

Safety is a must

by MICHELLE LOWRY

Labor Day weekend is here and many people will be traveling around Berlin and West Germany for the holiday. The accident rate will be much greater than other weekends, so it will be necessary for everyone to be more alert for potential traffic hazards this weekend. An injury or death would end your holidays quite suddenly.

Accident prevention is not difficult. According to Sergeant Joseph R. Sweeney of the Traffic Accident Prevention Section (TAPS), most accidents in Berlin are caused by carelessness. "If people would just look before they do something, most of the accidents wouldn't happen."

Even pedestrians have to be careful. Already this year two pedestrians died when Americans hit them, while they were in marked crosswalks. Children should be reminded about crossing streets. To be extra careful to make sure there are no cars coming in either direction.

Seatbelts are a must for safety. Sgt. Sweeney stated that 12 cars were checked Monday for seatbelts. Eleven of the cars had seatbelts installed but none of the people were using them. Seatbelts save lives. But they can't help anyone if they aren't used.

Here are some tips for safety:

● If you're going to drink, don't drive. Take a bus or a U-Bahn. If you plan on staying out after they stop running, take a taxi. Isn't the fare worth your life?

● If you get sleepy while you're driving try opening the window and turning up the radio. If you have a passenger, talk to him. Sing with the radio. If that doesn't help, stop for a while and walk around. Sure, it'll take you longer to get where you're going. But it's worth it.

● Be aware when you drive and watch out for the other guy. You may be right—"dead right".

The weekend can be fun and exciting. Berlin and Europe offer many wonderful sights. But take care and come back in one piece.

August 30, 1974

Drive carefully -- this could be you!

Don't read this story if you have a weak stomach. For the next 7/10ths of a second I am going to take you through "Death in Slow Motion."

It's night, you're tired, and you're late getting home, so you're driving 55 miles per hour on a road not designed for that speed. Your car reaches a curve in the road, but you make a mistake, too late—the car goes out of control, and you hit a solid immovable object, CRASH.

1/10th of a second: The front bumper and chrome "frosting" of the grillwork collapse. Slivers of steel penetrate the wall to a depth of one and a half inches.

2/10ths of a second: The hood rises, crumples, smashes into the windshield. Spinning rear wheels leave the ground. The fenders come into contact with the wall forcing the rear parts out over the front doors. Your body continues to move forward at 55 miles per hour—twenty times the normal force of gravity. You now weigh more than three thousand pounds. Your legs, ramrod straight, snap at the knee joints.

3/10th of a second: Your body is now off the seat, torso upright, broken knees pressed against the dashboard. The plastic and steel frame of the steering wheel begins to bend under your death grip. Your head is now near the sun visor, your chest above the steering column.

4/10ths of a second: The car's front twenty-four inches have been demolished, but the rear end still is traveling at about thirty-five miles per hour. Your body is still traveling at 55 miles per hour. The half ton motor block crunches into the wall.

5/10ths of a second: Your fear-frozen hands bend the steering column into almost vertical position. The force of gravity impales you on the steering shaft. Jagged steel punctures your lungs and intercostal arteries. Blood spurts into your lungs.

6/10ths of a second: Your feet are ripped from your tightly laced shoes. The brake pedal shears off the floor boards. The chassis bends in the middle, shearing body bolts. Your head smashes into the windshield. The rear of the car begins its downfall, spinning wheels digging into the ground.

7/10ths of a second: The entire writhing body of the car is forced out of shape. Hinges tear, doors spring open. In one last convulsion, the seat rams forward, pinning you against the cruel steel of the steering shaft. Blood leaps from your mouth, shock has frozen your heart, you are dead.

Total time elapsed: seven-tenths of a second.

Drowsiness

Drowsiness at the wheel presents one of the most hazardous situations in highway travel, the National Safety Council says. A motorist who drives while his eyelids droop may well be traveling down the highway toward an accident.

Driving when fatigued is an extremely bad practice, warns the Council. Your reflexes are slowed, attention to driving is diminished, and the ability to anticipate trouble is reduced. Worst of all sleep may overtake you for just a moment—more than enough time to have a crash.

So, if you're over-tired, don't even attempt to drive. If you're already on the road and begin to feel drowsy, drive only until you can safely pull off the road.

Don't waste time! Every second is crucial. Get off the road at the first safe spot possible.

Once off the road, get out and stretch your legs. Walk around a little. Some exercise may help to shock your system awake. If it's available, drink some coffee or some water. If you are still drowsy after all this, take a nap. That's the only step that will help now, and it's important that you take it.

Driving is a complex task, the council says. Don't get caught sleeping on the job.

Intoxication

By Major Ramutis R. Semeta

A serviceman who drinks and drives is playing Russian Roulette.

He holds a gun to his head with five chambers filled. He may only fire one shot—two—three—four—or all five.

The shots ring loud and clear—the damage is permanent.

First shot—criminal prosecution. The intoxicated motorist may face court-martial for drunk driving, negligent homicide and voluntary or involuntary manslaughter. The maximum punishments may range from a Bad Conduct Discharge and six months confinement at hard labor to a Dishonorable Discharge and 10 years. Risks are about the same if he is tried and convicted of similar offenses, committed off base, by civilian criminal courts.

Second shot—civil lawsuits. If the negligent conduct causes injuries or damages, he is legally responsible for it. Civil damages awarded by the courts may exceed insurance coverage and keep him in debt long after the trial is over.

Third shot—financial hardships. An auto collision may be fatal to the drunk driver or some innocent party. Tragedy strikes the family—it widows the wife and leaves the children fatherless. If he survives the accident, he may become a cripple for the rest of his life. He becomes a burden instead of a provider for the family.

Fourth shot—moral implications. It is hard to imagine the emotional suffering when a person realizes he has killed or seriously injured another human being.

Fifth shot—personal losses. The intoxicated motorist can risk losing his driver's license, have his insurance policy cancelled, disrupt family relations or suffer professional ruin.

No one has a monopoly on the market of common sense. It doesn't take a mental giant to realize drinking and driving is a losing combination. The risks involved are far too great.

Oh yes, we forgot to mention the sixth cylinder of the gun is empty. Pull the trigger and nothing will happen—you'll make it back safely.

Consider the odds next time you find yourself in this situation.

When you pull the trigger, which one will fire? Russian Roulette, anyone?

The American Yacht Club Berlin (AYCB) intracub regatta drew to a close last weekend, with the final days of racing in the August Saturday and Sunday series. Light to non-existent winds prevailed during the first two August series, last weekend was no exception. Saturday was a rotational series, with crews and skippers shifted around as well as boats being rotated. The Sunday portion was devoted strictly to class racing.

Final results for the August Saturday series were:

Skippers	Points
1. Bernie Disteldorf	5 1/4 (tie 1st)
1. Hal Shanafield	5 1/4
2. Frank Folding	5 1/2 (tie 2nd)
2. Lydia Kelly	5 1/2
2. Dave Maniss	5 1/2
3. Arthur Graham	6 3/4
4. Kim Plank	8 3/4
5. George Walker	10
Crews	Points
1. Lynne Disteldorf	5 1/4
2. Steve Folding	5 1/2 (tie 2nd)
2. Don Studebaker	5 1/2
3. Ingrid Maniss	7 3/4
4. Gary Hay	8 1/2 (tie 4th)
4. Bernie Templeman	8 1/2
5. Ellen Helbig	9 3/4
6. Patrick Maniss	10

In the Sunday series three classes of boats were raced: Volksboats, Pirates and 470's. Skippers and crews remained together in the same class, but rotated from boat to boat within their class.

Final results for the August Sunday series were:

Skippers/crews	Points
470 class
1. Dave Maniss/Patrick Maniss	3
2. George Balint/Bernie Templeman	6 1/2
3. Lydia Kelly/Ingrid Maniss	8 1/2
Volksboat class
1. Kim Plank/Ellen Helbig/Kathy Guerrera	3
2. Arthur Graham/Ginger Ballantine/Irene O'Donoghue	7 3/4 (tie 2nd)
2. Hal Shanafield/Gary Hay
Pirate class
1. George Walker/Aggie Busits	5 1/2
2. Tom Nape/Klaus Zitzow	8 1/2

The AYCB lost three of its most active members this week when the Maniss family, Dave, Ingrid and Patrick, rotated back to the United States. They have loyally supported the club in all its programs and we'll miss them.

Although the intracub series have ended, it is not the end of the sailing or racing season for the AYCB. Coming up during the next two months are three tri-partite regattas, each to be hosted by one of the Allied yacht clubs of Berlin. Also coming up is a set of races for the AYCB Commodore's Cup, to be held late in September. September and October look to be the busiest and best months for sailing in Berlin.

BASC wins two big ones

by MARTY BEST

Last Saturday the Berlin-American Soccer Club defeated Stark 8-2 at McNair. Stark had eight of their 11 players present and BASC took full advantage of the opportunity. BASC bounced back from a loss to the last place team last week. They moved into third place in the 13-team German City League by beating the usually tough Stark squad.

Bob Taylor returned to the goal for BASC and played brilliantly. The score was 2-2 after the first half hour of play, but BASC jumped out to a 4-2 half-time lead. Tom Kearney scored his first hat trick as he banged home four big goals. The opportunities were there and Tom capitalized with some easy goals. Paddy Yarr added three more goals for another hat trick. Team captain Pete Milhado scored on a beautiful shot into the upper right hand corner for the other score.

The defense was Kreuzscher, Meecham, Best and Chapman. The halfbacks were Milhado, Raynolds and Veenstra. The forwards were Yarr, Newton, Kearney and Konarski.

Tuesday BASC played Spandau 68 at McNair and beat them with a score of 5-2. At half-time the score was tied 2-2. Paddy Yarr scored the winning goal in the third portion of the game. Larry Newton and John Veenstra cemented the score when they each rammed in another goal.

This weekend BASC travels to Schweinfurt for the European American Soccer League Championships. Pete Milhado is the only starter who won't be able to go. BASC will have to play some great soccer to win this one.

August 30, 6:30 p.m. at Radrennbahn Schöneberg, Priesterweg

Raceway lives up to its name

In the beginning of 1972, a few motor sport enthusiasts from the American Armed Forces stationed in Berlin got together and founded the BAAA (Berlin American Automobile Association). Shortly thereafter a few of the Berliner motor sport fans joined the Association together with some members of the British Armed Forces. The club has grown since its beginning until today it has approximately 120 active members.

Aside from motor sport activities the BAAA is trying to cultivate and increase the interests between Americans and Berliners. Through club life quite a few friendships have been established. The BAAA started racing in 1973 at the horse race track in Mariendorf on the German American Friendship Day with a few vehicles and a stock car race as a special attraction.

At least once during the year some children from the local orphanages are invited as guests to visit the BAAA racetrack.

After a few slalom events in 1972 the Friendship Raceway was created at Parks range with the freely offered help of the American Armed Forces and the British Royal Engineers. The original length of 600 meters was reduced in 1974 to 400 meters. The reasons for shortening the race were:

1. Reducing maximum speeds for safety reasons (Super stocks in 1973 reached a speed of 94 mph on the straights. Now the speeds are under 80 mph.)
2. To increase the chances of drivers with slower vehicles.
3. To increase competition which adds more interest for drivers and spectators alike. After a few race days in 1974 it was realized that the shortening of the track to 400 meters with a width of approximately 18 meters was a large improvement.

Friendship Raceway 1974

Friendship Raceway today is an oval track approximately 400 meters in length, with a width of 12 and 18 meters (the American standard for speedway or dirt tracks).

The track consists mainly of rolled and hardened clay and sand. All turns are sloped and have a safety embankment on the outside edges. Behind one turn is the pit area and along one side of the track on a high embankment is the spectator bleachers that enable everyone to view the track without any obstructions.

Parking facilities for spectators is unlimited and free of charge. Also a snack stand is there with soft drinks, hamburgers, hot hogs and other light snacks.

The races are held every Saturday, weather permitting. Time trials start at 1 p.m. The three fastest drivers are selected in each class. These drivers are then set for the first three races which are the Trophy Dashes. One time trial winner enters in each race and the winner receives a trophy.

In each of the classes three qualification races are held in which drivers will qualify themselves for the main events. In the main events up to 20 cars will compete to determine who has the fastest car and who is the best driver in his class. The fastest cars always start last and have to fight their way through the pack.

After all races have been run the spectators have the opportunity to go into the pit area to see the race cars and talk with the drivers.

HEY GUYS, which way to the races?

Racing classes

The races are run in three classes; hobby stock, super stock and modified.

Hobby stock: This class consists of 1200cc VW Beetles without any alteration to the engine, chassis or body. Knowledge and ability of the driver is of prime importance in winning this race.

Super Stock: These cars are all production type cars with the same type production engine up to 2000cc. These engines may be "souped up." However, there are limits, i. e., the number of carbs, and the alteration of the bodies (example—a VW must have a VW engine). The tires and rims have no limits to width and size. The handicap in this class is the weight to power ratio. The car has to weigh 540 kg per 1000cc's. Engines which have an overhead cam have to weigh an additional 30 kg per 1000cc's as they are naturally more powerful than other engines. Dual over-head cam engines are now allowed to compete in this class. The leaders in their respective classes during the course of the season have engines installed in their cars which put out as much as 150 horsepower.

Modified: In this class everything is allowed, a home built car, a converted sedan or a sports car. The one restriction is the engine is limited to 2000cc's.

Safety measures

To insure the safety of all drivers, very strict rules have been devised for all classes. All glass will be removed (such as windshields, lights, outside mirrors and any interior glass), also all inflammable material must be removed so that the only remaining equipment inside the car is the driver's seat. All race cars are fitted with a roll cage. The drivers are secured in their seat by an approved racing type seat belt and must wear flame proofed suits and safety helmets.

All safety measures have helped immensely. Up until now, through three race seasons, no driver has been injured, although there have been quite a few roll overs and smash ups.

Incidentally, all racing cars are equipped with a muffler system to avoid disturbing the neighborhood around the raceway. A noise barrier, in the direction of Osdorfer Strasse, has been built as an added measure to keep any noise down.

Cricket team wins two

by SAM UTCHIL

The Berlin U. S. Sector Cricket Club had an easy six wickets victory over the 299th Signal Sqn in the Berlin Infantry Brigade Minor Units League played at the British Headquarters Stadium on August 17.

The 299th Signal innings were crumbled right from the beginning. In one hour and 20 minutes, they managed no more than 40 runs in 19 overs, due to the fine bowling by Talat, Sharma and Paul and the superb wicket-keeping by D. Uchil who stumped four batsmen. With the U. S. Sector team bowling a good line and length, the British team needed initiative to get runs. Of the 299th Signal Sqn batsmen, only Johnson offered little resistance.

The U. S. Sector, needing 41 runs for a victory, lost four wickets for 10 runs. An unbeaten partnership by Sharma and Chatterji gave the U. S. Sector an easy victory after only 11 overs.

On August 24, the Berlin U. S. Sector Cricket Club defeated the 3 coy 1 Coldstream Guards by 7 wickets and 8 runs in a 22 overs match played at the British Headquarters.

A tactical declaration by the U. S. captain when the score reached 102 gave the opponents an equal chance to win. But due to the better fielding by U. S. Sector players, especially Steve Zampaga and Dee Downey, the fine bowling performance by Talat and Chatterji, and the superb wicketkeeping by D. Uchil, the hopes of the Coldstream Guards were smashed. Steve Zampaga ran backwards and snared a difficult catch to dismiss Basset off Chatterji.

The splendid batting performance by Geofferey Chapman and Talat, who were unbeaten at close, was mainly responsible for the U. S. Sector's exciting win. Chapman contributed 18 runs and played some magnificent strokes as he moved on to a two-digit score. Talat batted confidently as usual and produced all kinds of strokes: driving, cutting and hooking. Talat's score of 54 included a six and six-fours.

HMMMMM, IT SEEMS our Ammo Specialists are getting a little behind in their work.

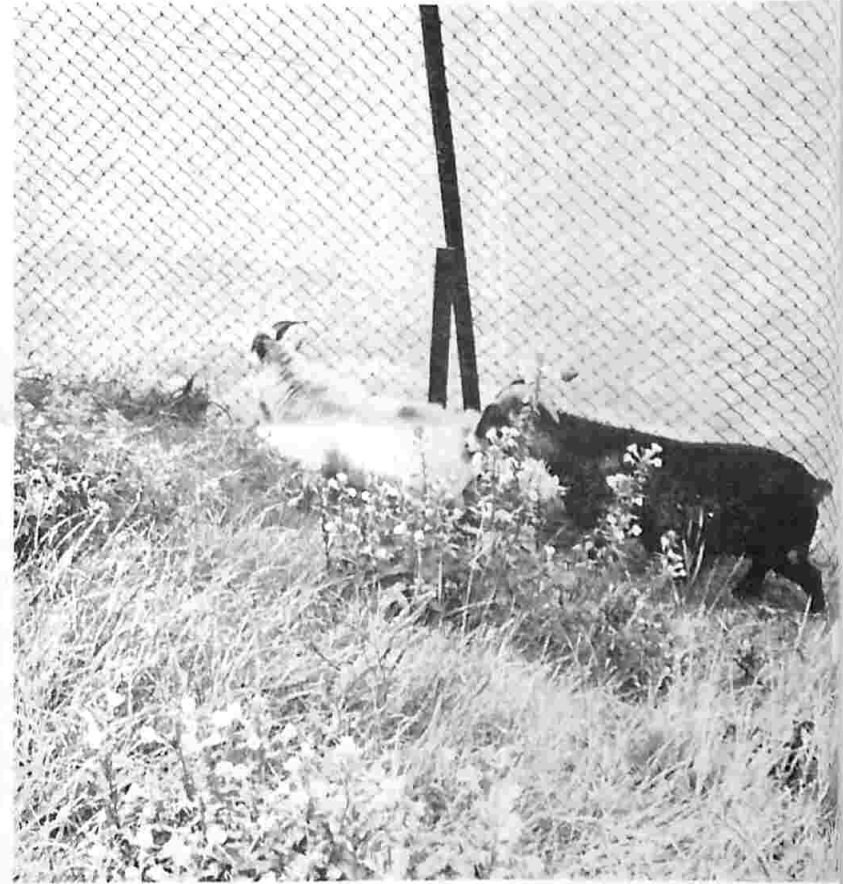

The 4th Battalion, 6th Infantry—better known to its members as The All The Way Battalion—has in one stroke accomplished three firsts: The assignment of the Battalion's first female member, the assignment of its first husband-and-wife team—and the assignment of its first goats!

Ammo Specialist Nanny and her husband, Billy, have begun performance of their duties at the McNair Ammo Dump. Their duties, however, are not the usual ones of issuing explosives and related materiel; their job is to cut grass!

Sound strange? Not in the slightest. McNair's Post Coordinator, Lieutenant Colonel Richard J. Kattar, wanted to find a way to relieve his men of the dreary duty of cutting the grass in and around the Ammo Dump. What better way than to find two grass-eating goats and let them do their thing where it would do the most good?

So, through the efforts of LTC Kattar and the Staff of the All The Way Battalion, Billy & Nanny were (enlisted? procured? activated?) and put to work.

So if cutting grass gets your goat, try the 4th Battalion, 6th Infantry way—get a goat to cut your grass!

HERE, THE AMMO SPECIALISTS perform "goat guard" duty, patrolling the fence around their Ammo compound.

HEADING HOME after a hard day's work.

Restricted area for pets

The following information was received from the local German Health authorities: No cats will be allowed outside of quarters in the area of southern Lichterfelde. This area is bordered by Teltow Kanal, Lindenstr, S-Bahn, Ostdorferstr, Lilienthal Park, and Buergipfad Str. All dogs in this area are required to be muzzled and keep on a leash at all times when outdoors. These requirements will be in effect until November 20, 1974. This area is shown on the map above.

An animal control team has been formed to patrol the American community for the purpose of apprehending all stray animals in the area and to insure that all pet owners are complying with the current directives that state all pet owners will have their pet on a leash and under the control of a competent person when outside. Unidentified stray animals will be turned over to the German authorities at Tierheim Lankwitz. Any person that is missing their pet should contact the Tierheim in person to describe the animal and then claim it after the required period of quarantine. Inquiries in person can be made daily between 2 and 6 p.m. Owners are not allowed to see their pets during the quarantine period.

(Editor's Note) Parents are reminded to warn their children not to pet any stray or wild animals they may see. It is a medical fact that a person can become infected with rabies by having a cut or open wound come in contact with the saliva of a rabid animal. This could happen from contact with an animal that is showing signs of rabies or from one that has not reached that stage yet. All persons in the American community should be sure that when their pet is taken out of doors they are on a leash.

'Day of the Jackal'

"MR. EDWARDS, WE'D like your key to the executive washroom. We know it was you writing on the walls in there."

THE DAY OF THE JACKAL — Revival, rated PG — The best selling novel has been turned into a top notch suspense film. The story traces the events leading up to an attempted 1963 OAS assassination of Charles de Gaulle. The secret French army organization hires an independent professional to make the hit. Authorities hear of the plot and try to find the killer before he strikes. There is violence, sex, and profanity in the film. Starring Edward Fox and Eric Porter.

LOVIN' MOLLY — rated R — Based on the novel by Larry McMurty, author of THE LAST PICTURE SHOW, LOVIN' MOLLY is the well told story of two boys and one girl. They're both in love with her and she loves them too, both of them. The three way affair is complicated by marriage, a circumstance that doesn't stop the free willed girl from giving her favors as she sees fit. Starring Anthony Perkins and Beau Bridges.

DUEL OF THE IRON FIST — rated R — Our hero is a basically gentle fellow who turns mean only after his father is murdered. Then he's all business and his business is clobbering the parties responsible for the evil deed. The non-stop kung fu action is topped by face to face showdown between the killer and the avenging son. Starring Ti Lung and David Chiang.

CRAZY JOE — rated R — The film examines the story behind the story of the recent headlines shooting of a notorious New York gangland leader. Joey Gallo teamed up with a black gang from Brooklyn to go against the established syndicate. He almost made it. Starring Peter Boyle and Fred Williamson.

TOM SAWYER — Revival, rated G — Mark Twain classic adventure has been set to music. Leading a talented cast backed up by an academy award winning team of music writers, Johnny Whitaker does justice to Twain's mischievous but crafty character. The live action is aimed at the whole family. Also stars Celeste Holm.

TCA to hold Space Exhibit

The U. S. Air Force in Berlin has the pleasure to show a unique information show about the history of the U. S. space program to the Berlin population during the Tempelhof Central Airport Open House 1974.

This gigantic USIS Space Exhibit, covering a floor space of some 300 sqm, is displayed here for the first time. Excellent models, photographs, moon charts and background information demonstrate effectively the development of American space research.

The interested visitors can follow this development step by step here. A precondition to the moon landing was the construction of powerful booster rockets — from Redstone and Atlas via Titan and Agena to Saturn V — which launched spacecraft into orbit. A further preliminary step was the research of conditions outside the atmosphere, with the help of satellites (Mariner, Explorer, Surveyor, Lunar Orbiter). Meanwhile these and similar satellites (Early Bird, Tiros, Nimbus, Essa, Geos, Ogo) were indispensable for global weather observation, communication and navigation as much as for the exploration of outer space.

With the Gemini, Apollo and Skylab missions the United States systematically developed and improved the techniques for manned space flights and moon landings. Connected with this was the development of special instruments, space suits, recovery parachutes, cameras and equipment like the moon rover. Models or photos of this equipment, besides a large model of the lunar lander, are also shown in this exhibition.

Special sections of the display are devoted to the first manned space flight tests, the Apollo missions and the International Exchange Program for space research, space trips and adapted functional satellites (ATS, ERTS etc.).

This unique information show opens on September 7-8 between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. in Hangar One at Tempelhof Central Airport. The admission is free.

THE LUNAR LANDING MODULE is only one of the many fascinating items of the gigantic USIS Space Exhibition shown at this year's U. S. Air Force Open House. Entrance to the Open House display area is free. It can be visited between the hours of 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Sept. 7 and 8. (USIS PHOTO)

ARCOMS at 40th

by KATHY WALSH

Three members of Company F, 40th Armor, received the Army Commendation Medal Tuesday, August 13, during the company formation. Sergeant Brent Kaiser, Specialist 5 Jon Kempton and Specialist 4 Thomas Smith were presented their ARCOM's by Brigadier General Robert D. Stevenson for their medical assistance to an injured German guard on August 2.

According to Sgt. Kaiser, he and Sp4 Smith were returning from the Main Shopping Center to Turner Barracks on August 2 when he noticed a body lying face-down on the asphalt, pinned under the closing gate of the EES garage. They rushed to the aid of the semi-conscious man, and managed to remove the gate from him. They rendered immediate first aid, and while Sp4 Smith remained with the man, Sgt. Kaiser obtained the help of Sp5 Kempton, Co F, 40th Armor's senior medic. They both then returned to the EES garage, and stayed with the injured man, Herr Günther, until a German ambulance arrived and took him to the Behring Krankenhaus (hospital) in Zehlendorf, where he was treated and then released.

Sp4 Smith had ETS'ed since the accident, and his award was forwarded to him in the States.

Vote and be heard!

Elections are going full strength back in the states. And just because you happen to be OCS (Over Choppy Seas) at the present, doesn't mean you can't put in your two cents worth on who the officials will be in your home state.

You have the right to vote for the candidate of your choice in state elections if you file an absentee ballot. So use your privilege of voting and see your Unit Voting Officer for an application for your absentee ballot. He can also tell you when and which elections are being held in your home state.

The following individuals have been designated as Voting Officers for their respective battalions. They are the ones to see to have YOUR voice heard back home.

- Special Troops Captain Frank P. Baukert
- 2nd Bn, 6th Inf First Lieutenant Frank C. Gavin
- 3rd Bn, 6th Inf Captain Joseph D. Nichols
- 4th Bn, 6th Inf Captain Peter J. Rounsaville

That new car can cause problems

A few things to consider if you are planning to buy a new American-made auto to drive in Europe:

- Most 1975 models will be equipped with a catalytic converter to reduce exhaust emissions.
- Catalytic converters are ruined by leaded gasoline.
- Unleaded gasoline is not available in Europe.
- Models equipped with the catalytic converters have smaller gas tank filler inlets. Standard gasoline pump nozzles will not fit into these models.
- Proposed legislation would require autos with converters to be inspected upon re-entry into the U. S. If the converter has been ruined by leaded gasoline, the owner must pay for a replacement.

Some new cars, mostly the smaller 6-cylinder models, do not require the converters to meet federal clean-air standards.

There are also tentative plans by some manufacturers to by-pass the converter on vehicles for sale outside the U. S., or to ship such vehicles with the converter system stored for later installation.

All costs for installation, repair, or modification required upon return to the states would be paid by the owner.

The point is, check carefully before buying that new car.

Hearing Van at the hospital

A new piece of equipment has been added to the property account of the Preventive Medicine Section of the U. S. Army Hospital, Berlin. It is a "Hearing Conservation Van," and should be ready for use by mid-September.

The van will be used primarily to check the hearing of personnel assigned to "high noise level jobs," including Local National civilians employed by the U. S. Army who work in such jobs.

The van will also pay a weekly visit to the Replacement Training School to test all incoming personnel. After the initial testing of all personnel has been completed, visits to all units in the Berlin Command will be scheduled to retest personnel annually.

The reason of the hearing tests is to determine what and what type of ear protectors should be worn to protect the hearing of personnel in the Command. This turn should help reduce the number of payments made by the Veterans Administration to service members with hearing disabilities.
