also offered on today's program:

Major League Baseball: San Francisco vs Atlanta

Earl Williams smashed a 3-run homer in the eighth inning to provide all the offense as the Atlanta Braves snapped a 4-game losing streak with a 3-2 victory over San Francisco in Candlestick Park. Williams' homer followed singles by Ralph Garr and Rico Carty. Winning pitcher was Tom Kelley who needed help from Cecil Upshaw. Losing pitcher was Steve Stone who had a shutout until the eighth.

"Wonderful World of Winter" This glorious Winter World depicts the fun and sheer beauty of the winter months. Highlights include some sensational falls at skiing, the thrills of snowmobiling, and the amusement and pleasure of ice-skating and tobogganing.

TUESDAY June 6 6:35 SPORTS CHALLENGE

Defending champions of the Los Angeles Lakers, Happy Hairston, Gail Goodrich and Jerry West are challenged by three of the greatest runners in the history of football — O. J. Simpson of the Buffalo Bills; the greatest runner in the NFL, Jim Brown; and Leroy Kelly of the Cleveland Browns. Dick Enberg is the host.

THURSDAY June 8 10:20 ROLLER DERBY

The Northwest Cardinals oppose the Midwest Pioneers. Ken Monte, Roller Derby's greatest skater, leads the Cardinals, while Ann Cavello fights for the Pioneers — but not on skates — from the infield!

Defender Teams Shape An Exciting Season

by Dan Eggleston

It's that time of year again. Time for the company level softball season to begin and for the Third Battalion, Sixth Infantry 'Defender League' and it's shaping up to be another exciting season. Each of the companies had a good turn out and are fielding some fine teams.

At the beginning of baseball season, all the sports writers give their predictions as to which team will take the pennant, so I'm going to follow their lead and give it a try. If nothing is heard from me again, it will probably be because I was beamed, batted and used as home plate by persons not agreeing with my predictions.

First place is going to Headquarters Company. They have adequate pitching, good fielding and some good hitters. There is only one catch. At the present time, the head team is composed of Headquarters and Combat Support personnel and should the Supporters form their own team in the near future, it could change the standings. Until that happens, Headquarters is the Defender team to beat.

Right behind the Heads is last years' champion, the Bravo Boas. The Boas have some heavy hitters and have a tight infield, but their pitching is giving up, they'll probably come in second place.

Coming in third place is Alpha Company. Alpha Company has some strong pitching, but their hitting and fielding leaves something to be desired. I've picked them to come in third, but with some practice and experience they could make a surprise showing.

Someone has to take the cellar slot and the only team left is Charging Charlie Company. As in Alpha's case, Charlie Company could also make a first.

So sport and softball fans, there are the early predictions of the Defender League teams. No matter who takes the Defender pennant and moves to the Brigade play-offs, a lot of fun will have been had and some interesting softball games played.

See you at Defender's field.

AFN-TV Biggest Winner With Next Week's Movie Offerings

SEE NO EVIL — This movie is like a bad joke. Poor blind Mia Farrow stumbles around, surrounded by dead bodies, unaware that her family has been carved up and scattered around the house. You're supposed to feel sorry for her, but why should you? — After all, she's the only person in the theater that doesn't have to watch this turkey.

PANIC IN NEEDLE PARK — For people who like to be depressed, this is the movie of the week. For only $.35 you are treated to the spectacle of two young lovers being reduced to an animal-like existence as heroin addicts in New York. Definitely a good movie, but hardly "entertainment", and certainly not for those with weak stomachs. Stars Al Pacino and Kitty Winn.

SOMEONE BEHIND THE DOOR — Charles Bronson is the man behind the door, but his troubles don't end there. Suffering from amnesia, Charlie is on the wrong end of a memory transplant that leaves him with the mind of a murderer. As if that isn't bad enough, he has to act opposite of Anthony Perkins. If you like Bronson see this movie; if you like Perkins see a doctor.

MODERN TIMES — In line with the current orgy of guilt feelings about the way Charlie Chaplin was treated in years past, one of his classics, Modern Times, is now making the revival circuit. Charlie plays the weak link in a mechanized society in this movie about how we become slaves to our own machines. Worth seeing.

BUTCH CASSIDY AND THE SUNDANCE KID — If you missed this show during its first, second, third or fourth showings, here it is again. But don't worry if you miss it this time either — it'll probably be back before the seats in the theater cool off.

FRIENDS — An overly dramatic and glorified Love Story involving two teeny boppers in a stolen script from Eric Segal. Instead of a library, they meet in a park. Both trying to please the other, he gets a job and she serves fish. If you've seen Love Story, forget this one.

IF YOU DON'T RECOGNIZE THIS CHARACTER YOU'VE BEEN AWAY TOO LONG! But then again so has he. Forget the Red Tape though and see Charlie Chaplin in Modern Times as he battles the problems facing slaves (people) in a mechanized society. (Photo courtesy of National Screen)

Church School Set in Summer

by Dr. Kurt G. Jung

One of the most important programs of the Department of Religious Education is the annual Vacation Church School. This year's school will be held June 19-23 and 26-30, 9-11:30 a.m. at the Thomas A. Roberts School. Classes will be conducted for all children from age 3 through the 8th grade. Bus transportation will be available for children coming from the outlying housing areas. Parents may register their children June 5-9 in the Fellowship Hall of the American Community Chapel, Huttenweg 46.

The vacation church school has a distinctive and vital contribution to make to the total program of Christian education. Even though it occurs only once a year it should be considered a part of the ongoing educational program.

A vacation church school provides a different kind of opportunity for Christian education than can be found in any other setting. Longer, consecutive sessions make opportunities for exploring, discussing, thinking, making and doing, that are impossible or impractical during a Sunday church school session. In addition, longer sessions on consecutive days make possible a cumulative kind of learning opportunity that cannot be matched by once-a-week sessions.

The staff of the vacation church school is comprised of dedicated Christian adults, who have seen the necessity of bringing the message of Christ, with all its ramifications, to the boys and girls of the Berlin community. The superintendent of the school is Mrs. Robert E. Rockwell who has had years of experience in directing church oriented programs. The school is a united effort of all chapels, including the Air Force

Diamond is Forever in Neil's Deutschlandhalle Concert

by Judy Pricks

There are several good reasons to head for the Tiergarten at the present time. The outdoor types will find a walk through the huge park especially attractive because the Rhododendrons are now in bloom, offering a beautiful scale of colors. An extra pretty spot is near the Lion Bridge in the park, where huge bushes bloom around a little pond. If on your walk you should wind up in the English Garden section, you might like to stop at the cafe behind the Parkhouse for some refreshments.

Not far from there is located the Academy of Arts in which the art fans will find a fantastic landscape of shining metal, gleaming mirrors and moving lights. This "landscape" is the exhibition of the German artist Heinz Mack, who has consequently realized an age-old dream of artists to work with light instead of colors, with motion instead of forms and with free space instead of the usual canvas. His materials are aluminium, plexiglass and steel. Through motion and light they are constantly changing. When strolling through this "forest", one should keep in mind that many of these objects were originally created for the Sahara Desert where Mack had set them up to reflect the desert sun. You have until July 2 to visit this fascinating display. It's open daily from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. The admission fee is DM 2.20; but if you go on a Wednesday, it's free. Another good reason to go on Wednesday is the film "Telemack" which is shown at 4 p.m. It shows sequences about the Sahara project.

Free Concerts at Academy

And then there is also music in the Academy, music of a very modern and unusual kind. Tonight the "Nuova Consonanza" from Rome will present such puzzling titles as "I Met Heine on the Rue Furstemberg", "Fogli" and "Music for Double Bass and Taperecorder." If you're curious, come and have a listen at 8 p.m. There is no admission fee; the free tickets are available at the box office in the Academy.

Another free concert of modern music at the Academy will take place this Thursday June 8, also at 8 p.m. This time the "Ensemble Instrumental de Musique Contemporaine" from Paris will be the performing musicians. The evening promises to be international with Richard Bunker, piano, from the USA and Leo Brouwer, guitar, from Cuba as the soloists.

Just in case there is still a pop music fan who doesn't know that Emerson, Lake and Palmer will be in the Deutschlandhalle on June 6, let it be known herewith that they will be there. Check John Hinds' column in this issue for details.

Neil Diamond in Berlin

The next night, June 7 at 8 p.m. a U. S. import will sing in the Deutschlandhalle — Neil Diamond. It is difficult to believe that it all began for this famous singer and composer because he was too shy in his youth to make dates with girls and wrote them poems. He had so much success that his fellow students wanted to buy poems from him. But that is long ago now, and today "Jay and the Americans" and Andy Williams are on his list of "purchasers," because, as he says himself "I could never bring all of my songs by myself, so I give them to people who make the best of them." He gave "I'm a Believer" to the Monkees and they made ten million singles out of it! But when the former student of medicine and new American idol appears in Berlin, he will bring his own songs. One title has a special meaning to him "The Pot Smoker's Song." Neil Diamond is very much against narcotics, maybe due to his studies in medicine. He declares, "Of course, 90 from 100 youngsters can handle dope properly. But going from these statistics, you have 50,000 out of half a million pot smokers that will be destroyed by the poison. There are really enough things in this world with which people can't cope, like cannons and alcohol!"

U. S. IMPORT NEIL DIAMOND — Once too shy to date girls so he wrote them poems. From poems Neil Diamond progressed to hit songs and his fame started there. Deutschlandhalle will be the scene Wednesday at 8 p.m. when Diamond brings all your favorites to Berlin. Tickets at the PX Ticket Agency.

Jazz Concert to Benefit Release

If you agree with Neil Diamond and want to help the fight against narcotics, you can do so and enjoy a jazz concert, too. "Release," an organization against narcotics, is putting on such a concert on June 6. The Slide Hampton Big Band will play in the Conservatory of Music (on Bundesallee right across from the ID furniture store) beginning at 8 p.m. The admission charge and your contribution to the anti-narcotics campaign is DM 10 — tickets available at the PX ticket agency.

Looking ahead to next weekend, there will be another pop happening in the Waldbuehne June 10 — hopefully drier than the last one. Raw Material and Karthago will be the participants. It costs only DM 3.50 to be there for the 8 p.m. event.
