Berlin golfer wins by 3

by Russ Richall

An assistant pro at any golf course should know the course much better than out of town visitors. And the better you know the course the better your chances of shooting a good game.

How true this is no one knows, but we do know that the man shooting the lowest score for a set number of holes is determined the winner regardless of circumstances. Therefore we know that Don Boyle, an assistant at the Berlin Golf and Country Club, is one of the top military golfers in Europe.

Don notched a tie for the top spot after two rounds of play and shot consistently through the final two rounds on his way to a three stroke victory in the Berlin Invitational Golf Tournament held last week.

Boyle shot a 75 each of the last two rounds to finish with a three stroke margin over Gunter Hopp of Heidelberg and Gary Coren of Nürnberg. The winning tally was 293.

The first flight winner was Rob Meter of FSB with a 317, with Lee Parker's 344 taking second flight and Jerry McKenna fashioning a 362 for third honors. Both Parker and McKenna are from Wiesbaden.

The distinguishing factor in Boyle's play was consistency. At the close of two rounds his 143 put him into a tie with Coren, and after three circuits he was deadlocked with Jim Bishop at 218. However, none of the top four golfers during the final two days put together two good rounds.

Hopp actually shot the best score on the final day and had led the first day, but in between he fell six strokes off the pace. Coren was tied for the lead until his third round 79 dropped him four shots off. Although Bill Newton shot a one-over 71 during round three, his two-round total of 151 put a victory far from his grasp.

Bishop fell way off on the final day, failing to finish in the top five. Host pro Johnny Mitchel took fifth with a total of 305.

The final nine holes proved Bishop's undoing as he seemed to lose it all at once on holes 10 and 11 after remaining tied with Boyle through the first nine.

The tourney enjoyed its biggest field ever, with 132 entrants coming from all over Europe.

GARY COREN OF NUERNBERG drops in a short putt during the final round of the golf tourney in this vain attempt to catch the leader. He shot a 74 on the final day to finish three strokes back in a tie for second place after having shot his worst circuit of the four (a 79) the day before. He was deadlocked with Boyle after two rounds. (Photo by Russ Richall)

Medics take children to circus

by Bernita Mansfield

"I would like for you to listen just for a moment. I am sure you will hear that happy chorus of children saying, 'Danke schön' to the kind GIs."

The comment is from Herr Heinz-Peter Seidel of the Arbeits Kreis Lerina Foundation, an organization established to help handicapped children through music therapy. Seidel made the remark in a letter to the Medical Company of the U. S. Army Hospital, Berlin.

The corpsmen from the company supplied the transportation and escorted 80 German handicapped children — the entire student body of the School for Crippled children in Zehlendorf — to the circus in Berlin on Wednesday, June 6.

The American service personnel responded to an appeal from the directors of the Lerina Foundation to supply help in order that no children in the school would miss the performance. The call came because Frau Hede Haenchen, inventor of the Lerina instrument and founder of the foundation, thought that a visit to a real circus would help stimulate the children in making a circus film.

Frau Haenchen was afraid the disappointment of the other children in the school would be too great if many were left behind. She recalled that the men of the Medical Company had taken the children on a successful trip to see their record-breaking basketball game earlier this year at Andrews Barracks, the only field trip the entire school had ever attempted.

The difficult problem of transporting and caring for all 80 children was solved when the corpsmen took over. With buses supplied by the Transportation Division, Berlin Brigade, Steve Dalton and O. L. Thomas serving as drivers and other members of the company helping, the children saw their first circus.

The Medical Ladies Club of the hospital sponsored the event for the Medical Company. Mrs. Barbara Patterson is president of the club and Captain T. G. Pasqualone is commander of the company.

The children did not attend school Wednesday, as the afternoon circus took the place of a normal school day.

not to allow their children to play in or around the construction site, as the construction poses many hazards to the youngsters' safety. (Photo by Joe Bolduc)

Redeye gunners succeed in perfect score attempt

by Norman Ham

The Air Defense Section (Redeye) of Berlin Brigade fired four live Redeye missiles at Ballistic Aerial Target Systems (BATS) in Grafenwoehr on Saturday, May 19. With all four missiles making direct hits, the Redeye team from Berlin was one of the few participating units to hit all of their allotted targets.

SP4 Arthur T. Windt, CSC-4/6, SP4 Joseph A. Lisiandri, CSC-4/6, PFC Francisco Gonzales and PFC Michael D. Gunning, both of CSC-2/6, were the sharpshooting gunners representing the Berlin Brigade.

The weather couldn't have been better as the gunners tracked the BATS with M76 simulators while other units fired. At the appointed time the gunner would move to the ammo issue point and sign for his M41 missile.

After moving to the preparation point with his missile for a final briefing, the gunner would proceed to the firing point and prepare to fire. The BATS, which simulate enemy aircraft, were located about 300 meters to the right of the gunner.

After a countdown, the BAT would be fired and the gunner would begin tracking. Once satisfied that he had it zeroed in, the gunner would launch his missile.

If his aim were true, the missile soared after the BAT, intercepted it and blew it out of the sky. All of the BATS that the Berlin section fired at were never seen again.

The elated gunner then received a "Killer Patch" (a piece of red range flag) and pinned it to his soft cap.

The firing exercise climaxed a USAREUR training program which was designed to strengthen weak points of the Redeye gunners. First Lieutenant James Willis, CSC-4/6, the officer in charge of the Berlin Air Defense Section, worked in G-3 training prior to his assignment to the 4th Battalion, 6th Infantry.

During his tenure at G-3, Willis was tasked to write a letter of instruction developing a program of Redeye training culminating in the live fire exercise at Grafenwoehr.

Ironically, Willis was transferred to CSC-4/6 and subsequently received his own letter of instruction. Along with Staff Sergeant Sidney Katz, the NCOIC, Willis followed his own letter and organized the Redeye classes for the Brigade.

The classes, held in the Vanguard's battalion classroom, covered such topics as aircraft recognition, Air Defense site selection and tracking and alerting procedures. The course also took the group to Tempelhof Central Airport, where they conducted tracking exercises utilizing Redeye missile simulators to track outgoing planes.

Lieutenant Colonel James A. Conley, Commander of 4/6, expresses sincere congratulations to Willis and the Redeye team that represented Berlin.

Army birthday

June 14 was both the Army's birthday and Flag Day. On June 14, 1775, the Second Continental Congress, meeting in Philadelphia, authorized the enlistment of 10 companies of riflemen from Pennsylvania, Virginia and Maryland to join the militia already fighting the British in New England. Two years later, on the same date, the Congress adopted a flag for the new nation.

So we had an Army, the first federal force, two years before we had a flag. And we had a flag and an Army before we had a nation. It was through years of hardship and sacrifice by the newly-formed Army that our nation was born. Even so, the framers of our Constitution, reflecting the widespread fear of powerful standing armies, found it necessary to devise a system of safeguards to assure civilian control of the military forces.

The president was designated Commander in Chief of the armed forces, but Congress retained control, since Congress alone was given the right to declare war and appropriate monies for that use. Even with these safeguards, the colonists were uneasy. And so, in periods of relative peace, the Army has often been much reduced in size, sometimes to little more than a skeleton force.

There has been much debate about the Army's proper role in a free society. It is appropriate, therefore, on the Army's 198th birthday to stop and reconsider the basis on which the Army rests. Why do we need an Army at all?

The answer is that the Army exists to defend and support the American people. For nearly 200 years, it has done just that. The freedom which we enjoy, the independence for which our flag is the proud symbol, were won and preserved by our Army at great cost. There has scarcely been a moment in the history of the world without armed conflict. In such a world, where lasting peace is yet an unfulfilled dream, an Army fills a necessary place. The Army stands ready to protect our freedom against any enemy. It is, at the same time, the guardian of the peace.

RALPH CALLAWAY
... prolific 3/6 correspondent

It takes lots of help from lots of people to produce a weekly newspaper like the Berlin Observer. With a limited full-time staff, we must rely heavily at times on the support of the public information specialists at the battalion level.

One such battalion correspondent is the prolific SP4 Ralph Callaway of the 3rd Battalion, 6th Infantry. Callaway, whose distant cousin Howard H. ("Bo") Callaway recently became Secretary of the Army, is the man to see at 3/6 whenever there's a story to be told. For photo and written coverage of newsworthy events, call him at 3359.

Club management centralized

The Officers'-Civilians' Open Mess System and the NCO/EM Open Mess System in the Berlin Command moved nearer to centralization this week with the transfer of custodianship for ECN 99 to the Central Accounting Office in the Comptroller's organization.

The series of changes to take place within the next three months will bring the two systems together under central control of one club manager for the Berlin Command. The move parallels the Club Command as organized in CONUS last year and is designed to eliminate costly duplicate functions performed in both systems and bring them together at a saving to club patrons. The title "Open Mess" will be dropped in favor of "clubs," and the new organization will have one central office known as the Area Club Management Office for Berlin.

Branch Managers will be appointed for the officer and NCO/EM club systems, and all facilities will come under this one main office. The Branch Manager for the Officers Club will control the Harnack House as well as the Golf Course Annex.

The Branch Manager for the NCO/EM clubs will control the Club 50 with the Starlight Grove, Gator and Helmstedt Clubs as annexes.

An important point is the fact that even though the funds are to be consolidated, each major branch will be carried on separate books and under no circumstances will the funds be combined.

Savings are expected to be realized throughout both systems as consolidated entertainment and procurement are put into effect. The major impact of the reorganization will be the release of the branch manager from the vast myriad of administrative functions he now performs, allowing him to spend his time as an operator within the system.

Along with the consolidation will be the added requirement for more intensive scrutiny of day to day operations to insure the club or activity is operated in such a manner as to insure financial solvency.

As the new organization emerges and the improvement in operation is noted, the most salient feature will as always remain — the clubs must have your continued support in order to continue in existence.

Andrews center offers help for creative living

by Dee Downey

On Andrews Barracks there is a facility called the Center for Creative Living. The Center is located in the same building as the Andrews Theater, building 906.

The Center aspires to create a better social life here for the American soldier at Andrews Barracks, as well as for married couples living on the economy.

The Center for Creative Living has many functions for both married couples and single men. One plan is to set up a nursery at Andrews Chapel. The Center also has plans for a tour to Garmisch.

The Center's regular program includes "rap sessions," competitive functions and the exchange of ideas to create a better atmosphere for the American soldier.

The Center is available to all who have drug or alcohol problems. For these problems the Center conducts individual and group counseling and group discussions. These discussions help to alleviate some of the problems causing these conditions.

It benefits the soldier to talk to someone who might have the same problems. He can also talk to someone at the Center who may be able to provide some constructive alternatives to his present life style.

The Center for Creative Living is open on week days from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and from 5:30 to 8 p.m. The Center is also open on weekends as scheduled.

The Center's motto is "a natural high." For more information about the Center, contact PFC Gregory L. Mitchell or Chaplain Cal D. Gleaton at 3440 or 3636.

LIBRARY NOTES

Do Women's Liberationists really want to be men? Well, hardly says Gene Marine, male author of A Male Guide to Women's Liberation. (Holt, Rinehart & Winston, 1972).

Says Marine, "... in fact, most of the women in the liberation movement are not obese, do not have skin problems, are not afraid they'll never get a man; do not try to look like men, do not try to act like men, do not want to be men, are not 'buxom women with biceps and bullhorn voices,' and are not anti-male. Truly, the more you learn about the movement the sillier some of the stereotypes get." Nor, asserts author Marine, do women want men to feel guilty.

What do they want? What have they had to contend with in the past? How is our "free" society perpetuating the myth of the inferior female? What is a feminist? What is a male feminist? Are the masculinists of America truly unsure and threatened individuals? What is the myth of the vaginal orgasm?

These questions and many others are answered in Gene Marine's excellent book, which may be found in the McNair Library along with Combat in the Erogeous Zone, by Ingrid Bengis, Sexual Politics, by Kate Millet, The Black Woman, by Toni Cade, and Century of Struggle, by Eleanor Flexner.

From Gene Marine's dedication to his children: "Ask the questions that are most difficult to ask. Say the things that are most difficult to say. Please."

Spanish import first beef steak

In these days of high beef prices it might be of interest to know that beef cattle have been in this country for around four centuries.

Escaped livestock from the expeditions of the Spaniard, Francisco Vasque de Coronado are supposed to have formed the nucleus of the wild herds of mustangs and long-horns so long part of our Southwest. This, however, is pure speculation. It is pointed out that Coronado's soldiers preferred stallions, the Padres favored mules, and that there were only two mares with the expedition. Thus, it is highly unlikely that two mares sired this vast population.

Juan de Onate is supposed to have brought the first permanent cattle herd of record across the Rio Grande in 1598. Thereafter, cattle spread quite rapidly. A vital role was played by the mission by their encouragement of livestock culture. Every mission outpost had its herd and its native vaqueros.

By the time the first Anglo-American colonists settled along the Brazos River in 1821, lower Texas swarmed with cattle. Most of the first settlers became cattle owners for good reason. A farmer was granted only 177 acres of land, whereas a cattle raiser received up to 4,615 acres. In 1848 there were 382,873 cattle in the area, by 1860 there were 3,786,443.

The language associated with cattle raising of course reflected its Spanish origins. The Spanish-Mexican influence is seen in words like corral, tapaderas, remuda, segundo, bronco, jinete (bronco buster), orejano (orejo buster) frijoles, hombre, loco, royo and moral, which are almost pure Spanish words.

Other words were twisted in transition to English, for example lasso and la reata and lariat, rodeo and adobe and doby, pinto.

People fed up with the high prices of beef today might be interested to know that back in 1866 a cowboy looked over a herd of 3,500 Texas steers, took the best 600 head as a head and a second 600 head as a head. Thus he got 1,200 choice cattle from the herd at an average of $4.50 a head, or about 40 cents a hundred weight, gross.

If it had not been for the Spanish Mexican cattle raisers of four centuries ago, however, beef prices might be much higher today.

Co. A drops two in a row, Signal Co. moves ahead

by Vincent A. Drosdik, III

Signal Co. started to pull away from the others in A Division this past week, with 42nd Engineers and the MPs staying close. In B Division, Co. A, FSB, stayed in first but lost two in a row and lost one of their pitchers.

DICK WESTERMAN OF SIGNAL CO. ... pitches two-hit shut-out against Hospital June 12. (Photo by V. A. Drosdik, III)

THURSDAY, JUNE 7

Jim Bradshaw won his ninth game of the season against four losses in the MPs' 9-2 victory over H&S, FSB. The score was only 1-0 MPs after 4½ innings until H&S scored two in the fifth. MPs came back with five in the sixth and three in the seventh to weld the win. Rod Clarida went three for four with two rbi and Lorenzo Bailey two for two with three rbi for MPs.

HHC, Sp Trps had an 8-3 lead going into the seventh inning against Hospital but almost lost the game when Hospital scored five runs with two outs off Craig Kinney. He had come in to get the last two outs when manager Mike Pentecost took starter Presley Pippin out after pitching an effective 6 ⅓ innings.

Hospital's offense was highlighted by Don Peabody's solo home run his second of the year, Mark Webb's three rbi on a homer and a single, and Bill White's two rbi single in the seventh. Patrick Patterson drove in three runs for HHC with Rick Stuart driving in the winning run for HHC with a sacrifice fly in the bottom of the seventh. Webb got the loss and Kinney the win, 9-3.

FRIDAY, JUNE 8

The seemingly unbeatable Co. A, FSB, was beaten by Signal Co. 10-5, Dick Westerman pitching the win. Rick Davis and Paul Maggio drove in two runs apiece for Signal, while Keith Gave drove in three for Co. A. Westerman helped himself at the plate driving in four runs on a bases-loaded walk, a two-run triple and a ground-out.

The game between Independents and Co. B, FSB, was rained out in the bottom of the first inning and rescheduled for July 1 at 3 p. m.

SATURDAY, JUNE 9

Independents swamped Service Co. 19-4, getting 16 hits. Roy Davis pitched his third win of the season and banded out a homer, two doubles and a single to drive in five runs. Chuck Graham belted a homer and drove in four runs for Independents with teammate Greg Baker lifting a homer. Bailey hit a home run for Service Co.

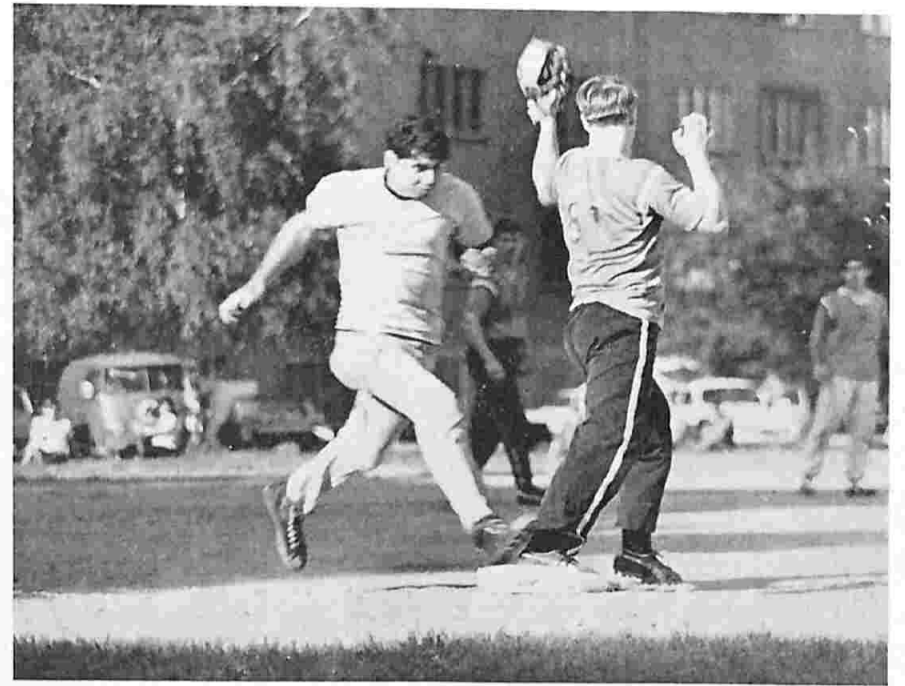

MPs made it two losses in a row for Co. A, FSB, 7-2 behind the ninth victory of Jim Bradshaw. Bradshaw led the offensive with three hits in four at-bats, including a double and home run, to drive in four runs. Shortstop Keith Gave scored both Co. A runs, one on his third home run of the year, a solo shot in the seventh inning. Rob Meter absorbed the loss for Co. A, giving up 12 hits and six walks in the game.

SUNDAY, JUNE 10

The only game scheduled, between H&S, FSB and Co. B, FSB, was rained out and rescheduled for June 24 at 1 p. m.

MONDAY, JUNE 11

In the only game scheduled, HHC,

Sp Trps edged A Division-leader MPs 6-5. Mark Hatfield, in his second appearance of the season, won his first game against no losses. Bill Webb came on in the fifth inning to get the save. Center fielder John Evina hit a two-run triple in the second inning for HHC, while their third baseman Juan Navas hit two doubles, driving in a run. Rod Clarida had two hits, driving in a run for MPs with Bradshaw three-for-three with an rbi.

TUESDAY, JUNE 12

Co. B, FSB, upset 42nd Engineers 8-3. Ben Hoyle lost his fourth game against five wins despite the fact that he struck out eight, walked only three and yielded only four hits. Six errors and two passed balls were his downfall. Glenn Roell got the win, his third against two losses. The only two runs batted in for Co. B were on center fielder Bill Page's single in the third inning and a ground-out by catcher John Duback, the other six scoring on errors. Chuck Deyo batted in two runs for the Engineers though he committed three errors.

Dick Westerman came within two hits of pitching a no-hitter, but did get a shutout against Hospital 10-0. He walked only two batters and hit another, getting his fourth win. Center fielder Fred Peterson had a perfect day at the plate with two hits, two walks and two rbi while left fielder Rick Davis also batted in two runs.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 13

Headquarters Co., Special Troops won its third game in a row to even its season record at 7-7 by shutting out Headquarters and Service Co., FSB, 3-0. Mark Hatfield won his second game against no losses while Jerry Alley got the loss for H&S. Mike Dunn, John Evina and Mark Orlovski each batted in a run for HHC in that team's best performance to date. HHC played errorless ball and turned a double play while Hatfield gave up only three hits and four bases on balls.

42nd Engineers stayed within a game of division leader Signal by beating Hospital 10-4, six runs coming in the fourth inning on four walks, four infield hits, two errors, a wild pitch and a passed ball. First baseman Sanders batted in two runs with a single and triple for 42nd while teammate Bill Fedor stole his eighth base this year, high in the league. Jim Timmons won his fifth game against one loss.

Pitchers as hitters

Traditional in baseball is that pitchers are terrible hitters. So much so that the American League instituted the designated hitter rule to help stimulate more hits, runs and action in that ninth batter in the line-up, and thus hopefully boost sagging attendance.

In the Andrews Softball League, however, pitchers aren't all automatic outs. Of the 18 most active pitchers in the 11 teams, only five are batting .200 or less, and one of those has 10 runs batted in.

Through the games of Tuesday, June 12, here's how the pitchers are doing at the plate:

Pitcher	2BH	3BH	HR	RBI	PCT.
*Kinney, HHC	0	0	0	1	.500
Pippin, HHC	1	0	0	5	.467
Staggs, Sig.	0	1	0	8	.428
Hoyle, Eng.	1	1	0	5	.406
Bradshaw, MPs	4	0	2	16	.396
*Webb, Hosp.	2	0	1	8	.355
Davis, Ind.	3	0	2	9	.353
*PioRito, Ser.	0	0	0	1	.286
Hill, Det. A	2	0	0	7	.276
*White, Hosp.	0	0	0	6	.259
Wiezcerek, Sig.	1	0	0	7	.250
Webb, HHC	0	0	0	1	.250
Meter, Co. A	0	1	1	4	.238
Westerman, Sig.	0	2	0	7	.222
*Alley, H&S	0	2	1	10	.200
Kline, Ind.	0	0	0	2	.125
*Timmons, Eng.	0	0	0	1	.111
Hernandez, Co. A	0	0	0	1	.100
Roell, Co. B	1	0	0	2	.050

*includes action at other positions, more than one game. If we exclude the pitchers who play a good deal at other positions, overall I would rate Jim Bradshaw as the best hitting pitcher, Roy Davis second, Ben Hoyle third, and Presley Pippin and Ken Staggs about equal at fourth.

TALKING ABOUT DESIGNATED HITTERS, what if Andrews League had such a rule? The version I'm thinking about was tried in triple A baseball in the late 60s, with the manager having the choice of which player the DH would swing for. There are several good hitters in the league who are less than ideal gloves. And several golden glovers who can't hit their weight.

Now naming names may offend some people, but I'm not in the business to tell nice white lies to soothe everyone...

For example, 42nd Engineers could have Kevin Schwab, a weak glove but fearsome hitter, bat for Jim Timmons when he pitches. Signal Co. could bat Doug Pottorff or one of its outfielders bat for Westerman when he pitches.

Co. A FSB, could put one of its outfielders to bat for Chris Hernandez. Independents could bat line-drive hitter Mike Nelson for Murray Kline when he pitches or for weak hitter but slick fielding first baseman Bob Branflick.

It's interesting to think about, this version of the designated hitter rule. Getting it into effect is beyond the power of the Andrews Softball League, unfortunately, as long as it operates under ASA (American Softball Association) rules. Or is it?

FLASH — Chris Hernandez, pitcher with the B Division leader Co. A, FSB, quit the team early this week in disagreement with the managing policies of Hintz, stating that Hintz should not try to be both regular and pitching coach. Hernandez had a 3-0 record with Co. A with two saves. Co. A's other pitcher is Rob Meter with a 6-4 record. Shortstop Keith Gave has also pitched.

NOTES AND ASIDES — Larry Stahl, cousin of Ray Stahl, the Berlin Observer's soccer correspondent, is playing for the Cincinnati Reds, trying to get in those last few months required to qualify for the baseball pension plan. He's been with four major league teams over the years and up and down from the minors. He lucked out last winter when Cincinnati bought him from the Padres. Larry has been doing pretty well as a pinch-hitter, batting .389 in that duty through May. Cousin Ray is not his biggest rooter, however, claiming Larry is all puffed up over being a major leaguer and hoping that Larry goes down to the farm at Indianapolis. Anyone else out there with relatives in the majors?

Injured — Paul Maggio of Signal Co. sprained his ankle recently, but hopes to be back in action sometime next week. Lee Angevine, also of Signal Co., hurt his hand and missed a game. Bob Schneider, a good-hitting first baseman with Hospital, recently injured his hand and missed several games. Jim Bradshaw was walking on crutches last week but the next day went to the rubber to save a game for MP's. And won the following day.

Coming off an appendectomy is Frank Stez, outfielder for Independents. Last year, with USCOB, he batted .500, driving in 11 runs in nine games.

Leaving — Patty Wiezcerek, pitcher with Signal Co., left the Army last week, refusing to extend until the season's end. Also from Signal, third baseman Dennis Phillips leaves today. First baseman outfielder Walter Foraker of Independents leaves today.

Close call — Pitching well against Hospital recently, Presley Pippin of HHC had only two outs to go. And he was relieved. Craig Kinney let the game get tied, Pippin was denied his fifth win against no losses, HHC pulled it out in the bottom of the seventh.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK is Independent's golden glove third baseman Greg Baker, top batter in the league with a .441 average. In the past week he has batted .625 with a double, triple, home run and three rbi. He has two homers and 10 rbi on the year.

Next week: a look at umpiring.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK — Greg Baker, third baseman with Independents, leads Andrews League in hitting with .441. He has two home runs and 10 rbi and is third in slugging percentage.

Fast pitch softball players sought for Army play

USAREUR fast pitch softball players considering themselves qualified to represent the Army in interservice and national championship competition are invited to submit applications to the Sports Division of the US Army Special Services Agency, Europe.

The US Army will participate in the fast pitch interservice softball championship to be conducted August 27-31 at Fort Benning, Ga. A US Forces team will be chosen to compete in the national finals scheduled September 7-15 in Seattle, Wash.

USAREUR applications for the interservice and national tournaments should be submitted through command channels so as to reach the Special Services Agency, APO 09058, not later than July 1. Applications should include the following information: a summary of softball experience and leagues played in; a classification of these leagues; number of playing years experience; batting and fielding average; pitching record; timing for the 40-yard dash in softball uniform; certificate of amateurism as outlined in AR 28-52; and a statement of availability if chosen.

Cheney leaves Forces team with 2-0 win over RAF

by Ray Stahl

Both U. S. Forces soccer teams won this past week, the A team in a high-scoring 7-6 triumph over the Labor Service team, and the league side taking an even-ly played 2-0 win from RAF Gatow.

Centerback Bill Cheney played his final game for the Forces against Gatow and, as usual, turned in a solid performance. For over three years, Bill has been foremost in guiding the team through the high and low points of its life in Berlin.

Cheney has been coach, captain, manager, chauffeur, groundsman, scheduler, medic, bartender, psychologist to unused players and, most importantly, spokesman to the powers-that-be when the soccer program seemed headed for collapse.

Through his efforts, much of the club's functioning has come a long way from the early days of grabbing the team's 11th man from a fellow in front of the PX because he had tennis shoes on and looked like he could play soccer.

His organizational work was surpassed only by his ability on the field, the foundation of the defense, and he played it from the American team's first game until his last game against RAF Gatow. His high level consistency will be sorely missed in the upcoming league encounters. All the present and past members of the soccer club wish he and his family all the best in soccer-sparse Arizona.

Play tomorrow

The A team will play an interesting match tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Tempelhof against a team of German employees there who won the Berlin city championship 20 years ago under the sponsorship of TCA.

The league side will play third place BORSIG tomorrow at noon at the BORSIG sports ground on Berliner Str. in Tegel.

Big soccer match

One final note — tomorrow on ARD television (first channel) at 4 p.m. will be the biggest sports event in Berlin this year as the West German national soccer team will play 1970 World Cup holder Brazil at the Olympic stadium. A crowd of 85,000 will be on hand and the match has been sold out for the past two months.

8 HR in 13 games

One of the primary reasons that the Major Little League Astros were first half champion was the all-around performance of Andre Cameron. Andre is the home run leader of the league with eight in 13 games—all out of the park. He also a batting average of .750 with seven doubles, a triple, 32 runs batted in and 15 stolen bases.

Andre's best position is pitcher — he is undefeated at 4—0 with one no-hitter and three one-hitters, two of these wins being shut-outs. In the no-hitter, he struck out 18 of the 21 batters he faced.

Andre also plays shortstop when he is not pitching and is among the best in the league there.

Summer in AFRC

The snow line is retreating rapidly up the mountains and preparation for the coming summer activities are well underway at the Armed Forces Recreation Center's Berchtesgaden, Chiemsee and Garmisch Recreation Areas.

A variety of sports activities, golf, tennis, bicycling, boating, sailing, water skiing, hiking, etc., will be available at the three recreation areas. Along with the activities equipment and instructions are also available and at reasonable prices.

Bicycles are for rent at 50 cents an hour, $2 a day or $10 a week. Golf green fees are $2 for week days and $2.50 for weekends and holidays and clubs are available at $1 and $1.50 per day. Tennis court fees are 75 cents an hour per player and equipment is available at 75-cents per period of play.

For those who need some pointers in golf and tennis private instruction is available at $5 per hour, semi-private $3 and a 10 hour block for $35.

Boat fees are: bicycle boats, $1 per hour per driver; kayak, $1 per hour; rowboat, $1 per hour or $3 per day; four passenger sailboat, $4; six passenger sailboat, $6; and eight passenger sailboats, $8. Sailing instruction fees are private lessons, $5 per hour; semi-private, $3 per person

In their only other scheduled game thus far A, Co. had a 13—0 lead before taking the field in the bottom of the first versus C 94th but the game was rained out.

HHC split two games, beating C Co. with a powerful offensive display and losing to C-94th in a heart-breaker. One seven-run and one 11-run inning gave them the 22-11 laugh-er over C Co. C 94th's four run seventh led to an 8—7 loss.

Coming out of retirement to pitch one game, LeClair seemed on his way to pitching a win until he was injured in the third. Carter took over on the mound to get credit for the game with C Co. HHC began to pour it on in the second when they pushed seven men across but that was just the beginning.

In the fourth they scored three quick ones, then put the game away with eight runs after two were out. Grabner and Rassmussen each scored four times with Beswick and McKinney adding three runs each C Co. scored five in the third to keep it close at that time as Barnet led the way with three runs scored on the day.

HHC took a lead into the final inning of their loss to C-94th but Soliz, Terry, Donaghey and Huerta each scored in the seventh for the winners and runs by Meyers and Grabner were not enough for HHC to come back. The middle frames saw good pitching from Nations, the winner, and Carter, who took the loss. Each tossed four shutout frames, Carter being sharp from the second to the fifth and Nations from the third to the sixth.

ARC senior life saving course

The American Red Cross, Berlin Brigade, has programmed a Senior Life Saving Course to be conducted at Andrews Barracks Pool starting June 18. The three-week course will be conducted 7—9 p.m. Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays during this period.

To take the course, one must be at least 17 years of age and be able to swim at least one quarter mile. The course is a prerequisite for the Water Safety Instructors Course to be conducted at Andrews Pool during July.

Interested persons are urged to contact the Red Cross Field Office Berlin Brigade at 819-6437 before noon, June 18 to register for the course.

Guardian League play

by Russ Richall

The action from the 2nd Battalion looks a bit out of tune at the end of another week with a pair of games played down to the wire while two contests were not contests at all.

CSC starts us off with a 15-13 victory over Co. C that looked like a runaway after two innings. Nine hits, including triples by Collin and Pinnick, powered the club to a 12-run second inning that appeared to put the game on ice early. Bryant led C Co. to a comeback that fell just short as he reached base four times and circled each time to score.

Singles by Ford, Jimenez, Cyr, Bryant and Swihart pushed across four runs in the fifth to shrink the lead but CSC scored two in the fifth and one in the sixth to sew it up. McNutt was the winning pitcher, Hughes took the loss. Nine C Co. errors lent a hand in their downfall.

A Co. Rolls 12—0

A team that looks very powerful but has just one victory is A Co. They demolished B Co. in five innings 12—0 with the 10-run lead rule being invoked. Burriel pitched a one hitter while Roger led the attack with three runs scored and two hits. Luna, Bell (had a triple), and Baken each scored twice and had two hits also. Terpstra took the loss.

GRA spring tennis tourney

Entry for play in the Garmisch Recreation Area Spring Tennis Tournament set for June 22—24 may still be made. Deadline for entering is June 22.

The tournament is open to all U. S. military personnel, dependents and civilians authorized to use AFRC facilities. Competition will be held in men's and women's singles and men's doubles.

Entry fees are $5 per player in the singles and $3 per person in the doubles.

Entry may be made writing the GRA Tournament Office, APO 09053, or by calling Garmisch Military (2535) 824/679 or 591.

Each contestant must make their own arrangements for accommodations and may do so by writing the GRA Billeting Office, ATTN: Spring Tennis Tournament, APO 09053 or by calling GM (2535) 757 or 557.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL
New York Yankees vs California Angels
The California Angels travel to New York to meet the Yankees in a day game.

Starting pitcher for the Angels is young Nolan Ryan, while the Yankees start Fritz Peterson. Nolan's record before today's game is 6 won and 5 lost, including a recent no-hitter. Peterson has a 4 and 6 record.

WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP TENNIS
In this climatic match from Dallas, Texas for the first time ever, two Americans, Arthur Ashe and Stan Smith battle for the coveted honor of being named tennis champion of the world.

In addition to the championship match, Charleton Heston and Pancho Segura team up in a Pro-Celebrity match against James and Bud Collins report the action.

APPROX. 6:20 p.m.
The softball scoreboard will conclude the Saturday edition of Weekend World of Sports, with Randy presenting filmed hi-lites of the Softball Game of the Week.

SUNDAY
2 p.m. Weekend World of Sports with host Randy Campbell

INDIANAPOLIS 500
The 1973 "Indy 500" might well enter the annals of car racing as the longest three days in the history of the event. Twice postponed because of weather, and marred by tragedy on the first day when Salt Walther's vehicle crashed out of control; then delayed by controversy between the drivers and track officials, and punctuated by an unprecedented number of similar mechanical miscues, the "500" was to fulfill the prophecy that it was "jinxed" from the start.

But with 133 laps covered, and 332 miles, the "500" was officially a race won by Gordon Johncock, a veteran of the racing circuit.

APPROX. 3:40 p.m.
CBS SPORTS SPECTACULAR

The California Relays, with a field that includes both male and female world record holders, and the National AAU Indoor Synchronized Swimming Championships from Hershey, Pennsylvania are presented in this colorful spectacular.

APPROX. 4:45 p.m.
Sunday's W. W. S. will end on a bright note as Randy details Little League action in Berlin with a complete scoreboard, as well as a filmed report on the Little League Game of the Week.

SPORTS CHALLENGE
Tom Heinsohn, Red Auerbach and Sam Jones, former Boston Celtics, are challenged by Dallas football veterans Eddie Lenaron, Don Meredith and Frank Clarke.

It's Charles Bronson again, here in 'The Valachi Papers'

by The Synopsizer
Based on the book by Peter Maas, THE VALACHI PAPERS details the activities of the Mafia made public by the gangland soldier who turned informer. Joe Valachi had inside knowledge of three decades of syndicate operations. He told all he knew to Federal agents in turn for protection from his former comrades. The film contains profanity and violence. Starring Charles Bronson and Mario Pilar. Rated R.
Kowalski is engaged in a race against time in VANISHING POINT. Police in four states can't stop him. He demolishes roadblocks and outraces pursuit cars. The taut, high-speed chase ends in a deadly rendezvous. The film contains violence, nudity and drug use. Starring Barry Newman and Dean Jagger. A revival rated PG.

The hard knocks school of small time professional prizefighting is examined in a behind the scenes look at the life of two fighters in FAT CITY. The struggles to get a match, the rigors of training, the brutality of the ring; they endure it all for a small cut of a meager take. Stacy Keach is a chewed-up has-been at 30 and Jeff Bridges is the newcomer on the way up. Rated PG.
The cameras followed Elvis Presley on a concert tour of the U. S. to record some of the wildest shows ever presented by a performer and reveal the private nature of the man who started it all in ELVIS ON TOUR. There's fine music throughout and some surprises as Elvis talks about his enigmatic past. Rated G.

Marshal Burt Lancaster rides into Sabbath, New Mexico to take in seven men for murder in the revival of LAWMAN. His job is complicated by the local marshal who has sold out to the rancher for whom the suspects work. Also stars Robert Ryan. Rated PG.

'Bobby Darin Amusement Co.', David Steinberg top AFTV summer programs

by Al Zemsky
Summer programming on AFTV-Berlin is highlighted by the addition of the "Bobby Darin Amusement Co." premiering on Monday, July 9. Debbie Reynolds and comedian Charles Nelson Reilly join Bobby for this first show of what promises to be an entertaining addition to the AFTV-Berlin Monday Night line-up.

David Steinberg makes his debut the following week, with Ed McMahon and Leslie Uggams appearing on his first Sunday Night Show. Steinberg, whose topical approach to comedy has made him a favorite of the younger generation, will group top name performers to spoof the contemporary scene.

problems experienced by the TV station during the summer months.
The primary consideration in the cancellation of the shows was the lack of suitable air conditioning in the studio. The TV equipment cannot operate properly above a given temperature and as a result, the number of programs produced during the summer months must be reduced.

'Behind the Looking Glass' opens at TAR

by Lou Hester
Come watch a knight you'll remember stand on his head tonight at 7 p.m. in the TAR auditorium, as the AYA presents, Behind the Looking Glass.
Under the skilled direction of Suzanne Marks, you'll be taken to a fantasy world where fun is first. Joining Suzanne in the merry-making is a talented group of young actors: Janet Leslie as the White Queen, David Leslie as the White King, Julia Smith as Alice, Cathy Smith as the Red Queen, Jerry Davis as the Conductor, Lauri Hayes as the Gnat, Alan Benson as Humpty Dumpty, Lee Massey as the Red Knight, Peter Miller as the White Knight, Christine Black and Marion Regensdorfer as Tweedle Dee and Tweedle Dum, and the pawns and pieces played by Sally Stevenson, Robin McCarter, Joel McCarter, Suzanne Welker, Pam Hayes, Donna Wilson, Katie O'Donnell, Lily Junbert, Kristen Whitbread, Caroline Lavoie, Karen Percy, Patty Radoe, and Susan Purcell.
This Tony Nino adaptation of Lewis Carroll's children's story is sure to please all ages, as will the refreshments to be served during intermission. Your free ticket is waiting for you now at the AYA. For a truly entertaining evening, it's Behind the Looking Glass, June 15-17 at 7 p.m. in the TAR auditorium. Check it out, mate.

August 1 will be a big day for the pee-wee set, with the "New Zoo Revue" making its debut. The combination of educational content and imaginative, delightful entertainment results in an outstanding program for the kindergarten brigade. Three life-size animal characters — Henrietta Hippo, Charlie the Owl and Freddie the Frog — will join the host and hostess of the program to provide excellent late afternoon programming on Wednesdays, beginning in August.

Two of the four shows discontinued are planned to return in the fall: "Answer Line" and a replacement children's program ("What's Going On?"). "Focal Point," a local news program, will continue to be seen on Wednesday evenings, as will "Week-end World of Sports." Of course, the regular evening newscasts and special events program will continue as well.

With the arrival of the summer programming schedule, several live programs have been discontinued by AFTV-Berlin. "What's Going On?", "Topic", "Round and About" and "Answer Line" were dropped due to Meanwhile, plans for implementing the change in "station owner" are pressing forward. On July 1, AFN will assume responsibility for the operational control of AFTV-Berlin. From the viewers standpoint, not much change will be noted. Better service can be expected, due to an increase in manning planned by AFN, but there are no sweeping, vast changes now being planned for the first of July.

AFN frequencies on your radio dial: AM 935 KC; FM 87.85 MC. FM Berlin presents its "Golden Sound" around the clock in STEREO.

Open air Waldbühne concert

In sitting down and writing my column this week, I feel like a reporter who has survived a hurricane. I was there for part of it but missed most of it. Of the two days of music that took place at the Waldbühne last Saturday and Sunday, I saw only five of the 20 groups that performed.

The groups that I saw were Karthago, Ekseption, Family, Jeff Beck and Uriah Heep. On the other hand, the groups that I missed were Thinn Lizzy, Long Tall Ernie, Nazareth, McKendree Spring, Kin Ping Meh, Wild Turkey, UFO, Chicken Shack, Tom Paxton, Vinegar Joe, Groundhogs, Wizzard, Osibisa and Atlantis.

What it amounted to was I made most of Saturday's performances (although I missed the midnight raid on the coke and currywurst stands) and the rain stopped me from coming out on Sunday.

Of the groups that I did see, Jeff Beck's group was by far the best. Beck has long been one of the finest guitar players in the rock music field, and he proved why he is given that praise with some of the finest guitar licks that I have ever heard. Tim Bogart on bass guitar and Carmine Appice on drums are a fitting compliment.

The biggest disappointment of the festival had to be Uriah Heep. The crowd seemed to be pretty psyched after the performance that Jeff Beck's group put on and seemed to be expecting a great show from Uriah Heep. What they saw was an out of tune lead singer, Dave Byron, and a sorry compliment in Mix Box, lead guitarist, Lee Kerslaik, drummer and Ken Hensley, organist.

The group featured numbers from their new Uriah Heep Live album but if their performance Saturday is any indication of what the album is like, you should save your money. Nazareth, Jeff Beck and McKendree Spring, I understand, were the best bands on Saturday, and Tom Paxton, Vinegar Joe, Roy Woods Wizzard and Osibisa were the shining lights during Sunday's rain.

All in all I would have to say that despite the rain the Summer Rock Festival was well worth the DM 10 entrance fee and a fitting start to summer '73 in the Divided City. It's bad that a few more of these weekend concerts can't be arranged throughout the entire summer. Peace and Power to the People.

Community Observations

Money meeting

The next regular meeting of the Berlin American Numismatic Club will be held next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Harnack House. The meeting is open to all persons in the Berlin American community interested in coin collecting. A coin trading session and coin auction will follow the short business meeting.

Andrews luncheon

The Protestant Men of the Andrews Barracks Chapel invite all men of the Berlin American Community to their monthly luncheon next Thursday at 11:30 p.m. Major McKenna S. Mahoney will speak on the topic "Layman Involvement in the Chapel Program." Please call 3440/3537 on or before 4:30 p.m. June 19 for your reservations.

NCO Wives Club

The newly elected officers of the NCO Wives Club of Berlin were administered oaths by Mrs. Robert D. Stevenson during a ceremonial installation dinner at the Gator Club May 19. Out-going president Mrs. Donald Richards presented the presidential gavel to incoming president Mrs. John Epler. Mrs. Lorenzo Nathan presented gifts to the outgoing president and board. BG and Mrs. Robert D. Stevenson were honored guests.
Officers for the new year are: president, Mrs. John Epler; vice president, Mrs. Bjarne Nielson; secretary, Mrs. Bernard Lefebvre; treasurer, Mrs. Gerlad Davis; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Leon Roure; and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Herman Rogers.

Golden Oldies

MUNICH — The era of the golden Oldies has been revived, and the "sound spirit" from the last 20 years will thrive again in June at EES record counters in Germany, Italy and Spain.
June is Golden Oldies Month at EES in these three regions and will bring the "greatest hits" of hundreds of musical stars for as little as $1 per record. The majority of the Golden Oldies will be the regular exchange price of $2.95.
Featured among the 300 albums is a 25 volume series of oldies, with each record priced at $1. While available individually, the 25 volumes bought as a set comprise a nostalgic musical history of the '50s and '60s.

While rock 'n roll predominates the list of titles, country and western, soul, folk and jazz round out the selection of stereo sound. Some of the early selections are presented in monophonic sound while others have been electronically rechanneled.

This is a one-time purchase of these records, and while they will not be restocked, many will be available through the FIND special order catalog.

Fashion Course

A fashion design course is now being offered to teenagers through the AYA. It will be taught by fashion designer Joseph Le Gerrett and will begin Monday 10 a.m. to noon at the Harnack House. There is a fee of 25 cents for the 10 lessons. All teens, both girls and boys, are welcome. Sign up at the beginning of the class Monday.

Turn in a pusher

The command's efforts to prevent drug abuse and suppress its use has proven fruitful through enforcement, treatment and educational approaches to a limited extent. However, as the desired goal is prevention, the degree of suppression and prevention is far from being attained.

This effort is a community affair and requires the full attention of all. We have recognized that a drug problem exists and as it increases it is understandable that therapeutic approaches alone are not sufficient. The desired goal is to be attained.

Further, it is also recognized that one of the sources of the problems is the drug trafficker or supplier, the pusher. Elimination of the pusher is a necessity. And towards this end a "Turn in the Pusher" program has been initiated.

Individuals having knowledge of illegal drug traffic and/or related activities are encouraged to contribute to this effort by dialing Berlin Military 3535. Information received will be promptly acted upon and treated confidential. Contributions need not provide their names, just the information.
