U.S. Army Berlin Ski Team up against tough foes

by Hilmar Kullek

The U. S. Army Berlin Ski Team is back from the 10th annual German Army Skiing Championships held in enchanting Garmisch-Partenkirchen, which hosted the IVth Olympic Games in 1936. Considering the tough competition the team was up against, it did quite well.

The competition consisted of military teams from the host country Germany, Italy, Switzerland and the United Kingdom. The top military teams of these countries are almost identical with their respective national teams.

All military and para-military units represented (except the U. S.) have permanent military ski teams. These teams start their preparations during the month of May with an extensive summer training program for the upcoming winter season. During the season, the teams enter local, national and international Alpine and Nordic events.

The U. S. team, in contrast, had only about six weeks of preparation. Considering this, the results were very satisfying.

An invitation was extended by the team of the Federal Border Police to the U. S. Army Berlin Team to practice with them for the Alpine events starting in September at the Austrian Kitzsteinhorn. Our team was also invited to the same team's summer training program in the Nordic event. This (plus the fact that members of these teams were and are presently competing in Olympic and World Cup events) shows the admiration and respect the American Berlin team had earned before and during the competition from other participants.

USCOB Visit

A pleasant and much appreciated highlight for the Berlin team was the visit of the U. S. Commander, Berlin, Major General William W. Cobb. He took personal interest and time to observe the training and see some of the actual competition of the team. The general also joined the Alpine team in several downhill practice runs and surprised everybody by being quite an expert skier himself. Another distinguished guest and wholehearted supporter of our team was Major General St. John, commander of the 1st Armored Division.

The Results

The biathlon individual race over 20 kilometers had 161 competitors at the starting line in Kaltenbrunn. Our top finisher in the senior guest class with military weapons was Staff Sergeant Roland Caricofe in 20th place with a time of 2 hours, 17 minutes, 30 seconds. He was followed by Specialist 4 Mike Tucker in 22nd place, with a time of 2:21.15; SSG Harold Buck, 26th at 2:32.55; and 1LT John Cogbill, 27th at 2:34.31.

In the giant slalom, Captain Larry C. Niedringhaus was the top U. S. Army Berlin finisher. He placed 47th on the 51 gate, 1.5 kilometer long, Horn Trail course with an elevation difference of 350 meters, with a time of 1 minute, 49.76 seconds. He was followed by Sergeant First Class Bob Picknell with a 1:55.82 and SFC Ed Trout, who was 50th due to a couple of falls, at 2:16.96.

Only Niedringhaus qualified for the special slalom. The scoring was computed according to ASC competition rules: Best overall time plus 20%. The special slalom took place on the Gudiberg, Olympic Ski Stadium. The course was 540 meters long with an elevation difference of 184 meters and an initial vertical drop of 41.9%. Out of 68 competitors, 30 could not qualify for the second heat, including our representative.

The top Berlin Alpine skier, 1LT Art Baker, was unfortunately forced to witness the events as a spectator. During a pre-competition practice race, he took a bad spill which partially tore his achilles tendon and put his leg into a cast.

The 15 kilometer special cross country event saw 62 starters at the gate. This time, SP4 Mike Tucker was our top man in 34th place in the senior guest class with a time of 1 hour, 2 minutes 22 seconds. He was followed by Caricofe in 35th place at 1:04.58; Buck in 36th place at 1:09.06; PFC Harold Lier, 37th at 1:10.40; and PFC Rick French, 38th at 1:12.23.

The last event in the competition was the biathlon relay with 33 teams in the race. The Berlin team consisted of Caricofe, Buck, SP4 Tudd and Tucker. They finished 6th in the senior guest class with standard military weapons with a time of 4 hours, 8 minutes, 16 seconds. The best marksmanship results in all biathlon events by the Berlin team were fired by Caricofe and Buck in that order.

As a final event, the 1st German Mountain Division invited all teams on the evening of the last day of competition to a typical "Bayrischen Abend mit Brotzeit" (Bavarian evening entertainment with a snack), which took place in the Kursaal in Garmisch-Partenkirchen.

The U. S. Army Berlin Ski Team had its "baptism of fire" during the 10th German Army Ski Championships. The 11th are already scheduled for the pre-Olympic winter of 1975. It took a lot of courage to form and organize a team like this and to compete in such an event. Let's now have the courage and the support to continue.

Getting it together

by Bob Sader

Discussions, swimming, folk music, bowling — any of these your bag? KONTAKT, the group of Germans and Americans who groove on doing things together, is planning activities in all of these fields next week. This Sunday at 3:30 p.m. the German-English discussion group meets at the Amerika Haus (across the street from Bahnhof Zoo on Hardenbergstr.). This lively group just enjoys rapping together. There will be a film, "Sportraits in Ebony," on black U. S. athletes to spark discussion.

How about a swim? On Monday night from 6:30-9 p.m. the KONTAKT swimming group will be in the water at Andrews pool. People of all levels of competence will take a dip. If you are a good swimmer, all the better! There is a special life-guard and water safety class, taught by a licensed German instructor, starting up now. It is not too late to join.

If folk music is more down your alley, don't miss out when Germans and Americans from KONTAKT visit the Latin Quarter (Potsdamer-Str. 96, one block north of U-Bahn Kurfuerstenstr.) on Tuesday, March 6 at 8:30 p.m. The Latin Quarter is a small, rustic night spot where the atmosphere is as important as the music.

But then, maybe you are not a night person. There is a group for day people too, especially bowlers. City Bowling (Kurfuerstendamm 156) will host all who are interested in KONTAKT on the bowling lanes. A free clinic will begin at 2 p.m. on Saturday, March 10 followed by a couple of hang loose games so everyone can participate and get acquainted.

The events are fun. The people are interested. Get out and meet young Berliners who want to meet you. Come to KONTAKT!

Indian political traits, institutions

The political traits and institutions of some Indians had an impact upon the present form of government in the United States. The League of the Iroquois influenced Benjamin Franklin in making his proposals for a union of the colonies that eventually led to the United States.

Another Indian confederation, The Five Civilized Tribes, developed a culture that became the envy of their white neighbors and eventually resulted in the white takeover of the Indian land.

The Five Civilized Tribes raised stock, tilled large farms, and built European-style homes. They dressed like white men, learned the white's methods, skills and art, started small industries, and became Christians. In 1821 Sequoyah, a remarkable Cherokee, invented a syllabary for his people.

Cherokee Nation

The Cherokees published a newspaper, adopted a formal constitution and legislature for their nation, and, like most of the other Five Tribes, put their own law codes in writing.

In recent years, the American Indian has distinguished himself in the Congress of the United States. At the turn of the century, an Indian was elected Vice President of the United States. They are making names for themselves in the arts. Many have served and died in the defense of their Nation.

Collect Calls

QUESTION: Why is it no longer possible to place collect calls to the U.S. over military phones? The Bundespost is closed at night which makes it very difficult for military personnel to call their families back home.

ANSWER: From LTC Richards, ACofS Communications-Electronics: The use of military phones for personal calls to the U.S. is authorized only in emergencies. Recent emphasis by DOD and DA on improper use of Government phones makes it necessary to comply fully with the existing regulations.

Collect calls to the U.S. may be placed through any Class "B" phone. Personnel are authorized to have Class "B" phones in their billets. For installation of a Class "B" phone, contact the Deutsche Bundespost at the Shopping Center on McNair Barracks. The Deutsche Bundespost office at Tempelhof Central Airport is open daily until 11. Calls to the U.S. collect or payable in DM, can be placed at the window located on the right as you enter the main terminal. The office has six overseas phone lines and is rarely crowded. Investigation continues into providing facilities for making collect calls to the U.S. from McNair and Andrews at other than normal Deutsche Bundespost office hours.

AFTV Reception

QUESTION: I live on the economy in Steglitz and our reception of AFTV programming is very poor.

Can something be done about this problem?

ANSWER: CPT Cowan, Station Commander, AFTV-Berlin says: AFTV-Berlin limits its transmitting power to concentrate on the Government Housing areas which is where the majority of the American military personnel reside. Thus, AFTV-Berlin avoids competing with the German television stations as much as possible. Some American television companies will not allow AFTV-Berlin to telecast their programs because they feel this could jeopardize potential sale of these programs to the German television program buyers. Any increase in AFTV-Berlin's broadcast power might create difficulties with American program distributors who provide programming for American Forces Radio and Television Service at cost, rather than requiring payment of the expensive broadcast rights.

We suggest that you check the German television stations program schedule (there are five in Berlin) as they telecast many U.S. programs some of which are in English. Even if they have been dubbed into German this provides an excellent opportunity to learn the language of your host here in Berlin.

Housing Referral Finder's Fees

QUESTION: Why does Housing Referral charge a "finder's fee" to GIs seeking an apartment when the money goes into a German agent's pocket? Since Housing Referral does the work, why does the agent get the money?

ANSWER: From LTC Gell, Chief E & I Division: The money in question is actually an "agent's fee." Not all apartments rented through the Housing Referral Office involve agent's fees, but many do. Due to the system here in Berlin whereby a landlord does not pay his agent out of his own pocket, the agent derives his fee by charging up to 5.5% of a year's rent for a furnished apartment and up to 9% of a year's rent for an unfurnished apartment.

At CIF it's 'in the bag'

Photos and Story
by Michael McCollum

Your first impression is that of a cross between an auto parts supply house and a scaled down warehouse. Indeed, a warehouse is just about the right word for the Central Issue Facility. When you're first assigned to the Berlin Brigade and receive your issue of TA-50, one of your first thoughts is, "Boy this is really going to be a pain in the neck." After passing down the line and getting items heaped upon more items, the thought is probably confirmed. Especially when you're done and you're confronted with a huge mound of web gear, field clothing, steel pot, etc. One thing though, did you ever stop and think of the poor guys who have to keep track of all that stuff?

Sergeant First Class Henry N. Martin, NCOIC of the Central Issue Facility, thought about them quite a bit. He thought about them enough to attend a MAPTOE course to improve efficiency in his area. After attending MAPTOE courses for three weeks, he came back to the Central Issue Facility and made a few changes. First he decided that instead of handing out small items, such as unit crests, infantry shoulder cords, etc., he would pre-package them in plastic bags and thereby prevent a loss of these hard to keep track of items. He also had non-sized items placed into plastic bags. This way, using the plastic bags, a man can see what he's receiving without having to receive each item individually.

Many people, particularly cooks and mechanics, were receiving their issue of TA-50, returning to the company with their gear, then having to return to the Central Issue Facility to pick up their cook's whites or mechanic's overalls. Not any more. Nowadays everything is right on the line, where it can be reached, instead of in the back. Flak vests were also moved to the front of the building, which eliminates a lot of walking time and the time that someone has to wait for their vest.

SFC Martin said, "The time saved by these new arrangements is about 20 minutes per person. I'd say the whole operation has improved by 85 to 95%."

So there you have it. MAPTOE saved a lot of needless time and effort, improving conditions for the personnel who work at the Central Issue Facility and more important, for you.

MACY'S IT'S NOT, I'll grant you that. But you can bet that it's a lot better organized, thanks to SFC Martin, NCOIC of the Central Issue Facility, and MAPTOE.

GETTIN' SUPER-SHORT; friend Paradise (left) must be in a place of the same name as he's turning in his field gear with only two days to go from today. On the right is PFC Campbell assisting him with a speedy return to the world.

C/94th trains infantry officers, NCOs in artillery

by SGT Joseph L. Graham

Battery C, 94th Artillery has just completed another training exercise at Grafenwöhr training area. The entire exercise, lasting Jan. 30-Feb. 22, proved to be enlightening not only for C/94th, but also for the three infantry battalions within the brigade.

During the exercise, the mortar platoons of the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th battalions, 6th infantry, were trained by the officers and NCOs of C/94 on most aspects of the artillery operation. Divided into two separate groups, these infantrymen were trained in the painstaking job of the forward observer and the grueling task of the firing battery.

This cross-training of personnel within the brigade helps produce the combat ready soldiers needed to assure the success of our mission here in the Divided City. To most of the infantrymen, the training proved to be both enlightening and fun. Once the fear of firing the 155 mm Howitzer, M109 is gone and the adjustment of carrying rounds weighing 100 pounds is made, the job of the artilleryman on the guns seems more enjoyable.

Also during the exercise, the battery was visited by the U. S. Commander of Berlin, Major General William W. Cobb and by the Deputy Brigade Commander, Colonel James T. Bradley. Both MG Cobb and COL Bradley had a chance to talk to the men of the battery and to observe a fire mission in progress.

This semi-annual MTA trip also served a purpose for the battery itself, as the training was needed to insure a successful ATT upcoming in September.

In spite of the arrival of many new men in the unit, the trip was considered a great success.

Battery C, 94th Field Artillery is commanded by CPT Lawrence A. Ritcey. In his estimation, the trip proved to be one of the best during his time of command. With this feeling of confidence in his men, he is sure to have a rewarding ATT in September.

When asked how he felt about training the infantry in the artillery, CPT Ritcey replied: "Cross-training of infantry personnel, particularly in forward observer procedures, is necessary for the insured efficiency and readiness of the soldiers and guaranteed success of our mission here in Berlin."

New off-duty education term at McNair

Beginning Monday, March 5, the McNair Barracks Army Education Center will accept registrations for the new off-duty term commencing March 19, 1973.

New personnel in Berlin Brigade may be interested to know that a large number of GERMAN COURSES will be offered so as to fit the needs of interested personnel. It is a desire of many Americans to participate more fully in activities of the Berlin community. For this reason courses will be taught on various levels; German I for beginners as well as courses in intermediate and advanced German for those who studied German before.

Personnel who are looking forward to a possible career in the field of DATA PROCESSING will find an introductory course very helpful. It provides a background for more advanced courses, as well as providing useful information for many office entry-level positions.

The one-semester college survey course in INTRODUCTION TO LAW ENFORCEMENT is valuable to every person who anticipates a career in law enforcement at all levels. This course is designed to acquaint the student with the philosophy and history of law and the development of police systems; to provide an overview of crime and police problems; to give examples and types of criminal behavior; to describe the purpose of criminal law; to illustrate the advancement of police ethics; to study the organization and jurisdiction of local, state and Federal law enforcement agencies; and to survey and analyze professional career opportunities and qualifications for advancement.

A course in INTRODUCTION TO FORESTRY will help beginning students understand the many facets of forestry. Some of the course contents are: Forestry terms and definitions; tree taxonomy; history of forestry; forest regions and distributions; management principles and ecology; forest protection, etc. This course is recommended for students who are interested in further study or a career in forestry or related disciplines.

AUTO MECHANICS for beginners is a course designed to acquaint the student with the general principles and theory of construction, operation and maintenance of automotive engines and the electrical system of the automobile. The general scope of the course includes a practical approach to the maintenance techniques and handling of equipment that will enable the student to become familiar with locating troubles and making necessary repairs in the automotive engine and the electrical equipment on the automobile.

The TYPING COURSE is designed for clerk typists and for students whose objective is to prepare for employment in an office occupation where typing is required. Emphasis is placed on learning the correct use of machine parts, correct stroking, mastery of the keyboards and touch control. Since the instruction in the class is of an individual nature, those students are also welcome who can type but desire to develop their speed and accuracy.

The SPEED READING course will be especially helpful for students who are going back to school soon. They can cut their study load in half by doubling their reading speed. Soldiers whose pro-pay test is coming up or who want to improve a GT score will find this course of great value, and personnel who are tied up with reading on the job can improve their work.

Registration for all of these course, which are free of charge, will end on Friday, March 16, at 5 p.m. The eight-week semester will last from March 19 to May 11, 1973 with classes meeting Monday/Wednesday or Tuesday/Thursday from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in Building 1001-D, McNair Barracks. Interested personnel may register at the AEC or by calling the registration office at 3164 or 3120.

Many firms which own large apartment complexes turn over the rental procedure to an agency. If this agency then refers the apartments to HRO, it is always under the stipulation that the new tenants continue to pay the agent's fees. Because HRO does the bulk of the contact work and tenant finding, U.S. personnel pay a considerably smaller fee than German civilians. HRO would definitely prefer to work directly with the landlords and bypass all agents, but because of the general apartment shortage and a system that costs the landlord nothing, HRO is forced to live with a less than ideal situation.

Defense: Offense isn't all for Berlin Bears Team Handball Team

by Mike Dunn

Too many times in too many sports all the publicity goes to the offensive attacks — the guy who scores the goal, throws for a touchdown, hits the ball. Little is said about the value of the defensive safeties, the slick defensive forward, the rangy shortstop.

Berlin Brigade is no exception. One of our year-round teams — the Berlin Bears Team Handball Team — sees most of its headlines go to the offensive stars: "Purdom and Pirkle Score Seven Goals as Bears Swamp Opponent." So what is it all about when we finally read about this "Fearsome Foursome"?

To the steady fans this foursome is the key to the Bears' game. Made up of four outstanding giants — Tom Young, Ted Purdom, Bill Cheney and Chuck Swannack — these stars stretched across a frontline protecting a goalie as few have ever been protected.

Risking Life and Limb

Averaging 6'3" in height and 210 pounds in weight, these guys literally risk life and limb to win another one for the Bears. Pushing out and around opponents' offensive stars, blocking shots, providing impossible shots at the goal area are just the obvious benefits rendered. There are also the numerous loose balls dived for, the long fastbreak passes, and occasionally even a rough and tough fastbreak goal at the offensive end of the floor.

In the Bears' cast, Young is the leader of the foursome and a wild man at blocking shots and giving an occasional push; Swannack is great at a gentle push and then a swipe to give Pirkle an opportunity at another fastbreak; Cheney gives the big shove then goes scrapping; and Purdom because of his long arms and quickness becomes ideal for a one-man press — then fastbreak situations.

So that is the foursome — a fearsome lot indeed if you have ever seen them in action. And for those opponents who have heard about Purdom getting ready to leave in May, and Cheney in July, the foursome will have two monster men to step in — John Spezia and Hank Richmond, both giants from 3-6 Int'l

Future Action

For a look at the "fearsome" and the fastbreak offensive tactics of the Bears, their next game is Sunday March 4, 4 p.m. vs. Charlottenburg 58. Beginning on that day the Bears enter the "meat" of their season — with some 20 games scheduled in the next six weeks. These are obviously a great deal of "fearsome" opportunities ahead.

Rod & Gun Club pistol match fires March 11

by Wally Koerner

The Berlin Rod and Gun Club is holding a pistol-match on March 11, 1973. All pistolshooters or to-be pistolshooters have a chance of winning a trophy due to three different categories for which one trophy each is provided.

Here is how it works:

There will be three courses fired with 10 rounds each at the 10-ring bull's eye; 10 shots in 10 minutes at 25 meters (slow fire course); two strings of five shots each in 20 seconds at 25 meters (timed fire course) and two strings of five shots in 10 seconds at 25 meters (rapid fire course).

The highest score possible is 300, of course; but many shooters in the past have been discouraged because they couldn't even get near that score, so they never bothered to come — why spend money without a chance of winning? THIS HAS BEEN CHANGED NOW!

The average shooter that scores next to 200 gets a trophy; that's an average of 66.6% out of a possible 100-per-course, which can be achieved even by a beginner.

Should you break 200 you must try to get nearest to 250 to get the next (and better) trophy, and again should you break the 250 you belong to the last category of shooters who compete for the biggest trophy in this match.

How big are the trophies? Well, there is an entry fee of $1.25 or DM4 which will be used for the purchase of the trophies, so it's just simple mathematics for the size; the more shooters, the bigger the trophies.

On March 4*, 10 a.m.-1 p.m. at Rose Range the entry-fees will be accepted to insure that the trophies can be awarded the same day they have been won, so please let all of us cooperate so that this turns out to be a day to remember.

* On this Sunday there will be a coach available for shooting instructions. Please bring your own gun plus ammo.

There will be word at the Rod and Gun Clubhouse where to pay; a receipt will be furnished with each payment, of course.

Please call 819-6141 to give your name before you come so we have an estimate of how many shooters want to participate.

The bidding was completely normal. West with a 3 Club response shows his partner a very strong hand with more than 18 points. East immediately goes to Blackwood for aces and kings and stops at 6 NT when he discovers that the opponents have an outstanding king. He puts the queen from the dummy on the opening lead, North plays the king and East is in his hand with the ace. He cashes his queen and ten of clubs, leads a low heart from his hand to the king of the board and plays the three remaining clubs on the board discarding two diamonds and a heart from his hand. He then leads a small heart from the board, plays the ace in his hand and proceeds to cash his three remaining hearts. The spades are all good and he claims seven on the deal. North is helpless to stop him as East has two long suits on which to slough his losing diamonds.

The question arises as to how to arrive at the ultimate contract of 7 no-trump. Let's take a good look at the bidding again. East has a bare minimum for no-trump opening with 16 high card points. West responds with good support showing 19 to 20 points. East counts 35 to 36 points for the combined hands and looks for the missing ace. The most the opponents can have is one, but when West shows he has two, East then searches for missing kings. West shows two, which leaves one king with the opponents. East proceeds to 6 no-trump on the basis of the missing king.

This is a fairly safe maneuver and assures them a good contract. But East must assume that everyone is going to be in the 6 no-trump contract. Therefore, he must consider the alternatives. Go for a small slam and receive an average score, or go for the grand slam and either go down one or make it. In the former case he is assured of a bottom score and in the latter a top score. As in all games, one must take chances to reap the victory and 7 no-trump is the chance he must take.

Rule of Thumb — If you are within a finesse of grand slam, bid the grand slam. Remember, duplicate bridge at the Harnack House every Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m.

Everything you always wanted to know about...

The Berlin American Ski Club

by Guy Pitzer

It doesn't require the style of Jean-Claude Killy, or the possession of Head 390's with Marker step-ins. It doesn't matter whether you order your "threads" from White Stag, or Scotchgard a favorite pair of levis. The only necessary equipment is a desire to have fun.

Where do you apply? Contact the Berlin American Ski Club.

How? Attend one of the meetings held every second Thursday of the month.

What's the cost? Very nominal when you consider your travel distances, rental of equipment (if necessary), experience and fun.

The Berlin American Ski Club plans many trips throughout the season to the popular German resorts. Offered too, are low cost package weeks taking you to the famous and highly respected Swiss Ski Schools where only the best instructors are employed. Here you are enrolled in a class comparable to your skiing ability. And there is no keeping back the quick to learn.

Weekend trips are numerous too, and can easily be enjoyed on a three day pass. Using valuable leave time is unnecessary.

No problem exists in obtaining the proper equipment if yours happens to be in storage stateside. Supply and Services at Tempelhof offer all the skiing gear at extremely reasonable prices for a weekend or a full week. Most of the skiing areas have excellent sport shops where boots, poles, and skis can be rented for as long as you desire.

So check it out. It's not too late. The recent snow fall in the mountain regions indicate a long skiing season — possibly through May and into June. Spring skiing could be your thing.

The Berlin American Ski Club could help you plan your next excursion out of the city, especially if you enjoy skiing, or think you might want to learn. But remember, for those who contract the fever, the only cure is membership and continued participation in the club's activities.

AYA Jukado class participates in karate demonstration at TAR

by Herby Black

The AYA Jukado class participated in a Karate Demonstration Feb. 17 at the Thomas A. Roberts School. They were led by their head instructor, Floyd Brothers, and by Herby Black 2nd Dan.

They were taught techniques from Karate, Judo, and Aikido, and combined them into one unit, labeled Jakado.

Most of the twenty students who participated in the demonstration had been studying the techniques since September, though a few since January, 1972. They ranged in age from 6 to 17 years. All but two have achieved the yellow belt.

The first 30 minutes of the demonstration were the floor exercise, which consisted of punching, kicking, blocking and striking techniques. After intermission, the students paired off to perform self-defense. A volunteer was chosen from the audience to attempt a choking attack on Cheryl Sitterly (Yellow Belt). He was soon made aware of their ability at defense.

The students participating in the demonstration were as follows. Green Belt: Charles Fuller. Blue Belt: Lynette Pan. Yellow Belt: James Bone, Michelle Brown, Tom Dorry, Lucien Dreckman, Lincoln Dreckman, Carl Fowler, Jim Fowler, Mike Langly, Kenny McManus.

Also Yellow Belt: Greg Nelson, Steven Roewer, Sven Truman, Phillip Wascak, Chris Bazin, Bob Mullikan, Cheryl Sitterly, Bryan Wallace and John Welty.

NHL HOCKEY

Montreal vs Toronto
The Montreal Canadiens, a hockey team bristling with overall speed, put their first place talents on the line as they meet the young club, the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The oldest of the "Leafs" is goalie Jacques Plante, a 44-year-old veteran, Montreal's goal keeper is young Ken Dryden, twice named rookie of the year. There is plenty of action as these two bitter rivals meet in Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto, before over 17 thousand fans.

Ted Lindsay and Tim Ryan call the action. (Approx. 95 min.)

SUNDAY 2 p.m. WEEKEND WORLD OF SPORTS with RANDY CAMPBELL

The winners of the 1972 Berlin Bowling Association Tournament are special guests on the WWS Berlin Bowling News show. In addition to the scoreboard, there are:

NCAA BASKETBALL

Pacific Cal vs Long Beach State
At the Long Beach Arena, Long Beach, California, approximately 4,000 students cheer their favorite teams and players when the University of the Pacific Tigers visit the 49ers of Long Beach State.

The Tigers are only one game behind in the NCAA and in second place, while the 49ers are out in front, having won 20 out of 21 games. Long Beach has never lost a game on its own court and is going for 63 wins in a row at home.

Stu Nahan and Dick Garibaldi report the action. (Approx. 75 min.)

Andy Williams San Diego Open
Highlighting the Andy Williams San Diego Open is $170,000 in prize money and a "nearest-the-hole" for a new car!

A field of top golfers vie for first prize money of $34,000 at the Torrey Pines course in San Diego, California. Two new holes added to the course, with their traps, bunkers and other obstacles such as trees, planted in the wrong places, add to the woes of the "diehards."

Some of the Pros in the Open include Bruce Crampton, Grier Jones, Bob Dickson, Hale Irwin and Miller Barber. Covering the event is Chris Schenkel, Byron Nelson, Andy Williams and David Marr. (Approx. 70 min.)

Outdoor Sportsman

Host Jim Conway journeys to the southwest corner of the state of Washington to the Lewis River.

In his company is a young boy who won a Scout contest. Jim's interest is to show the youth a few of the techniques of catching the big ones — mainly hook salmon that have come to the river in their annual fall migration.

WEDNESDAY 10:15 p.m. BOXING FROM THE FORUM

11:25 p.m. NBA Basketball

Milwaukee vs Baltimore
The Milwaukee Bucks, leaders in the Midwest Division, clash with the Central Division leading Baltimore Bullets at Cole Field House, College Park, Maryland.

Injuries have plagued both clubs, Jabbar having a bad hip and Elvin Hayes a broken nose — yet both men are starting and play their usual effective game.

The Player Profile is on Wes Unseld (Baltimore); and his volunteer work in a local hospital.

IS THIS WHAT HAPPENS when there's a budget cutback for the Army? They may not like the not-so-modern mess facility, but The Culpepper Cattle Co. always has fresh beef, and how do you like those field uniforms? Raquel Welch, rat attack, cattle company, motorcycles

by Vincent A. Drosdik, III
Raquel Welch — from Miss Cave Girl 5,000 B.C. to Kansas City roller skate derbyist to No. 1 cop in FUZZ. She's come a long way, baby. The foil of the movie is one Yul Brynner, who's hobby is shooting policemen (policepersons?) and throws the inept police force into a frenzy. Burt Reynolds also stars and there's some sex in the picture. Support your local police and see this one.
Picture no. 2's highlight is shown to the left. THE CULPEPPER CATTLE CO. is a realistic Western with a young man learning the ropes the hard way on a cattle drive. His big beef is the misfits he has to work with. That famous triad — violence, profanity and sex (VPS) — are included again.

ans attack in The Frogs; if you went batty over Alfred Hitchcock's The Birds; then you'll love BEN. This rat, who should win an Oscar for his touching final scene, comes back after his victory in Willard. This time he leads the rats in an attempt to take over the city. The Synopsisizer tells us that "The story contains violence" (surprise!).
Pictures no. 4 and 5 this week are revivals. Probably the better one is THE GRADUATE, starring Dustin Hoffman, a young graduate trying to make the transition to responsible citizen. Perhaps he should have enlisted in the Army, instead of getting mixed up with his girl friend's mother, Mrs. Robinson.
From surfing in The Endless Summer, director Bruce Brown goes to cycling in ON ANY SUNDAY. Nearly every kind of two-wheeled competition is covered. Steve McQueen is the star. Woody Woodpecker is the cartoon feature.

Have a Ball

It's fashion-time in Berlin and if you care, you can go and "paint the town". Let's start with the "3 tollen Nächte" — the 3 crazy nights — at the "Neue Welt". The fun begins on Sunday night at 8 p.m. and continues until Tuesday night, with costume balls on Monday and Tuesday, beginning at 8 p.m. The best costume of the day will win a prize, but if you'd rather join the ball uncostumed, you're welcome all the same. Advance tickets can be purchased at the "Neue Welt", daily from 5 p.m. "Neue Welt" will be closed on Wednesday and it's back to the good old "bockbeer-sipping" on Thursday, at 8 p.m. Here's another suggestion for some downtown carnival fun — the "Faverte am Lützowplatz" also conducts "3 crazy nights" Sunday through Tuesday, all beginning at 8 p.m. Admission is DM 4 and if you wish to reserve a table, please call 261 57 84 daily from 2 p.m.

INTERNATIONALE BOOTS- UND FREIZEITSCHAU, BERLIN 1973

7. INTERNATIONALE TOURISMUS-BÖRSE

International Boat Show and Recreation Exhibition — Berlin 1973 and 7th International Tourism-Exchange

Throughout March 4, sailboats, motorboats and all the accessories as well as camping and sports equipment and sporting events will be shown by 16 countries and the Federal Republic at the Funkturm Exhibition Grounds in conjunction with the International Tourism Exchange. The exhibition will be open daily from 10 a.m.-7 p.m. Admission for adults is DM 4 and children up to 14 years pay DM 1.

Although it seems that winter has decided to come after all, spring is just around the corner. No matter what a young man's fancy may turn to at that time of year, the fancy of women turns towards a new spring wardrobe — much to the distress of most men. And ladies, what better way is there to nourish this fancy than to visit a fashion show?

I have a very nice one to recommend. The KaDeWe department store down town is showing their collection daily (Monday through Friday) at 3 p.m. until March 23. Twelve models and two dressmen show a most wearable style ranging from morning wear to glamorous evening dresses. In between you are informed via slides about the fashion trends in the leading cities (New York, Paris, London) and get a glimpse of the huge selections of materials if you belong to the sew-it-yourselfers. Since the clothes are shown in all sizes (not the same designs, but those best suited for various figure types), even the ladies who buy the larger sizes enjoy the 1 1/2 hours of spring fashions that parade by on the stage of the Pavilion of the KaDeWe on the 5th floor.

You just don't sit there and watch the colorful array (shocking pink, apple green, sunny yellow and bright red are the colors) for the DM 7 you pay for your ticket. Your admission fee entitles you to choose between strawberry or chocolate cake with whipped cream, coffee and a cognac, or lobster cocktail and champagne, or delicate pastry and fruit juice . . . sorry, no diet dishes! Anyway, Berlin's ladies are flocking to this show daily, so that you must get your tickets at the customer service (Kundendienst) on the 3rd floor at least 2 weeks ahead of time. Of course, gentlemen are always very welcome, too.

Ice Hockey

Should any male readers still be with me at this point, let them be informed that the ice hockey games at the Berlin Sportpalast really are great fun and good sports. Berlin's Ice Skating Club has a very good standing in the national league, which of course makes their games all the more interesting. The last time I was there the Sportpalast was packed with a cheering crowd of enthusiastic spectators. When the whole place jumps up and screams, you know Berlin's team has scored.

Tonight the team from Krefeld will try their luck (the last two West German teams lost) and on Tuesday, March 6, Fuessen will face the Club in the Sportpalast. Both games begin at 7:30 p.m. I can't say for sure whether there are still tickets for tonight left, but you should be able to get some for Tuesday at the PX ticket agency. Figure on spending between DM 10 and 15.

Fastnacht

By the way, March 6 is "Fastnacht" — the last night of the Fasching season. Beginning Wednesday everybody

SIX NATIONS UNITED IN ONE SOUND — That's what the Les Humphries Singers are sometimes referred to as a "singing U. N." Les Humphries, former Master Sergeant of the Royal Marines, now living in Germany, arranges the music for his choir. The hand-clapping, foot-stomping numbers of this group will fill the Deutschlandhalle March 8. You'll like them too — they sing only in English. (Photo courtesy TELDE) is to fast (theoretically) until Easter. While the fastbit has all but disappeared, the good old custom of stuffing your face with Pfannkuchen (jelly doughnut), going on a last binge and really whooping it up the night before the fast period has remained. So practically everywhere you go on this Tuesday night, you will come upon a somewhat merry crowd with paper hats, confetti and munching on Pfannkuchen. Even your German friends at home in front of the TV are sure to at least have one of those Pfannkuchen on the table. This wasn't intended to up the profits of the bakeries next week, but just as a side line on customs and traditions. Fastnacht can be fun; why not check out some places?
