It snow joke . . .

Winter wings to Berlin Snow-Flakes

by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Out of the bosom of the air,
Out of the cloud-folds of her garments shaken,
Over the woodlands brown and bare,
Over the harvest-fields forsaken,
Silent, and soft, and slow
Descends the snow.

Even as our cloudly fancies take
Suddenly shape in some divine expression,
Even as the troubled heart doth make
In the white countenance confession,
The troubled sky reveals
The grief it feels.

This is the poem of the air,
Slowly in silent syllables recorded,
This is the secret of despair,
Lowly in its cloudy bosom hoarded,
Now whispered and revealed
To wood and field.

Basketball dominates

Vanguard winter sports action

by Jon Walbrun

Winter sports action at the 4th Battalion, 6th Infantry is certainly keeping the Vanguards busy this season. The battalion Athletic and Recreation NCO, Specialist Richard Ferguson finds himself constantly busy refereeing games, planning schedules and recruiting prospects to participate in some of the German sports programs.

On the basketball scene at 4/6, Headquarters Company continues to dominate battalion play with an undefeated record. Bravo Company and Charlie Company are tied for second followed by Awesome Alpha and Combat Support Company.

In action last week, Company C got by Combat Support 64-53 and Company B used a tight zone defense to knock off Alpha 42-28. This week's only game found Headquarters Company crushing Bravo 61-45. Butch Duncan fired in 14 points with Kelsie Daniels and Alex Woods dropping in 12 and nine points respectively. Paul Koenig lead the losers with 14 points. Headquarters Company and either Bravo or Charlie Company will represent 4/6 in the up-coming brigade tournament which will be held Jan. 22-26.

In other sports at the 4th Battalion, 6th Infantry, 28 Vanguards are currently competing in swimming and track & field events in hopes of earning the German Sports Medal. Lieutenants Thomas Page and John Veenstra have recently captured the medal.

Want $$ for photos, stories?

Have you shot any exceptional photos lately?

How about a good story or yarn that may be of interest to the USAREUR-wide military-civilian team?

If you have a photo or an article, it could be worth a few extra bucks to you if you send it to Army in Europe magazine.

A $25 U. S. Savings Bond will be awarded monthly for the best photo submitted and a $50 bond will be awarded quarterly for the best story published.

Awards are payable only to members of the U. S. Forces, either military or civilian.

Subject matter for both articles and photographs is unlimited, but it should be in line with Army in Europe's mission to provide information to military and civilian personnel of USAREUR and to promote understanding of mission and responsibilities involving their European assignment.

Photos should be 5x7 or 8x10, B&W, single weight glossy. Stories should be from 1,000 to 1,500 words (4-6 pages of typewritten copy, double spaced).

With each entry be sure to include your full name, grade, social security number, military address and telephone number.

When submitting photos, also include technical data, if available.

Entries should be sent to: Editor, Army in Europe, Office of the Chief of Public Affairs, Hq USAREUR & 7A, APO 09403.

Personnel assigned to Office of the Chief of Public Affairs are not eligible for these awards.

Although no bonds are at stake, Army in Europe welcomes your comments. Letters to the editor will be published monthly. A new feature, "Feedback" offers you a chance to let off steam and voice your opinion. If you don't like the magazine's contents give AE some feedback. On the other hand, if you're satisfied, let AE know about it. Also, if you have any questions, suggestions or story ideas, fire them into the editor.

Dr. Wilder-Smith brings his 'drug zoo' to Berlin

Dr. A. E. Wilder-Smith will be demonstrating the effects of drugs on small animals, including rabbits and mice, to the Berlin Community Jan. 22-26. Dr. Smith has lectured extensively to military and civilian audiences on the subject of drugs and narcotics. (Readers may recall the two-page story and his "Drug Zoo" in The Stars and Stripes a few months ago.)

Smith has PhD's in Natural Sciences from Oxford University, in organic chemistry from Reading University, in science from the University of Geneva, and one from the ETM in Zurich.

Smith, a resident of Switzerland, has authored or co-authored more than 50 scientific works, including: Man's Origin, Man's Destiny; The Creation of Life; The Paradox of Pain; and The Drug Users.

Here is the schedule for the presentation:

● Berlin American High School Monday, Jan. 22, 3:15-4:45 p.m. at the BAHS Student Union.

● 3/6, Tuesday, 10 a.m.-12:30 at the Outpost Theater.

● 2/6, Tuesday, 2-4:30 p.m. at Outpost Theater.

● 4/6, Wednesday, 2-4:30 p.m. at the Outpost Theater.

● Sp Trps (including Field St Berlin and other Lodger units otherwise scheduled), Thursday, 3:30 p.m. at the Andrews Theater.

● Berlin Brigade staff (including USCOB staff, 7350th Spt Gp interested dependents), Friday, 1 p.m. at the Outpost Theater.

Attendance is mandatory for Berlin Brigade and U. S. Lodge Unit personnel.

What's Inside . . .

● Tax time again

Most of you have received your W-2 Forms by now, giving you the figures on what Uncle took from you during the year. Now it's your turn to make the final calculations and (hopefully) collect some of those back. There's a new, shorter, easier to use IRS form from this year and how filled out is explained on page 2.

● Climb every mountain . . .

We at The B. O. just love mountain climbing and ski trips, in case you hadn't noticed before. Several members from Combat Support Company were off again on one of these expeditions, and their tale is told on page 2.

● Soul thinking

While Rock columnist John Hinds rests his ears for a week, an AFN Tooma, gives his impressions on the meaning of "Soul." Meanwhile, the Music Studies Program begins. All on page 2.

● Sports in short

Some more hard-hitting comment on the local sports scene by Russ highlights page 4, along with the usual goodies — AFTV sports section "Let's Face It," bowling news, etc.

● A peek at next week

Next week promises to be one of the best issues in a long time: a view with Dr. A. E. Wilder-Smith, more unit news, and hopefully a view with the major league baseball players who'll be here next week.

Non-smokers revolt! Smoking can hurt you, too

Nonsmokers are learning how to defend themselves.

Remember just a few years ago when airlines passed out courtesy cigarettes? No longer. Today they're busy setting up no-smoking areas for complaining customers.

Cigarette smoke is more than an annoyance to nonsmokers. It can cause physiological distress in healthy individuals as well as in those with asthma and other respiratory illnesses. New research indicates, in fact, that the non-smoker is affected by cigarette smoke in much the same damaging way as the smoker himself.

Recent experiments at Texas A & M University and elsewhere indicate that even 30 minutes in a smoke-filled environment significantly increases the nonsmoker's heart rate, blood pressure, and the amount of carbon monoxide in his blood.

A team of researchers at the University of Cincinnati Medical Center reported that smoke drifting from the burning ends of cigarettes, cigars, and pipes carries with it more cadmium, a metal poisonous to man, than the smoke inhaled by the smoker through the unlit end of the cigarette. Large doses of cadmium can cause acute poisoning in man. In lower doses, it has been implicated in hypertension, chronic bronchitis, and emphysema.

Still another research team at Wayne State University in Detroit, found that acute illnesses, mostly respiratory, were twice as prevalent among young children whose parents smoked at home than among those whose parents never smoked in the home. Some of the differences were attributed to the negative effects of the surrounding smoke.

Your Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association urges nonsmokers to speak up and say "Yes, I do mind if you smoke." Defend yourself. It's a matter of life and breath. Yours.

What is 'Soul'?

by Ed Tooma

One of the biggest misconceptions in the world of music today is the meaning of "soul." Exactly what is it? How did the name "soul music" come about? What color is it?

Soul is nothing more than a feeling — a feeling one gets from a certain something. In this case, it's music.

Soul music as we know it today was once called "rhythm and blues," a term no longer used either in the broadcast industry or in the recording world, but of course the music is still there. Only the name has changed. I'm sure you've heard the expressions "you've got the blues" or "I've got rhythm." Well, each one is a type of feeling, and that feeling is soul.

Does it have a color? Many people think it does, but I disagree. Soul is neither black, white, red nor yellow. It's a combination of all, forming that special something we're all gifted with: FEELING!

I once interviewed "Soul brother number one," singer James Brown, and he defined soul as something one grooves to, and it doesn't matter what source of musical entertainment it is . . . "If you really get involved with it, then that's soul, man!" For the record, James Brown is an admirer of classical music.

Whatever way we look at it, we always come back to that word feeling. Yes, you would be right to call soul a feeling, and it's nothing more than just that. I often say within my daily broadcast on AFN that if I could substitute the word soul, I would have to use "mellow," and that, too, is a feeling. So then, whether it is The Ray Conniff Singers, Stravinsky, Johnny Mathis, The Temptations, or Buck Owens — and it turns you on — that's soul.

Ethnic Studies begin

In an effort to expand the scope of the U. S. Army Berlin Race Relations and Equal Opportunity Program, the G-1 Force Improvement Branch has recently introduced the Ethnic Studies Program.

This program, which focuses on all minority groups in American society today, is designed to present historical and cultural data on these peoples, their contributions to the building of America, and the continuing problems faced by them as a result of prejudice and discrimination. In addition several contemporary organizations and ideologies are presented and explained in an effort to remove erroneous interpretations of them which may have arisen.

The course is taught by a team of four military and two civilian instructors. They are SSG Willy Reed, former EOSNCO, 4th Battalion, 6th Infantry; SGT William Beall, and SP5 Michael Miller, graduates of the USAREUR Race Relations School; PFC Ortiz Pablo Rios, who taught in Puerto Rico before entering the service; and Mrs. Ella Brucker, a graduate of New Mexico State University and Peace Corps instructor before coming to Berlin.

The course will be taught in units as a part of the regular training schedule and is being presented at the Berlin American High School as part of the Social Studies program.

New Form: A new short form 1040A will be sent to many members of the Armed Forces this year. You may use this form if —

- income was from salaries, wages, etc., and dividends were $200 or less, and
- interest income was $200 or less, and
- you do not itemize your deductions.

How To Use: Follow the instructions below. Numbers refer to circled numbers on the form. If there are questions, refer to the printed instructions or see your unit legal assistance office.

- 1. Name and Address: Use label on tax package in this space; make corrections if necessary. If no label received, fill out using your permanent home address.
- 2. Social Security Number: Put Social Security Number here and spouse's if joint return. Armed Forces members should also give serial number if it is different than the Social Security Number.
- 3. Filing Status: Check applicable box.
- 4. Exemptions: Fill out required information and total correctly.
- 5. Wages, Salary, Etc.: Show total of wages given on your Form W-2's.
- 6. Dividends: See instruction on how to figure your dividends and exclusions.
- 7. Interest: Show all interest received from banks, credit unions, etc.
- 8. Total Income: Add carefully to arrive at your "Adjusted Gross Income."
- 9. Follow Instructions found between lines 14 and 15 on Form 1040A; you may want to have the Internal Revenue Service figure your tax. If so, see instructions in last paragraph heading.
- 10. Follow Instructions for lines 15, 16, 17, 18 of Form 1040A.
- 11. Credit for contributions to candidates: Fill in HALF the amount given, but not more than the $12.50 ($25.00 if filing joint return.)
- 12. Follow instructions.
- 13. Income Tax Withheld: Here show the amounts of tax withheld on the W-2 forms which you attach to your return.

14. Tax Due: Fill in the amount due, if any.

15. Refund: Fill in this line if the Internal Revenue Service owes you a refund because too much tax was withheld.

16. Revenue Sharing: This is a new section in the IRS form and all information requested must be filled in. If there is doubt, check with your legal assistance office for advice.

17. Completing Your Return: Be sure to sign and date your return; both husband and wife must sign a joint return unless either is a member of the Armed Forces serving in a combat zone or an area in direct support of a combat zone and is qualified for Hostile Fire Pay. If this is so, write "Military Service in a combat zone" in the space for husband or wife, who is not present to sign.

BE SURE TO ATTACH THE W-2 FORMS.

• Presidential Election Campaign Fund Statement: This is another new portion of the IRS tax package and is designated as Form 4875. If you wish to have $1.00 of your income tax credited to a political party of your choice or to a non-partisan general account, fill out Form 4875 and attach it to Form 1040A.

• How To Pay Or Collect: If you owe money to the Internal Revenue Service, pay by check or money order. Please write your Social Security number on your check or money order. If a Refund is due to you, it will be sent automatically unless it is under $1.00; if the amount is less than $1.00 you must ask for it when you file your return.

• Help From The IRS: If the amount on line 14 of your Form 1040A is $20.00 or less and you want the IRS to figure your tax:

• Do Not Complete lines 15, 16, 18, 19, 21, 23, and 24 of your form.

• Complete lines 1 through 14 and lines 20, 22, 25, 26, and 27; then sign the return and attach your W-2. Mail to the office indicated in your income tax package before April 15, 1973 (June 15, 1973, if serving overseas) and the IRS will compute your income tax, bill you if the money is due, or send a refund. Local IRS offices will also aid in computing your income tax, as well as answering questions which might arise.

Taxes rise again

The newly increased military pay which went into effect Jan. 1 was accompanied by an increase in the social security (FICA) tax rate and the amount of pay subject to tax. USAREUR authorities announced this week.

Taking effect Jan. 1 was an increase in the rate of social security tax to be withheld from military pay from 5.2% to 5.85%. At the same time, the maximum amount of pay subject to FICA tax was increased from $9,000 to $10,800 a year.

Based on these increases in the FICA tax rate and maximum amount subject to the tax, the maximum amount which can now be withheld during a year has increased from $468 to $631.80.

Cross-country skiers train in Bavaria for 'Operation Eagle'

by Bill Sheehan

On Saturday, Dec. 16, "Operation Eagle," the latest phase of the Berlin Brigade's recently formed Adventure Training program, came to a successful end as the Radar/Redeye Platoon, 2nd Bn, 6th Inf, returned from an intensive eight-day ski training course held in Garmisch, W. Germany.

Eleven men (including SSG Sidney Katz, platoon leader, and SP4 Charles Mohon, company medic) participated in the program, which is to serve as a stepping stone for two later and more advanced phases of downhill and cross-country ski training to be held in January and February.

The initial phase was intended for beginners only, as only one of the participants, A/SGT Barry O'Leary, had previous experience on skis. However, after just three days of preliminary exercises on level ground, all eleven men graduated to the more difficult and dangerous course of down-hill skiing.

The down-hill training was completed with a minimum of difficulty. As Katz stated, "other than falling on our rears a lot, no accidents at all occurred." Reactions to this phase of the program were enthusiastic. PFC Mike Gunning summed it up by saying, "all in all, it was great, but skiing on the hills, especially, was a fantastic experience."

At the conclusion of the training, a series of competitive tests, modeled on the lines of Olympic competition, were administered; the R/R platoon walked away with the large majority of the prizes, out of a possible 12 medals, the platoon took ten (including two golds by O'Leary and PFC David Stewart, one silver by PFC Michael Sayers, and seven bronze medals won in a variety of events).

The program was a popular one and has, by all indications, stirred up what may be some lasting interests in the art of skiing. PFC Randy Futch described his reaction in these words, "I've never skied before, but I had a great time throughout. I'd like to do it again as soon as possible."

He'll have his chance quite soon as the platoon is now beginning preparations for the second phase of 1 ski training program, which will take them to West Germany's Harz Mountains in January. Once there, they will bivouac and train in cross-country skiing techniques for approximately seven days before returning to Berlin.

The third and final phase, which is scheduled to begin in February, will take the skiers to the Zugspitze, the highest mountain in the Federal Republic of Germany. Once there, they plan to ski down the entire slope of the mountain and then ski cross-country the remaining distance to Garmisch before returning, once again, to Berlin.

Given the quality of their initial performance in Garmisch, Katz looks forward confidently to the platoon's ultimate goal, "we're not ready yet but getting ready is the purpose of our second phase. By the time February rolls around and we hit Zugspitze, we will be ready to take it."

NCOs are friends in need

The Non-Commissioned Officers Association of Berlin was a friend in need to the ninth and tenth grade English classes at Berlin American High School. A large, unexpected school enrollment caused a search for additional space for one more classroom. The basement storeroom, though not glamorous, offered the best hope.

When Ms. Nielson's classes arrived, they found lead gray walls, peeling plaster, and worst of all, a few spiders. Undaunted, the students devoted two week-ends to washing walls, scrubbing floors, and ultimately painting.

The students received a tremendous morale boost, as well as expert assistance, when the NCOs offered to paint the first coat. SSG D. F. Drake, 1 SG P. Greer, SSG R. J. M. Krommings, SSG W. Lemons, TSGT F. O. Long, SFC R. Miehne, and MSG F. F. Shelton spent several hours painting on a Saturday night so the students could complete their original wall designs by Monday. The room has now been transformed from a dungeon to a show place, thanks to a friend in need and enthusiastic students.

GUIDES FOR SLIDES

Help yourself household tips

A certain percentage of trouble calls now taking up the time of the shops at E&I Division can be eliminated, the Service Call Section believes, if only the American Community residents will "lend a hand." Listed below are some of the areas that, if cooperation is forthcoming, will have fewer trouble calls and permit the shops to concentrate on other trouble areas:

Transformers: Do not overload the transformers and do not put too many transformers on one line (it overloads the circuits).

Circuit Breakers or Fuse Boxes: Learn where your circuit breaker or fuse box is located and how to replace a fuse or reset a breaker.

Washers/Dryers: Do not put too much soap in the washers, because the suds clog up all kinds of things. Do not overload the washers, since often socks or other small garments are "slopped" out of the basket and into the pump and can also stop up drains.

Floor Drains: In areas where there are floor drains, lift off the drain cover periodically and clean out the hair and other residue that clogs up the drain pipe. Also do not use floor drains as receptacles for dust and dirt which has been swept from floors.

Commodities: Learn to flush them properly, which means HOLD FLUSH VALVE OPEN FOR SEVERAL SECONDS. All of our commodies are German made and require pressure on the button for an extended length of time.

Faucets: If your faucet leaks come to the Self Help Issue Point and get a new gasket. Replacement is a user responsibility.

If you have trouble or are not sure how to complete a Self Help project, contact SSG Latimer, Self Help NCO, telephone: 6539. He has the means to show you "how" on all Self Help projects.

People in Brief

SOLDIER OF THE MONTH for December 1972 in PFC Dennis L. Walp of B-2/6. Walp is from Anaheim, Calif. Runner-up is SP4 Joe L. Chapa from Ft. Worth, Texas and is assigned to C-4/6.

CPT John J. Spath III became the new commanding officer of the 42nd Engineer Company, Special Troops, Jan. 8. Spath was formerly with the E&I Division and replaced CPT Michael V. Carr.

CPT Frank R. Fiorito became the new commanding officer of Service Co., Special Troops Monday, replacing CPT Thomas J. Reiva. Fiorito was formerly Headquarters Commandant, Berlin Brigade.

Company B, 4/6, welcomes CPT Adolf Carlson as its new commanding officer. Carlson is a member of the Berlin Brigade ski team which is in Garmisch practicing for future competition.

4/6 couriers run efficient operation

by Jon Walbrun

Back in 1970, when the majority of us were civilians, one of the top groups on the American musical scene was The Bee Gees. During the course of 1970 they recorded a song which hit the number one spot all over the United States.

The title of the recording which the Bee Gees made typifies the theme and goal of the Message Center operating at the 4th Battalion, 6th Infantry.

The Communications Section of the Vanguard battalion, headed by newly arrived First Lieutenant Richard Basso and Staff Sergeant Norman Simmons, does an excellent job serving as the official courier for 4/6.

Much of the successful efficiency can be largely attributed to the efforts of three energetic young men—Specialist Four's Andrew Morris, Dave Marsh and Chuck Echols. Working as a team, the way professional soldiers should, the men with the messages serve the battalion with prompt, efficient delivery of all paper work.

"The primary function of the Message Center is to provide expedient means of transporting correspondence within the battalion," said Marsh. "It also serves as a small scale reproduction system within the battalion. With the use of a mimeograph machine, we reproduce correspondence on battalion level, and are occasionally asked to do so for members working for brigade headquarters," he added.

Morris, who is not new to the Message Center business, is currently attending the four week Communications Chief School at Bad Toelz, West Germany. Prior to being sent overseas, he worked as a member of the message center function at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

Echols, the other member of the trio, can usually be found on the streets of Berlin both workday mornings and afternoons delivering correspondence. To make his runs around town, he uses a M151A1 1/4 ton utility truck—for you short timers like myself, let's call that one a jeep!

"I enjoy my job not only because it serves a needed purpose but also because it keeps me on the go a lot," said Echols. "Different people, p and predicaments seem to pop up each day and this makes my job interesting to say the least," he said.

An often unnoticed or unpr operation, the Message Center is of the most necessary systems of day's Army. Morris, Marsh and Echols form the basis of one of the finest message centers serving E today.

Oh, by the way, the title to great hit by the Bee Gees produced at the turn of the decade was Just Gotta Get a Message to You.

Bears strong on paper

by 2Lt Mike Dunn

Bob Griese: Superb arm, good running ability make him double edged threat. Can lift club with imaginative leadership.

This scouting report appeared in at least one sports publication prior to the 1973 Super Bowl. Thousands of dollars are spent annually by professional teams just for the purpose of scouting opponents. Sportswriters talk about these paper teams with the on paper ability. Ball-players and coaches study the reports hoping to find weaknesses that others have overlooked. Fans use the reports to know what to look for when the big game takes place. For the latter reason this article is going to deal with the BBde's big team, the Berlin Bears Team Handball Club, and if any opponents are reading on, remember, this is an on paper team.

Bruce Scotton, goalie: Key player on the Bears. Quick hands and feet make it impossible to get a cheap shot past him. Especially effective at starting the fast break. Intelligent player.

Dale "Plunge" Pirkle, guard. Nickname says it all. Most aggressive of any of the Bears. Dives for ball, always hustles and really hates to lose. Key man on the fast break.

Ted Purdom, guard: Claims to play for the exercise but don't believe it. Loves competition. Strong arm and very unselfish. Potential as a big scorer, however, he recognizes his importance as a decoy also.

Bill Cheney, center-forward: Strongest arm on the team. Needs only to break the bad habit of throwing high and/or at the goalie.

Bruce LaRose, guard: Good man on fastbreak, works particularly well with "Plunge." Always hustling but has a tendency to get down on himself.

Donnie Wilson, guard: When he is hot, he is HOT. Great potential but lacks consistency.

Chuck Swannack, center: Really improving, learning to use his body. An arm second only to Cheney.

Joe Boland, forward: Look for this man when the Bears need to score. All-around athlete, always hustles.

Marty Best, guard: Fast break specialist also the best on the team with the corner shot.

Don Barron, guard-forward: He will be devastating once he learns the game. Left-handed makes him tough to play.

Tom Young, center-forward: The leader of the "Fear-some Foursome" up front. A defensive stalwart, is most aware of his abilities and where his contributions should lie.

Doyle Perry, forward: Left-handed and getting better by the game. Defensively he is un-noticed but outstanding. Needs only experience.

Tom Jandris, guard: Quickest learner on the team, always hustles and has the potential to be a leader on the floor once he gains complete confidence of his game.

Willie Rios, guard: Small and quick, but a defensive giant at guard. Needs to work on his shot (needs confidence). He has really begun to come around the last three games.

That's about it except for myself, the player coach. And there will be no comment there, except that the Bears will dominate in 73. How about coming out and supporting us. The next game is January 21, at 4:00 p.m. at the Sports Center Gym. Oh yes, come and see our new #2 goalie that evening. Would you believe? — the real Berlin Bear!

AMERICAN WRESTLING FREAK BOB WEST (shown above) recently formed a grappling club for military personnel. He added coaching and wrestling with this American team to an already full schedule that includes an assistant coaching position at BAHS and numerous bouts with the German club Siegfried Nordwest. Through Bob's hard work and the hard work of others the U. S. team has improved rapidly and, after a merger with the Tempelhof wrestlers, is now ready for competition. Their first team bout will take place a week from today at the BB Sports Center Gym beginning at 6:30 p.m. There will be wrestling demonstrations prior to the fierce competition. Each match will be narrated in both German and English (Siegfried Nordwest is the opponent) so that the point system and the rules will be clear to all spectators. This sport, which is relatively unpublicized, is packed with action that requires physical as well as mental strength. You will no doubt enjoy yourself when you attend the meet next Friday.

Bowling News

by Russ Richall

The ranks are beginning to spread in Special Troops bowling as the season stretches into its ninth week. A perfect example is HHC which swept all eight of its points in a match with the 42nd Engineers but managed to move up just one spot in the standings. A Co., FSB remained on top for the second week in a row by garnering six of eight points as Signal took sole possession of second place from 66th MI. No team moved more than one slot up or down except for the Band which scored 6-2 to move from 11th to ninth. Seven clubs saw no change at all in this twelve-team league.

Jim Purcell of Signal had the high series Wednesday as he shot 232-607. Other high series include Wilton Sullivan of H&S with a 207-600, Steve Smith of B Co. with a 210-203-590, Don LeNoble of USCOB with a 213-586 and Duane Swedberg of 66th MI with a 212-579. Two other bowlers broke the 200 barrier. Chris Hernandez of A Co. shot a single string of 209 as did J. D. Smith of the Band.

Indoor soccer? Yes

The Indoor Soccer League is well under way at the Andrews Gym. Started on December 20th by the U. S. Forces Soccer Team, the league consists of two German teams (Labor Service Team #1 and Team #2), one U. S. Air Force Team, one U. S. Army Team and unit teams from Detachment A and Field Station Berlin.

	Won	Ties	Lost	Goals	Pts
US Army	2	0	0	13:3	4:0
L.S. Team #1	2	0	1	23:15	4:2
US Air Force	2	0	1	15:15	4:2
Det "A"	1	0	2	10:11	2:4
L.S. Team #2	0	0	1	2:6	0:2
Field St Blin	0	0	2	2:16	0:4

Games on Jan. 24 start at 6:30 p.m. and pit Det. A vs Field Station Berlin; L. S. Team 2 vs L. S. Team 1 at 7:15 and unbeaten Army versus the Air Force team from Tempelhof. League play will continue until the end of February when a cup will be awarded to the league winner. The team that wins this cup two years in a row will be able to keep it together with the unit crests from the teams they competed against.

Thoroughly familiar with soccer techniques, the players give a fine demonstration of the world sport played indoors. Games like this should be viewed by more spectators.

The U. S. Forces team competed in its first non-league encounter recently against an all-Greek team known as Hercules. It was a friendly match with the American club finishing on top by a 5-3 margin.

Letts Faces It

by Letts Face It

This week's column, directed at all unit commanders, is under the title, "What you always wanted to know about selecting an Activities and Recreation Representative, but were afraid to ask."

Don't pick an officer—unless you won't need him for executive officer's duties, platoon leader, company commander or whatever it is officers do.

Find someone who definitely has a background for sports and would like to do a lion's share. (You would not ask a butcher to perform an appendectomy.)

Be certain the individual has at least one year left in the command. If he does not, he will probably be too short to learn the program.

Trust in the one you select. Guide him through periodical sessions constantly picking his brains to see what he knows. (Don't expect, however, to be able to use his answers for yourself and step in to perform his job. Sports from the administrative end are complicated and subject to complaints.)

Let the one you choose speak for you—if your job of selection was well done you will reap the bennies.

Don't be surprised if you can't find your representative. Ball fields rarely have telephones. If your program is working he can't be skating, unless that is the day's activity.

Make certain the individual qualifies himself as an official in as many sports as possible. This will allow him to see the importance of good officials for the success of the sports program.

In summary, 20-50% of your training schedule each week involves sports. Your program affects every man in your unit so it is important that you get who you want in the job. Once you have him don't let him go. Good A&R Reps are difficult to come by!

And speaking of doing better—here's my sports prediction of the week. As the BBde Basketball Tournament begins the week of January 22-27 one favorite rises over all others. HHC, Special Troops should sweep honors this time around. However, being the Jeanne Dixon that I am, I predict an early loss in the tournament followed by complete domination in all games following. Remember where you read it—for let's face it—that's life!

Ahead in Sports

by Russ Richall

The excellent Company-Level sports program we now have in Berlin Brigade may soon be destroyed. The program, referred to as On duty/Off duty, is currently being examined for a switch to an On duty and Off duty layout. This task is being performed at the request/order of LTG. A. S. Collins, Jr., Deputy Commander in Chief, USAREUR who obviously felt he knew the sports program well enough to establish policy. He does not know Berlin.

Let me explain the difference between the two programs. On duty/Off duty is what we have now. Each company forms a team at their own discretion for each sport. The team managers take care of everything from seeing that equipment is ready to making schedules and providing umpires. Time is taken from the working hours (8 a.m.—5 p.m.) for the competition. Only those who desire to participate do so. On the other hand the On duty and Off duty set-up allows only for intra-company competition during duty hours. This means that if your company is part of the program (and it must be) each person in the unit from the C.O. down to the newest recruit will gather together for at least four hours a week (the time must be used on at least two separate days) for athletics. Should you desire to play another company you must perform during off duty time.

Following Army logic this makes sense. After all, why should just a select few who play three or four sports garner all the time off? A program that puts the entire company on the field follows the line of thought that development of stamina, heart, and muscle builds the bodily strength and mental alertness needed to perform the strenuous and demanding duties of a soldier. This also develops teamwork, morale etc., etc., etc. Unfortunately the Army is not very logical or at least it does not apply that logic.

I have hemorrhoids from sitting on my ass all day (performing these strenuous and demanding duties of a soldier) as does everyone else who works a desk job in Berlin Brigade. I can only wish a man "good luck" if he intends to gather an entire company a few times a week to play softball or have a tug-of-war. I understand we could be ordered to do such but I also remember when the entire Brigade was ordered to participate in morning parade, physical fitness (PT) formations twice a week beginning in June. Participants at HHC, Sp. Trps. were numerous at the outset but before a month had passed the number of "available" personnel had dwindled from 100 to 15. The smallest excuses were used to explain absenteeism and the lower enlisted ranks were the only people ordered out there to begin with. Can you imagine what it would be like trying to get every officer to take part or better yet, instruct us on the fine art of tug-of-war?

Let's get one thing straight. Not everyone wants to participate in athletics. Thus an order to do so would only lower morale. In addition, everything is ruined for those who do want to play. Under the new program they would be forced to do all coordinating and playing on their own time. Needless to say, attempts to form organized leagues for inter-company competition during off duty time would fail miserably. You cannot play softball and football in the dark.

Basically the On duty and Off duty program is sound. However its implementation must be perfect. Everyone and I mean everyone, would have to be present. The instructor need be qualified to lead the company in various exercises that would really do us some good and there has to be un-erring consistency. You cannot work yourself into proper shape with 10 repetitions of the squat bender followed by 10 high jumpers on a "whenever we can get everybody together" basis. As a matter of fact the traditional Army run in formation does no one any good because the less gifted struggle while the more athletically endowed laugh to themselves. There are not enough properly trained health nuts in the Army to give each individual the attention needed or the kick in the ass to get them going. Usually PT is led by an NCO who is in the worst shape of anyone out there.

The idea is sound but it will not work and it will only serve to take away from the excellent program we have now. Sports in Berlin Brigade are the salvation of many. Why destroy that?

I predict that any switch from the present program to an On duty and Off duty athletic program will fall flat on its face.

Ghost terrorizes Harlem in 'Come Back Charleston Blue'

by Vincent A. Drosdik, III

Topping the coming week's movies, in price if nothing else (increased admission) is COME BACK CHARLESTON BLUE starring Godfrey Cambridge and Raymond St. Jacques. There's all kinds of violence, crime and profanity in this flic which has to do with some razor murders plaguing Harlem. The Mafia isn't too happy about who's moving in on them, but how do you kill a ghost? Gravedigger Jones and Coffin Ed Johnson apparently have the answer, though.

I never thought I'd see it happen — an X-rated movie on the AAFMPS circuit, but there it is on the synopsis sheet — THE BEST HOUSE IN LONDON. One of my spies tells me he's seen it and that it doesn't really deserve the X, maybe only a double R. Which explains why it's being shown. It's all about the grand opening of England's first bordello that caused a scandal on opening night.

Billy Mumy, veteran of Lost in Space, and Barry Robbins lead a gang of bleeding-heart misfit kids who can't stand the spectacle of the Annual Buffalo Shoot in BLESS THE BEASTS AND THE CHILDREN. Providing the title music are the goody two-shoes pair, The Carpenters.

One of my favorite ghouls, Vincent Price, is the star of DR. PHIBES RISES AGAIN. His wife has died (see the photo) and he's hot on the trail of a secret elixir which he thinks will bring his wife back to life. Anyone who gets in his way — watch out! To make the satire even sweeter, Army-Navy Football Game Highlights are added.

Snoopy fans should get out and see VON RICHTHOFEN AND BROWN, all about the infamous Red Baron, the World War I German fighter pilot ace. He personally shot down 80 Allied planes. Challenging him in the skies is upstart Brit Roy Brown. John Phillip Law and Don Stroud star.

EES STEAK NIGHT WAS NEVER LIKE THIS — Vincent Price is the eccentric Dr. Phibes who rises again to find a way to bring his wife back to life, no doubt after she ate a filet mignon at Steak Night. (Photo courtesy American International)

News Notes

CG Luncheon

The Commander Berlin Brigade's Quarterly Luncheon will be held at noon, Jan. 24 in the Harnack House. The speaker will be Colonel Gail S. Halvorsen, Commander, Tempelhof Central Airport on "The Role of the Air Force in Berlin." All officers assigned to the U. S. Army Berlin are encouraged to attend.

Handgun warning

Effective immediately, service personnel will be advised during processing at separation-transfer activities as follows: That some states prohibit the possession of handguns, unless existing state or local requirements are complied with, and that they are subject to arrest by civilian law enforcement officials if a handgun is detected in their possession without the clear evidence of the proper permit.

Off limits areas

The following is the latest list of establishments that are "Off Limits" to all U. S. military personnel:

berlin doings

Kienholz's 'Five Car Stud'

Since I traveled all the way to Kassel to see it, I consider it big news that you can now see it in Berlin. What is "it"? Edward Kienholz's "Five Car Stud," which can be seen at the Academy of Arts presently. Kienholz is an American artist belonging to the realists, which are "in" on the art scene now. At the big "Documenta 5" art exhibit in Kassel this year, this tableau (or environment) was one of the big attractions.

"Five Car Stud" is a brutal scene depicting the castration of a Negro by six masked white men, who surprised him drinking with a white woman in his truck. The night scene takes place in the light of the headlights of four cars. The large exhibition room of the Academy has been decked out completely in black and filled with sand. The visitor walks right into the "Five Car Stud." Often one thinks that visitors standing in the scene are a part of it, quite an eerie effect.

Kienholz, by no means a radical but an artist concerned about many problems, considers his "Five Car Stud" a symbol for the struggle of minorities all over the world today. He points out that he has made up the scene. To underscore Kienholz's position, an incident can be mentioned. When interviewed by a Swedish reporter and asked about the American racial problem, he immediately shot back with: "And who is your next suicide victim?" (Sweden has the highest rate of suicides).

Art Exhibit

Your trip out to the Academy of Arts in the Hansa District will also be rewarded by a big art exhibit (the above-mentioned work is a part of it) entitled "Prinzip Realismus" (the principal realism). This display of paintings, sculptures and graphics by 11 German artists has brought together an interesting and sometimes shocking collection.

What sets this group off from the American realists currently en vogue is that they do not picture reality for the sake of the surprising exactness typical for the American works. The historical and social relevance is the major line in their works, calling attention to problems or putting a new light on everyday situations. What you get to see isn't exactly pretty, but you do get to see something that you understand (as opposed to abstract art, which was refused by so many because they never knew what it is) and you will, most likely, begin to think and see some things in today's world differently. Come and take a look. It surely isn't a waste of time. This display is open daily 10 a.m.-7 p.m. until Feb. 18. If you come on a Wednesday, the experience is free. Otherwise you pay DM 2.20 admission fee.

Ice Hockey

And now to the Berlin offerings to the sports fan. This and next Sunday afternoons the Berlin ice hockey team will play against West German teams in the Sportpalast. This Sunday their opponent will be a team from Landshut, while they compete against Duesseldorf next Sunday, Jan. 28. Both games begin at 3 p.m. Tickets can be purchased at the door or through the PX ticket agency.

Horses

Horse sport fans are feverishly awaiting the weekend, because it marks the beginning of one of the biggest horse shows in Germany. Jan. 26-31 riders from horses from Belgium, France, Great Britain, Italy, Netherlands, Austria, Switzerland, the Soviet Union and German will vie for big money prizes and honors in citing jumping trials and legant dressage competitions at the Deutschlandhalle.

The class of riders who have signed up to come to the tournament has never been so good or so international. The sensation of this show is undoubtedly the news that the gold medal array of the dressage riders of the Soviet Union has agreed to come. Aside from the fact that this is the first time Soviet riders have taken part in a horse show (as opposed to official sports events such as the Olympics) in the western hemisphere (and this in Berlin!), the sportive side promises to be very lucrative. Germany's dressage riders had to be satisfied with silver medals in Munich and they are sure to try more than their hardest to outdo the Soviets this time. The "Grand Prix" is the prize at stake.

Next Sunday morning, Jan. 28, there will be many early birds in the Deutschlandhalle to see the world's best dressage riders and horses performing the difficult combination of gates mandatory for the "Grand Prix." Here only experts can decide who rides best (and even they disagree among each other), while at the jumping trial you know who made it; but the beauty, skill and concentration in the hushed atmosphere of such a competition are worth experiencing.

French Cavalry

The "show" part of this extraordinary horseshow is also a big attraction each year. This year the only cavalry regiment of the French Army, the "Garde Républicaine" will show their riding skill at the end of each event. The historical regiment in its gala parade uniform is a part of Paris and its history, and it takes part in all big official ceremonies of the city. Their appearance in the horse show is all the more reason to come.

The many different events at the Deutschlandhalle and the times they begin are too numerous to be listed (check with the PX ticket agency). Saturday and Sunday (Jan. 27 and 28) there are afternoon events beginning at 3 p.m. In the evening they begin at 7 p.m. Horse shows are never cheap and even though the prices haven't gone up for this event in the past four years, they will range from DM 8 to 30. Nevertheless, they sell out quickly on certain days (Jan. 29 and 30 in this case) just because the money prizes and jumps are higher — the same riders compete every day. What I'm saying is that you get to see the same high class competitors at all events.

If you want to get a feel of a horse show and also make acquaintance with the "Garde Républicaine" for a small fee (DM 3), come to the Deutschlandhalle on Thursday, Jan. 25. Berlin's best riders are at the start. Tickets can be purchased at the Deutschlandhalle or ticket agency.

Community Observations

AYA cheerleaders

Tours information

Where can you find information on tours to just about anywhere in the world without going all the way downtown? That's easy, just stop by the AG Special Services Tours Office, Room 219, Building 5, Headquarters Compound. The friendly people there will be glad to help you book your next tour out of Berlin, and will also provide you with free maps, brochures and posters on the country you plan to visit. The Tours Office will help you plan your next leave or three-day pass.

There will be at least three British military charter flights to London per month this year. The price of a round trip ticket is the equivalent of $44. Bookings can be made now at the Tours Office. Flights are open to military and dependents only. For more information, call the Tours Office at 6523.

U. Md. Term III

The University of Maryland's Third Term begins Feb. 5 and runs through March 30. Registration period is Jan. 22-Feb. 2. The price is $75 per course. Tuition assistance is available to all military personnel, which drops the price to $18.75 per course. All courses are fully accredited and will transfer to any college or university. For more information call 6919 or visit the U. Md. office in Building 4, Room 4035 in Berlin Brigade Headquarters Compound.
